HHH Claims Nomination Vote Margin

Candidate Believes He Has Sufficient 1st Ballot Backing

By The Associated Press

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, expressing confidence he'll win the Democratic presidential nomination on the first convention ballot, has pegged his delegate strength at 1,600 votes.

The Democratic nomination in Chicago in two weeks will require 1,312 votes and Humphrey was asked Sunday if his estimate of delegate strength means he thinks he has the first-ballot nomination sewed up.

"Let me tell you I feel rather relaxed," Humphrey replied. "I feel good. I think we ought to be looking forward to November."

Humphrey also said the Paris peace talks are "at a serious stage" and America's position with Hanoi should not be weakened by loose talk by candidates.

"If I can lend one little note of optimism today," he said, "which I do very carefully and with prudence and caution, I would say that the negotiations, while they have been sticky and they have been slow and they appear many times not to be productive, that those negotiations are at a serious stage."

Sen. George S. McGovern, the newest declared Democratic contender, said a certain "disquietude" he detects among delegates gives him "at least a fighting chance" to beat Humphrey and Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy.

But an Associated Press survey after McGovern entered the race Saturday showed he drew immediate support from only two delegates, both from Nebraska. The South Dakota senator already had his state's 26 delegate votes.

National conventions should McCarthy, bidding for support from California's 174 delegates, said in Sacramento Sunday the Democratic party is "an empty shell—without power or vitality or function" and must be revitalized.

National conventions should be held every two years on issues and public policy, not just selection of candidates, McCarthy said. He said party leaders should become the peoples' spokesmen and press for progressive legislation.

The California delegation gave McCarthy a warm reception but reaffirmed its intention to remain uncommitted.

Newly-nominated Republican candidate Richard M. Nixon and his running mate, Maryland Gov. Spiro T. Agnew, planned their campaign strategy meanwhile at an ocean resort near San Diego, Calif.

Aides say Nixon has decided to put more emphasis on television appearances than hectic vote-seeking rallies.

Motor Hurled In Mishap

A 32-year-old Smiths Ferry area man escaped death when this 1957 auto slammed into a utility pole on Tuscarawas Rd., Ohioville, Saturday, hurling the motor and a fender 20 feet.

Ray Dove Jr. of Smiths Ferry RD 1 was able to walk away from the wreck, but was later treated at Rochester General Hospital for lacerations.

The car was completely demolished according to Ohioville Assistant Police Chief Michael Haydin.

The mishap occurred about 12:10 p.m. at the Fairview Grange Hall parking lot. Several electric and telephone lines were downed when the pole was struck, and some homes were without power for two hours until repairs could be made.

Thanh Le Declares GOP Platform Has No Solution To War

PARIS (AP) — A North Vietnamese spokesman today blasted both the Republican and Democratic parties of the United States, but saved a special attack for the Republican presidential candidate, Richard M. Nixon.

The way was left open for more specific criticism of the Democratic candidate after that party's convention later this month.

Nguyen Thanh Le, spokesman for the North Vietnamese delegation at the Paris peace talks with the United States, went into American politics at a news conference.

He said that the Republican platform and Nixon's personal stand could not possibly lead to an end to the Vietnamese war.

Le asserted he did not want to interfere with the internal affairs of the United States, but thought it was pertinent to give his views on Republican statements concerning Vietnam. He added that he was not referring to any policies of Nixon other than those concerning Vietnam.

Le referred to the platform plan on Vietnam adopted by the Republicans at Miami Beach and said "this program does not propose the unconditional halt of bombing and other acts of war against the Peoples Democratic Republic of (North) Vietnam, and does not speak of withdrawing American troops from Vietnam."

These have been two of the principal demands of the North Vietnamese at Paris.

Furthermore, Le argued that before the Paris talks opened Nixon had recommended an intensification and extension of the war in Vietnam. He quoted Nixon as saying that he refused to "sell out" South Vietnam.

"Nixon has pushed impudence to the limit in considering the southern part of our country as his property," Le said.

Le also said that such an attitude shows that Nixon recommends a perpetuation of the division of the country and a continued policy of neocolonialism in South Vietnam.

Le volunteered his comments on the Republican party and Nixon at the news conference. When a reporter asked if he had anything to say about the Democratic party or perhaps Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, Le said his government has often condemned the policies of the Democratic administration.

As for the candidates for the Democratic nomination he said "up to now we do not have enough information" to comment.

He said the Paris talks "have made no progress and the United States government must bear full responsibility."

When asked about a statement attributed to Humphrey that peace was nearer than at any time, Le said "this declaration is inexact."

3 Die As Shooting Erupts Anew In Watts Riot Area

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Police exchanged gunfire with Negroes in the Watts area Sunday night and three civilians were killed. Two of the dead were listed as Negroes.

Three police officers were among 31 reported injured.

The disturbance, which appeared to be quieting today, followed a festival commemorating the third anniversary of the Watts riots in which 34 died. Festival sponsors have held the celebration annually since 1966, saying it is proof that something constructive could come from the devastating 1965 riots.

Police called a tactical alert shortly after midnight Sunday placing 2,000 officers on duty throughout the nation's third largest city.

Some 200 officers were rushed into an area around Will Rogers Park, a few blocks from the area that was scorched by the 1965 rioting that caused $40 million in property damage.

Police Lt. Lew Ritter said the trouble started about 10:30 p.m. when two officers, directing traffic at the Watts Summer Festival, arrested a woman on suspicion of drunkenness.

Bystanders hurled rocks and bottles at the officers, who called for reinforcements. Sixty policemen were sent to the scene and an exchange of gunfire began.

Police Chief Thomas Reddin said the firing at police was heavier than in the early stages of the 1965 rioting.

"Then we had scattered reports of snipers," he said. "This time there was concentrated firing."

Sgt. David McGill, one of the officers who moved in after the first shooting, said, "We saw a lot of people being hit. They shot into their own crowd."

A police substation in the area was fired at.

Ritter said "the attack on the police station was apparently planned, and the firing in the park was definitely planned. It all began as if there had been a signal sounded."

About 20 blocks of the 98 per cent Negro area were touched by some part of the disturbance during the night. Police cordoned off several blocks.

Chief Reddin at first said he did not think the outbreak was organized, then later said: "I don't know yet. Maybe we'll know after talking to 10 or 12 officers."

One Negro man in his mid-30s staggered into the police substation shortly after the firing began, collapsed there and died.

Some hours later another Negro man died in a community

U.S. Troops Fight Cong Forces South Of Saigon

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. troops guarding the southern approaches to Saigon battled the Viet Cong today at two points nine miles apart.

Helicopters landed more than 1,000 men from the 9th Division in rice fields 24 miles south of Saigon in an attempt to encircle an enemy force estimated at more than 100 troops.

Details were sketchy, and no casualty figures were reported as yet. But the fighting was said to be heavy at times.

That fight was just south of Rach Kien, a key district capital. The Americans were sent in after intelligence reports told of the enemy unit, and the GIs drew fire shortly after they landed.

Nine miles farther north and only 15 miles below Saigon, another 300 men from the 9th Division virtually wiped out an enemy platoon of 40 or so men, according to initial field reports. Only three Americans were reported wounded.

In a delayed report, U.S. headquarters said that a Viet Cong force fired with bazooka-type rockets Saturday at the U.S. freighter Southport II as it approached Saigon.

U.S. Navy gunboats, helicopter gunships and Air Force fighter-bombers attacked the enemy positions along the bank and then strafed fleeing groups of Viet Cong. A U.S. spokesman said 20 Viet Cong were killed, there were no U.S. casualties and the ship was not damaged.

In the air war, U.S. Air Force B52s bombed North Vietnam for the first time in nearly a month, while U.S. tactical fighter-bombers flew 110 missions Sunday against enemy supply lines in North Vietnam's southern panhandle. The latter pilots reported destroying or damaging 42 trucks and 17 supply boats.

The B52 strikes along the frontier ranged from inside the northern half of the demilitarized zone about eight miles west-northwest of the Marine base at Con Thien to five miles inside North Vietnam.

Military spokesmen said the bombers attacked North Vietnamese troops believed preparing to infiltrate into South Vietnam's northernmost provinces. They also rained explosives on truck parks and on antiaircraft and artillery emplacements posing a threat to American fighter-bombers and combat bases just below the demilitarized zone.

One mission struck at suspected enemy troop positions 12 miles west of Da Nang, near the spot where U.S. Marines fought a fierce close-range battle with about 100 North Vietnamese soldiers from dusk Saturday to Sunday morning.

The North Vietnamese broke off contact and withdrew after American artillery and dive

Semi-Annual 'Dollar Day' To Be Held On Thursday

Plans are being completed for East Liverpool's semi-annual "Dollar Day" Thursday.

The event, sponsored by the Merchants Association, has been a tradition for more than half a century and is one of the highlights of the city's merchandising calendar.

Shoppers from all parts of the tri-state district will find special values in various lines, the assocation points out.

Participating merchants will display colorful window pennants. Community ubs firms will maintain service until 8:30 Thursday night to help transport the shoppers.

For those who drive, the merchants' group reminds of the availability of parking lots in the business district. There are two metered municipal lots on W. 6th St., near City Hall, and a new one on W. 6th St., across from City Hall, two more at 3rd and Market Sts., one on W. 5th St. near Jackson St. and another on E. 4th St. — site of the former Ceramic Theater. 2 Syrian Pilots Defect To Israel With Planes

TEL AVIV (AP)—Two Syrian Air Force pilots flew their MIG17 jet planes across the frontier today and gave themselves up at an air base in northern Israel, the Israeli army announced.

An army spokesman said the planes and the pilots were in good conditions.

One of the pilots was a captain, the other a lieutenant, the army said.

In 1966, an Iraqi air force pilot defected to Israel in a MIG21 jet. It was believed at the time it was the first MIG21 to fall into western hands in such perfect condition.

Ike Shows Continued Gains In Heart Attack

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, nearing the end of a critical period of recovery after his sixth heart attack, continues to "show satisfactory improvement."

This was reported by doctors at Walter Reed Army Hospital in their daily bulletin Sunday.

The 77-year-old general of the Army suffered his latest attack last Tuesday while at Walter Reed recuperating from an earlier one.

Doctors generally believe the first week after a heart attack to be the most critical period.

Warming Due In Area After A 38 Reading

A slight warming trend is due to follow the sharp drop in temperature in the tri-state district over the weekend.

The forecast calls for fair and not so cool tonight, with the low in the 50s. It will be mostly sunny and a little warmer Tuesday.

The overnight official low in the area was 38, according to Edwin Copeland, U.S. weather observer at Millport. The all-time low for August is 34, Copeland's records show.

The cold snap broke a 79-year-old record in Pittsburgh today and sent temperatures down to the 30s in the Allegheny Mountains.

The low of 46 at the Pittsburgh airport beat the previous low of 50 for an Aug. 12 set in 1889 and tied in 1930.

Nasser Seen Agreeable To Peace Treaty

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Times said today that Egypt is reported ready to accept a Middle East settlement including substantial concessions to Israel.

The report, from "well informed Arab diplomats who are advisers of President Gamal Abdel Nasser," said the offer had been communicated privately to Israeli leaders.

The concessions included guaranteeing the passage of Israeli ships through the Strait of Tiran, waiving past demands for the repatriation of Arab refugees from Israel, internationalizing the Gaza Strip and demilitarizing the Sinai Peninsula.

The sources said Nasser, as an interim measure, would permit non-Israeli ships carrying Israeli cargoes to pass through the Suez Canal if Israeli troops evacuated a strip just beyond the canal's eastern bank.

Today In Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Hewlett, N.Y., man has become the first person to be arrested under the wiretapping and eavesdropping provisions of the 1968 Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act.

Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark announced the FBI arrested David R. Lagnado, 38, at the Minneapolis-St. Paul Metropolitan Airport Sunday morning and charged him with illegal interstate transportation of a device designed for wiretapping or eavesdropping.

The FBI accused Lagnado of carrying such a device, in the form of an attache case containing a recording device, on a flight from Kennedy International Airport in New York City in violation of the law signed by President Johnson June 19.

Lagnado was taken before a U.S. commissioner. The maximum sentence under the provision involved is a $10,000 fine, a five-year prison term or both.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Urban renewal projects may be speeded up an average four years under a provision of the new federal housing act that will permit neighborhoods to start work before all planning is completed, officials say.

They predict the start-to-finish time will be reduced to an average 8 years from 12 and say the provision will free billions of dollars of government money that before had to lay idle until full planning for projects was completed.

Under the new Neighborhood Development program, some execution funds will be available in addition to planning money the first year. Money is to be available in succeeding years for more work as it becomes planned and ready to go.

Supermarket chains sometimes sell inferior food in poor neighborhoods—and there is inconclusive evidence worth further study that they may charge higher prices for it, says a House Government Operations Committee report. But 11 dissenting committee Republicans say there is too little evdence to justify the report's conclusions.

Watts, once a nearly rural suburb, then a community of comfortable houses and well-tended lawns, has been hit by occasional demonstrations since the 1965 riots. Many of the city's 335,000 Negroes live in the 50-square-mile area which is 10 miles from Los Angeles' Civic Center.

Police kept a close watch on two Chicago suburbs as a result of a rash of fires early, Sunday. In Seattle, a fireman was struck in the forearm by one of three shotgun blasts sent into a fire station Sunday night from a passing car.

Chicago Heights and East Chicago were under 9 p.m. curfews after the series of fires. One blaze destroyed a warehouse, causing an estimated $400,000 damage. Police said five of the fires were the work of arsonists but the cause of the warehouse fire was not determined.

A policeman was shot while investigating one of the fires. Two youths were beaten, one critically, in a separate incident. Two Negroes were taken into custody in connection with some of the fires.

In Little Rock, a seven-hour curfew was placed on the city and surrounding Pulaski County Sunday night as some firebombings were reported and a patrolman's arm was grazed by shotgun pellets. There were several arrests.

EAST LIVERPOOL REVIEW

A Dependable Newspaper Serving the Tri-State District

Published Daily (Evening) Except Sunday
By Thomson-Brush-Moore Newspapers, Inc.

Member Associated Press
Established Oct. 25, 1879

Monday, August 12, 1968 — Page 4

'All The Way'

The district's baseball fans last April Fools Day, arguing and agonizing over the pennant prospects of their favorite ball club, never gave a thought to East Liverpool being in a "World Series" this year.

But there they are—the Colt League All-Stars—off this morning to Riverside, Calif., for the national championship contest Wednesday.

The boys, their managers, the whole league and all its sponsors have earned a community salute for producing such a talented and well-trained team. With them goes the whole-hearted support and best wishes of the city. They have what it takes to defy that old lament of the diamond, "Ya can't win 'em all."

The Ever Sad Statistics

Little solace can be taken in the traffic statistics for Columbiana County in 1967 as released by the Ohio Department of Highway Safety which showed decreases in the number of persons injured and the amount of property damage and only a slight increase in the number of accidents.

Th county listed 34 road deaths last year—the same as in 1966. But there were 913 people injured compared to 932 the previous year, and the loss in money totaled $1,286,670, down from $1,312,750 in 1966. Accidents totaled 2,445, up only from 2,441 the year before.

To kill 34 human beings and injure 932 is a deplorable record for the county, and to see arithmetic improvements in figures for one year because there was not the customary percentage increase provides little comfort for the families of the victims or the crippled and scarred who were carried away from the wrecks.

The statistics — silent little symbols — will measureable grief, pain and destruction — will continue to new highs this year or next or later until more motorists drive properly, until police enforce laws more strictly and until the courts exact stiffer penalties for violators.

The Grand Leader Strikes Again

A rebellion inside the state-controlled French television service (ORTF) has met with one of the not-so-subtle tactics favored by President Charles de Gaulle.

The government has purged nearly 40 per cent of the news and sports staff that went on strike in May and June seeking greater freedom in TV news programming.

A well-known broadcaster, who has been anchor man for many public affairs programs, has been relegated to the job of covering such exciting activities as horse racing and bicycle racing.

Moreover, there are no more public affairs programs other than the stimulating state-censored news bulletins.

Sparking the strike last May was the government action that imposed nearly complete silence on both radio and television concerning the student demonstrations.

FOR THEIR stand, the protesters have been given the de Gaulle ax.

The fact his regime was perilously close to toppling just a few short weeks ago seems to escape Charles de Gaulle entirely.

He had a golden opportunity to purge conditions that brought about the unrest, get the nation rolling and shore up his sagging party.

He blew his chance.

First came dismissal of the man who held France together when it was threatening to fly apart, Premier Georges Pompidou.

Then he turned his back on reform programs and is continuing in the old ways.

President de Gaulle blamed Communist elements for the recent strife in his country. There is no question about Communist influence. Just as important, however, is the fact that certain conditions had to exist before they could be exploited.

ON TOP OF THAT, he proved he has not changed his outdated thinking that the best way to handle a problem is by not talking about it when he clamped a muzzle on the French press.

At a period in history when people from around the world are openly or secretly in sympathy with bids by people in Eastern European nations to rid themselves of totalitarianism, the French press purge is particularly significant.

It is a reminder that even enlightened nations of the West are subject to iron-fisted government control when a powerful leader is consumed by visions of personal infallibility and dictatorial ideals.

Charles de Gaulle appears bent on setting back the governmental process and civilization at least 100 years with help if possible, single-handedly if necessary.

Couriers Go Back To It

The strike that did what neither snow, nor rain, nor heat, nor gloom of night could do is over.

Canada's 22-day postal strike has ended — admittedly on a note of bitterness over the final agreement.

When striking mailmen voted down a government proposal of a 19 per cent pay hike over a 38-month period July 31, it looked like a lengthy stalemate was in the offing.

One of the reasons strikers accepted a contrast for less than half what they had been demanding might have been a simple case of individual economics.

Postal workers received no money at all while on strike because their unions are out of funds.

The new contract provides a wage increase of 21 cents an hour retroactive to Aug. 1 of last year and 18 more cents this October. The agreement runs through September of 1969.

Unions had sought a hike of 75 cents an hour retroactive to Aug. 1, 1967.

The fact the unions settled for a lot less than they had hoped for is a source of lingering discontent among workers.

But mail service has been restored and a lot of Canadians are happy.

Their joy is not even diminished by the fact it will be some time before postal workers can get through the logjam of millions of undelivered pieces of mail and get the system back to normal.

Thoughts For Today

"Just as we have borne the image of the man of dust, we shall also bear the image of the man of heaven." —I Cor. 15:49.

"It is not what he has or even what he does, which expresses the worth of a man, but what he is."—Henri-Frederic Amiel, Swiss philosopher.

May the Lord give strength to his people! May the Lord bless his people with peace!—Psalms 29:11.

If they want peace, nations should avoid the pin-pricks that precede cannon-shots."—Napoleon Bonaparte, emperor of France.

"They must be silenced, since they are upsetting whole families by teaching for base gain what they have no right to teach."—Titus 1:11.

"A teacher affects eternity; he can never tell where his influence stops."—Henry Brooks Adams, American historical writer.

"My days are swifter than a weaver's shuttle, and come to their end without hope."—Job 7:6.

"Nothing is worth more than this day"—Johann Goethe, German dramatist and poet.

"Again, when a wicked man turns away from the wickedness he has committed and does what is lawful and right, he shall save his life."—Ezekiel 18:27.

Spiking The Gun?

The Call To Duty

By Art Buchwald

MIAMI BEACH — As the sun sinks slowly into the west and the Republicans board their private planes to carry their message back to the American people, all thoughts are now turned toward the Democratic convention which will be held in Chicago on Aug. 26.

Art Buchwald

For Democratic delegates as well as members of the press, people talk about going to Chicago with the same excitement and enthusiasm as if they were going to Vietnam.

Whether Mayor Daley likes it or not, Chicago as a political convention city is being compared with Khe Sanh and Dien Bien Phu.

A GROUP OF battle-hardened correspondents were arguing in a bar here over whether Chicago could become another Dien Bien Phu.

"It's impossible," said one correspondent. 'For one thing, we've got air cover, which they didn't have at Dien Bien Phu. And for another, the roads leading to the stockyards will be mined."

"That's all well and good," a pessimistic TV floor reporter said, "but how is anyone going to get to the convention hall to attend the proceedings?"

"There will be armed convoys leaving every half hour from downtown Chicago, and Daley has artillery zeroed in on every highway. Anyone who tries to block the intersections will pay a high price for his aggression."

A syndicated columnist added, "Since the convention is being held in the stockyards, there is no chance of them starving us out."

"I'M SCARED," a young reporter blubbered.

A grizzled AP wire service man put his arm around the reporter's shoulder. "We're all scared, kid. There are no atheists going to Chicago this summer. But you got to look at it this way. If we don't go, the Democrats won't be able to nominate a presidential candidate and that's what the demonstrators are hoping for. We've got to show that we can't be intimidated."

"Gosh," said the kid reporter, "if you're scared, too, then I don't feel so bad. I think I'll write my mother before I go."

"You do that, kid," the grizzled AP man said.

The political analyst for a newsweekly said, "I don't think we can hope for a quick military solution in Chicago. This is going to be a dirty, drawn-out convention and the only way the Democrats can achieve their goals is if they win the hearts and minds of the Chicago people."

"That may be true, but Daley says you can't win the hearts and minds of the people unless you're successful militarily. You've got to prove to the militants they can't win at the negotiating table what they haven't been able to win in the field."

ONE OF THE reporters who hadn't said anything finally screamed hysterically.

"I say Daley be damned. He'll be holed up in his air-conditioned offices at city hall, but it's us poor suckers who are going to have to do the fighting. I'm too young to go to Chicago."

The grizzled AP man slapped him in the face. "Get a hold of yourself, boy. You're going to Chicago like everybody else. None of us asked for this assignment, but we were given it. President Johnson has decided this is where the Democrats must make their stand, and by heaven, boy, we're not going to let him down."

Cultural Renaissance

New Centers Spring Up Over U.S.

The red steel skeleton of the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts looms over the Potomac River as a kind of half-formed image of what is happening all over the country. Congress in 1958 authorized the National Cultural Center in Washington, setting aside a 13-acre riverside site near the Lincoln Memorial. A national campaign or funds to build it was authorized.

Congress provided matching funds of $15.5 million in addition to the site. A public campaign ended in 1965 raised somewhat more than that. The U.S. Treasury advanced a loan of $15.4 million. A further campaign for at least an additional $5 million is expected to begin in the near future.

THE KENNEDY CENTER, the U.S. Department of the Interior and a nearby apartment complex (Watergate, Inc.) are now engaged in a squabble over sight lines and land use. A compromise is expected, but possibly not without lengthy litigation.

The huge Kennedy Center, designed by Edward Durell Stone, will contain a 2,750-seat symphony hall, a 2,500-seat auditorium for opera, musical theatre, and ballet, a 1,200-seat theatre for spoken drama, facilities for art exhibits and a restaurant.

Similar concepts for all-arts programs govern plans for centers elsewhere in the country. Seattle's $40 million cultural center, built for the Century 21 Exposition, includes an opera house, exhibition hall, theatre and coliseum.

Centers are either planned or completed in Houston, Trenton, Winter Park, Fla., Hartford, Conn., Laramie, Wyo., Oklahoma City and St. Petersburg, Fla.

Cleveland opened its Blossom Music Center on July 10, with a summer orchestral season that runs through Sept. 1.

The Robert S. Marx theatre in Eden Park, Cincinnati opened last month. The Christian Science Monitor comments: "The community game of let's build us a theatre is still in full craze. . . . The edifice complex, as it has become more or less officially known, has reached Cincinnati by way of Minneapolis, Los Angeles — you name your favorite city."

The lead in prompting cultural centers in many communities has been taken by colleges and universities which are beginning to lay more stress on the arts and humanities to balance the post-war expansion of their science departments. Outstanding is the new Hopkins Center at Dartmouth, inaugurated in November 1962. In addition to Dartmouth students, the center serves the entire north of New England by sending out lecturers and musical and drama groups.

Some centers take the form of schools. A case in point is the North Carolina School of the Arts in Winston-Salem. In a two-day crash telephone campaign by more than 400 volunteers, some 5,500 individuals and businesses contributed almost $1 million to bring the school to Winston, a city which has a do-it-yourself tradition. Local business has since contributed more than $1 million to the school.

THE VISITOR to Winston-Salem will find at least one important cultural activity going on every day. As an adjunct, the School of Performing Arts conducts a summer session at Siena, Italy.

William Schuman, President of New York's Lincoln Center for the Performing Arts, told a Winston audience last Nov. 8· "This institution has importance for every state in the union because it is a guide for what is happening at the frontiers of education in America."

What is happening could be a cultural renaissance — from Lincoln Center to North Carolina to Los Angeles to the building Kennedy Center.

Agnew's Appeal

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. — Richard M. Nixon, the Republican presidential nominee, pulled a big surprise but hit the bull's eye when he picked Gov. Spiro T. Agnew of Maryland to be his running mate.

It was a conspicuously different method than presidential nominees hitherto have used.

Mr. Nixon consulted the principal Republican leaders at the Miami Beach convention and listened carefully to their recommendations. In the back of his mind all the time, however, was a particular formula or set of qualifications that the vice presidential nominee would have to possess.

WHAT MR. NIXON was seeking was someone whose candidacy would not offend the South or any other section of the country. He also wanted a man who would stand out as fully equipped to deal with the many problems at state, county and city levels which are plaguing the federal government today.

Mr. Agnew, who is 49, is an expert in municipal affairs, and for five years was chief executive of Baltimore County. As governor, he has dealt with racial problems first hand, particularly in Baltimore which has a large Negro population.

As he stated at his press conference, where he was picked by Mr. Nixon, he is in favor of "civil rights," but he doesn't think President Johnson was well advised in allowing the "poor people's" demonstration at "Resurrection City"' to be held.

THE MARYLAND governor said the efforts were futile and that they did not represent a wise approach to the issues involved.

Unquestionably, one of the biggest problems the White House must deal with today is that of the cities. The federal government involvement is a matter of great controversy but certainly the financial assistance of the national government will continue to be a favor in trying to solve the problems of the municipalities.

What Mr. Nixon sought was a man experienced in these subjects and also with a knowledge of the many federal projects that now are being applied to the states, some of which Gov. Agnew thinks are overlapping and do more harm than good.

IT SO HAPPENS that Gov. Agnew was an original sponsor of a Rockefeller candidacy, and is well liked by the New York governor.

Mr. Agnew switched to the Nixon camp when the announcement was made earlier this year that Rockefeller would not be a candidate. When the latter changed his mind and entered the race, Mr. Agnew already had begun to lean toward Nixon.

The Maryland governor does not regard himself as either "conservative" or a "liberal," but say he is a realist who seeks the facts and the truth about controversial issues and then reaches a decision without asking whether it comforms to a "conservative" or "liberal" philosophy.

THE SELECTION of Gov. Agnew means that, from the political standpoint, Mr. Nixon has chosen a candidate who agrees with the desire of many voters for fair and objective dealings with racial problems and with the other difficulties that have risen as a result of riots and disorders.

Mr. Agnew, in a speech on July 30 in New York City, for instance, said:

"Civil disobedience, at best, is a dangerous policy, since it opens the path for each man to be judge and jury of which laws are unjust and may be broken.

"Moreover, civil disobedience leads inevitably to riots, and riots condoned lead inevitably to revolution — which, incidentally, is a word we are hearing more and more frequently from advocates of black power.

"CAPITULATION to violence, either to keep the peace or from misguided compassion, is suicidal for society."

Those who are intimately familiar with state affairs say that Gov. Agnew has a record of accomplishment, and has put through the state legislature many useful programs.

Since he was an early supporter of Nelson Rockefeller he certainly is not regarded negatively by the followers of the New York governor. Also, he is not likely to antagonize the South, and he seems to have a first-hand knowlege of the many controversial questions that are emerging between the federal government and the states.

Because of the many millions of voters who are directly and indirectly affected by the problems which the Republican platform hopes to solve, the selection of Gov. Agnew as vice president nominee doubtless will be a vote-getter for the Republican ticket.

'All The Way'

The district's baseball fans last April Fools Day, arguing and agonizing over the pennant prospects of their favorite ball club, never gave a thought to East Liverpool being in a "World Series" this year.

But there they are—the Colt League All-Stars—off this morning to Riverside, Calif., for the national championship contest Wednesday.

The boys, their managers, the whole league and all its sponsors have earned a community salute for producing such a talented and well-trained team. With them goes the whole-hearted support and best wishes of the city. They have what it takes to defy that old lament of the diamond, "Ya can't win 'em all."

The Ever Sad Statistics

Little solace can be taken in the traffic statistics for Columbiana County in 1967 as released by the Ohio Department of Highway Safety which showed decreases in the number of persons injured and the amount of property damage and only a slight increase in the number of accidents.

Th county listed 34 road deaths last year—the same as in 1966. But there were 913 people injured compared to 932 the previous year, and the loss in money totaled $1,286,670, down from $1,312,750 in 1966. Accidents totaled 2,445, up only from 2,441 the year before.

To kill 34 human beings and injure 932 is a deplorable record for the county, and to see arithmetic improvements in figures for one year because there was not the customary percentage increase provides little comfort for the families of the victims or the crippled and scarred who were carried away from the wrecks.

The statistics — silent little symbols — will measureable grief, pain and destruction — will continue to new highs this year or next or later until more motorists drive properly, until police enforce laws more strictly and until the courts exact stiffer penalties for violators.

The Grand Leader Strikes Again

A rebellion inside the state-controlled French television service (ORTF) has met with one of the not-so-subtle tactics favored by President Charles de Gaulle.

The government has purged nearly 40 per cent of the news and sports staff that went on strike in May and June seeking greater freedom in TV news programming.

A well-known broadcaster, who has been anchor man for many public affairs programs, has been relegated to the job of covering such exciting activities as horse racing and bicycle racing.

Moreover, there are no more public affairs programs other than the stimulating state-censored news bulletins.

Sparking the strike last May was the government action that imposed nearly complete silence on both radio and television concerning the student demonstrations.

FOR THEIR stand, the protesters have been given the de Gaulle ax.

The fact his regime was perilously close to toppling just a few short weeks ago seems to escape Charles de Gaulle entirely.

He had a golden opportunity to purge conditions that brought about the unrest, get the nation rolling and shore up his sagging party.

He blew his chance.

First came dismissal of the man who held France together when it was threatening to fly apart, Premier Georges Pompidou.

Then he turned his back on reform programs and is continuing in the old ways.

President de Gaulle blamed Communist elements for the recent strife in his country. There is no question about Communist influence. Just as important, however, is the fact that certain conditions had to exist before they could be exploited.

ON TOP OF THAT, he proved he has not changed his outdated thinking that the best way to handle a problem is by not talking about it when he clamped a muzzle on the French press.

At a period in history when people from around the world are openly or secretly in sympathy with bids by people in Eastern European nations to rid themselves of totalitarianism, the French press purge is particularly significant.

It is a reminder that even enlightened nations of the West are subject to iron-fisted government control when a powerful leader is consumed by visions of personal infallibility and dictatorial ideals.

Charles de Gaulle appears bent on setting back the governmental process and civilization at least 100 years with help if possible, single-handedly if necessary.

Couriers Go Back To It

The strike that did what neither snow, nor rain, nor heat, nor gloom of night could do is over.

Canada's 22-day postal strike has ended — admittedly on a note of bitterness over the final agreement.

When striking mailmen voted down a government proposal of a 19 per cent pay hike over a 38-month period July 31, it looked like a lengthy stalemate was in the offing.

One of the reasons strikers accepted a contrast for less than half what they had been demanding might have been a simple case of individual economics.

Postal workers received no money at all while on strike because their unions are out of funds.

The new contract provides a wage increase of 21 cents an hour retroactive to Aug. 1 of last year and 18 more cents this October. The agreement runs through September of 1969.

Unions had sought a hike of 75 cents an hour retroactive to Aug. 1, 1967.

The fact the unions settled for a lot less than they had hoped for is a source of lingering discontent among workers.

But mail service has been restored and a lot of Canadians are happy.

Their joy is not even diminished by the fact it will be some time before postal workers can get through the logjam of millions of undelivered pieces of mail and get the system back to normal.

Thoughts For Today

May the Lord give strength to his people! May the Lord bless his people with peace!—Psalms 29:11.

If they want peace, nations should avoid the pin-pricks that precede cannon-shots."—Napoleon Bonaparte, emperor of France.

"They must be silenced, since they are upsetting whole families by teaching for base gain what they have no right to teach."—Titus 1:11.

Spiking The Gun?

The Call To Duty

By Art Buchwald

MIAMI BEACH — As the sun sinks slowly into the west and the Republicans board their private planes to carry their message back to the American people, all thoughts are now turned toward the Democratic convention which will be held in Chicago on Aug. 26.

Art Buchwald

For Democratic delegates as well as members of the press, people talk about going to Chicago with the same excitement and enthusiasm as if they were going to Vietnam.

Whether Mayor Daley likes it or not, Chicago as a political convention city is being compared with Khe Sanh and Dien Bien Phu.

A GROUP OF battle-hardened correspondents were arguing in a bar here over whether Chicago could become another Dien Bien Phu.

"It's impossible," said one correspondent. 'For one thing, we've got air cover, which they didn't have at Dien Bien Phu. And for another, the roads leading to the stockyards will be mined."

"That's all well and good," a pessimistic TV floor reporter said, "but how is anyone going to get to the convention hall to attend the proceedings?"

"There will be armed convoys leaving every half hour from downtown Chicago, and Daley has artillery zeroed in on every highway. Anyone who tries to block the intersections will pay a high price for his aggression."

A syndicated columnist added, "Since the convention is being held in the stockyards, there is no chance of them starving us out."

"I'M SCARED," a young reporter blubbered.

A grizzled AP wire service man put his arm around the reporter's shoulder. "We're all scared, kid. There are no atheists going to Chicago this summer. But you got to look at it this way. If we don't go, the Democrats won't be able to nominate a presidential candidate and that's what the demonstrators are hoping for. We've got to show that we can't be intimidated."

"Gosh," said the kid reporter, "if you're scared, too, then I don't feel so bad. I think I'll write my mother before I go."

"You do that, kid," the grizzled AP man said.

The political analyst for a newsweekly said, "I don't think we can hope for a quick military solution in Chicago. This is going to be a dirty, drawn-out convention and the only way the Democrats can achieve their goals is if they win the hearts and minds of the Chicago people."

"That may be true, but Daley says you can't win the hearts and minds of the people unless you're successful militarily. You've got to prove to the militants they can't win at the negotiating table what they haven't been able to win in the field."

ONE OF THE reporters who hadn't said anything finally screamed hysterically.

"I say Daley be damned. He'll be holed up in his air-conditioned offices at city hall, but it's us poor suckers who are going to have to do the fighting. I'm too young to go to Chicago."

The grizzled AP man slapped him in the face. "Get a hold of yourself, boy. You're going to Chicago like everybody else. None of us asked for this assignment, but we were given it. President Johnson has decided this is where the Democrats must make their stand, and by heaven, boy, we're not going to let him down."

Cultural Renaissance

New Centers Spring Up Over U.S.

The red steel skeleton of the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts looms over the Potomac River as a kind of half-formed image of what is happening all over the country. Congress in 1958 authorized the National Cultural Center in Washington, setting aside a 13-acre riverside site near the Lincoln Memorial. A national campaign or funds to build it was authorized.

Congress provided matching funds of $15.5 million in addition to the site. A public campaign ended in 1965 raised somewhat more than that. The U.S. Treasury advanced a loan of $15.4 million. A further campaign for at least an additional $5 million is expected to begin in the near future.

THE KENNEDY CENTER, the U.S. Department of the Interior and a nearby apartment complex (Watergate, Inc.) are now engaged in a squabble over sight lines and land use. A compromise is expected, but possibly not without lengthy litigation.

The huge Kennedy Center, designed by Edward Durell Stone, will contain a 2,750-seat symphony hall, a 2,500-seat auditorium for opera, musical theatre, and ballet, a 1,200-seat theatre for spoken drama, facilities for art exhibits and a restaurant.

Similar concepts for all-arts programs govern plans for centers elsewhere in the country. Seattle's $40 million cultural center, built for the Century 21 Exposition, includes an opera house, exhibition hall, theatre and coliseum.

Centers are either planned or completed in Houston, Trenton, Winter Park, Fla., Hartford, Conn., Laramie, Wyo., Oklahoma City and St. Petersburg, Fla.

Cleveland opened its Blossom Music Center on July 10, with a summer orchestral season that runs through Sept. 1.

The Robert S. Marx theatre in Eden Park, Cincinnati opened last month. The Christian Science Monitor comments: "The community game of let's build us a theatre is still in full craze. . . . The edifice complex, as it has become more or less officially known, has reached Cincinnati by way of Minneapolis, Los Angeles — you name your favorite city."

The lead in prompting cultural centers in many communities has been taken by colleges and universities which are beginning to lay more stress on the arts and humanities to balance the post-war expansion of their science departments. Outstanding is the new Hopkins Center at Dartmouth, inaugurated in November 1962. In addition to Dartmouth students, the center serves the entire north of New England by sending out lecturers and musical and drama groups.

Some centers take the form of schools. A case in point is the North Carolina School of the Arts in Winston-Salem. In a two-day crash telephone campaign by more than 400 volunteers, some 5,500 individuals and businesses contributed almost $1 million to bring the school to Winston, a city which has a do-it-yourself tradition. Four Are Treated Here In Mishap At 'Barrier'

Two Maryland children and their grandmother were treated and released at City Hospital following an accident on the Chester Bridge Saturday at 6 p.m., the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon reports.

John N. Rapson of Baltimore, Md., was driving a 1964 station wagon, pulling a 1961 house trailer, when the trailer struck the 7-foot bridge barrier.

Mrs. Evelyn Rapson, 61, received contusions and abrasions of the forehead and nose, Brian Halley, 8, of Glenburnie, Md., was examined and Jean Halley, 11, suffered a fractured right shoulder. All were treated and released.

The camper received moderate damage.

Joseph P. Nolan III of 442 E. Main, East Palestine, a passenger in a 1966 coach operated by Robert W. Lalley, 16, of 799 Martin St., East Palestine, was taken to Salem City Hospital after the auto in which he was riding went off the right side of the road, slid back on and across the road, went off the left side and collided with a road sign and the embankment.

Lalley was cited by the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon for driving left of center.

In another accident Saturday night, Richard E. Johnson, 24, of 55½ W. Rebecca St., East Palestine, was cited for speeding when he lost control of the 1968 coach he was driving on a curve, went off the north side of the road, came back onto the road and off the south side sideways, striking a newspaperbox and tearing up the lawn at the home of Horace Robins of RD 1, New Waterford.

Another East Palestine driver, Ronald L. Fisher, 30, of State Line Rd., was uninjured when he was forced off the highway by an unidentified driver.

Fisher told the patrol that he was driving west on Route 14 4.2 miles west of Route 165 at Unity when he observed an approaching vehicle left of center. He ran off the left side, striking an embankment. There was light damage to the undercarriage of his 1960 sedan.

Officer Has His Day As He Goes To 'Bat'

LISBON—New patrolman Edward Day used his chemical mace Sunday afternoon to meet a bat-in-the-house emergency on E. Lincoln Way.

Dispatched by Mayor Clyde B. Pike who received the call, the officer rendered the bat helpless with a careful "swoosh" from the mace and carried him out in a paper bag.

"Patrolman Day!" the mayor said this morning when he found the body of a giant dragonfly on his desk.

Ky., said Sunday he realized 10 days before the nominating at Miami Beach that New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, whom he backed, was not going to win.

It was clear that early, Morton said, that California Gov. Ronald Reagan was not going to be able to siphon off enough of Nixon's southern delegate votes to give Rockefeller his only chance to win.

Morton appeared on CBS' "Face the Nation."

In other political developments:

—Third party candidate Wallace said he will ask the three major television networks to give his American Independnt party's national convention coverage equal to that for the major party conventions.

—Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., said he wants to support his party's Nixon-Agnew ticket but said he is concerned over what he called the "southern influence" represntd by Agnew's selection. "I want to take another breath in view of what I saw in Miami,' 'Javits said.

Motorist Forfeits

LISBON — Terry L. Frantz of 436 W. Washington St. forfeited a $15 appearance bond Saturday night in mayor's court after police charged him with speeding.

Harness racing began back in ancient times, about 1,000 B.C., in the Grecian Olympic Games, at least 200 years before the origin of horseback racing.

Young Driver Loses Permit For Speeding

A 20-year-old East Liverpool area driver was fined $15 and costs and given a 15-day suspension of his operator's permit today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff when he pleaded guilty to an Ohio Highway Patrol charge of speeding 75 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone.

Don O. Swoards Jr. of RD 3 was cited by the patrol Thursday at 10:25 p.m. He was one of six motorists fined today by the judge. Three others forfeited appearance bonds.

Gary L. Hughes, 24, of RD 1 was fined $15 and costs on a charge of failure to yield half the roadway. He was cited Wednesday at 2:30 p.m. by the patrol on County Rd. 435. William F. Ferrall of 1608 Chester Ave., Wellsville, also charged with failure to yield half the road, forfeited a $32.50 appearance bond. He was cited by the patrol Aug. 3 on Route 45.

Kimberlee C. Francis, 19, of 1912 Lisbon St. paid a fine of $15 and costs on a charge of speeding 50 miles an hour in a 35-mile zone on St. Clair Ave. He was cited Sunday at 1:51 a.m. by Patrolman David Huffman. Airman 1C John R. Emery, 21, of Hammondsville RD 1 was given a suspended $10 fine on a charge of speeding 60 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone. He was cited Saturday at 11:25 p.m. on Route 7 by the patrol. The airman told the court he is on leave at home, scheduled to report to Vietnam.

Anthony J. Commento, 27, of Youngstown forfeited a $27.50 bond on a charge of speeding 60 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone. He was cited by the patrol Saturday at 11:25 p.m. on Route 7. Robert Ankrom, 22, of Harvey Ave. was fined $25 and costs on a charge of speeding 75 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone on Route 7. He was cited by the patrol Sunday at 8:24 p.m.

Joseph R. Powell, 30, of 908 St. George St. was fined $15 and costs on a charge of speeding 65 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone. He was cited Aug. 4 on Route 30 by the patrol.

Robert J. Oberster, 21, of Canton forfeited a $22.50 bond on a charge of speeding 70 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone on Route 30. He was cited by the patrol Aug. 4.

Charles A. Jackson of 18th St. Heights, Wellsville, was fined $15 and costs on a charge of accelerating his car so that the tires "peeled" on the pavement. He was cited Sunday at 12:42 a.m. on E. 5th St.

Several Hundred Ask Palestine Ware Jobs

EAST PALESTINE — "Several hundred" applications have been received in response to a call issued Friday by the Royal China Co. of Sebring for skilled potters to work in its No. 1 plant when it is reopened.

No. 1 plant has been idle almost three years. The No. 4 plant is operating with 75 on the payroll, making stoneware. Royal China leases both plants, which were operated by the former W. S. George Pottery Co.

The firm said reopening of the No. 1 plant was contingent upon obtaining the required force of jiggermen, casters, dippers and other tradesmen. The firm said it plans to open the No. 1 plant as soon as possible and promised "long - term employment."

"The church must realize that it must be for all men, poor as well as rich," said another.

The takeover was carefully planned and carried out with precision. On Saturday, 20 of the youths hid in the confessionals and among the statuary. Before dawn Sunday they opened a door and let in the other demonstrators.

One young man silenced the cathedral's great bell. Another passed out walkie-talkies by which leaders communicated with a central command post. Others stood watch on the towers of the cathedral.

Young girls prepared credentials for newsmen, the only persons allowed in the cathedral other than the demonstrators.

Four Are Treated Here In Mishap At 'Barrier'

Two Maryland children and their grandmother were treated and released at City Hospital following an accident on the Chester Bridge Saturday at 6 p.m., the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon reports.

John N. Rapson of Baltimore, Md., was driving a 1964 station wagon, pulling a 1961 house trailer, when the trailer struck the 7-foot bridge barrier.

Mrs. Evelyn Rapson, 61, received contusions and abrasions of the forehead and nose, Brian Halley, 8, of Glenburnie, Md., was examined and Jean Halley, 11, suffered a fractured right shoulder. All were treated and released.

The camper received moderate damage.

Joseph P. Nolan III of 442 E. Main, East Palestine, a passenger in a 1966 coach operated by Robert W. Lalley, 16, of 799 Martin St., East Palestine, was taken to Salem City Hospital after the auto in which he was riding went off the right side of the road, slid back on and across the road, went off the left side and collided with a road sign and the embankment.

Lalley was cited by the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon for driving left of center.

In another accident Saturday night, Richard E. Johnson, 24, of 55½ W. Rebecca St., East Palestine, was cited for speeding when he lost control of the 1968 coach he was driving on a curve, went off the north side of the road, came back onto the road and off the south side sideways, striking a newspaperbox and tearing up the lawn at the home of Horace Robins of RD 1, New Waterford.

Another East Palestine driver, Ronald L. Fisher, 30, of State Line Rd., was uninjured when he was forced off the highway by an unidentified driver.

Fisher told the patrol that he was driving west on Route 14 4.2 miles west of Route 165 at Unity when he observed an approaching vehicle left of center. He ran off the left side, striking an embankment. There was light damage to the undercarriage of his 1960 sedan.

Officer Has His Day As He Goes To 'Bat'

LISBON—New patrolman Edward Day used his chemical mace Sunday afternoon to meet a bat-in-the-house emergency on E. Lincoln Way.

Dispatched by Mayor Clyde B. Pike who received the call, the officer rendered the bat helpless with a careful "swoosh" from the mace and carried him out in a paper bag.

"Patrolman Day!" the mayor said this morning when he found the body of a giant dragonfly on his desk.

Ky., said Sunday he realized 10 days before the nominating at Miami Beach that New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, whom he backed, was not going to win.

It was clear that early, Morton said, that California Gov. Ronald Reagan was not going to be able to siphon off enough of Nixon's southern delegate votes to give Rockefeller his only chance to win.

Morton appeared on CBS' "Face the Nation."

In other political developments:

—Third party candidate Wallace said he will ask the three major television networks to give his American Independnt party's national convention coverage equal to that for the major party conventions.

—Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., said he wants to support his party's Nixon-Agnew ticket but said he is concerned over what he called the "southern influence" represntd by Agnew's selection. "I want to take another breath in view of what I saw in Miami," 'Javits said.

Motorist Forfeits

LISBON — Terry L. Frantz of 436 W. Washington St. forfeited a $15 appearance bond Saturday night in mayor's court after police charged him with speeding.

Harness racing began back in ancient times, about 1,000 B.C., in the Grecian Olympic Games, at least 200 years before the origin of horseback racing.

Young Driver Loses Permit For Speeding

A 20-year-old East Liverpool area driver was fined $15 and costs and given a 15-day suspension of his operator's permit today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff when he pleaded guilty to an Ohio Highway Patrol charge of speeding 75 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone.

Don O. Swoards Jr. of RD 3 was cited by the patrol Thursday at 10:25 p.m. He was one of six motorists fined today by the judge. Three others forfeited appearance bonds.

Gary L. Hughes, 24, of RD 1 was fined $15 and costs on a charge of failure to yield half the roadway. He was cited Wednesday at 2:30 p.m. by the patrol on County Rd. 435. William F. Ferrall of 1608 Chester Ave., Wellsville, also charged with failure to yield half the road, forfeited a $32.50 appearance bond. He was cited by the patrol Aug. 3 on Route 45.

Kimberlee C. Francis, 19, of 1912 Lisbon St. paid a fine of $15 and costs on a charge of speeding 50 miles an hour in a 35-mile zone on St. Clair Ave. He was cited Sunday at 1:51 a.m. by Patrolman David Huffman. Airman 1C John R. Emery, 21, of Hammondsville RD 1 was given a suspended $10 fine on a charge of speeding 60 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone. Several Hundred Ask Palestine Ware Jobs

EAST PALESTINE — "Several hundred" applications have been received in response to a call issued Friday by the Royal China Co. of Sebring for skilled potters to work in its No. 1 plant when it is reopened.

No. 1 plant has been idle almost three years. The No. 4 plant is operating with 75 on the payroll, making stoneware. Royal China leases both plants, which were operated by the former W. S. George Pottery Co.

The firm said reopening of the No. 1 plant was contingent upon obtaining the required force of jiggermen, casters, dippers and other tradesmen. The firm said it plans to open the No. 1 plant as soon as possible and promised "long - term employment."

Salvage Firm Hopes To Raise The USS Monitor

NORFOLK, Va (AP) — While the proud and mighty battleship New Jersey steams through the Pacific, the antecedent of all battleships rests at the bottom of the ocean just off Cape Hatteras, N. C.

But if a group of men, working in secrecy since last April meet with success, that tiny ship, the USS Monitor, will be found, raised, and exhibited to the public.

The 127-foot "cheesebox on a raft" is famous for three achievements: Saving the Union blockade from the ironclad threat of the Confederate ship Merrimac at the battle of Hampton Roads on Mar. 9, 1862; demonstrating the obsolescence of the wooden warship; and making the movable turret a prime feature of most warships.

Sank In Storm

The original Monitor, built by Swedish-born inventor John Ericson at the Greenpoint Navy Yard, Brooklyn, N.Y., in the first two months of 1862, was not a seaworthy vessel.

In the night of Dec. 30, 1862, she foundered in one of the frequent storms off Cape Hatteras —"graveyard of the Atlantic" —and sank with the loss of 4 officers and 12 men out of her crew of 63.

The location of the "tin can on a shingle" has been a mystery ever since. Accounts of her sinking place her location from 1 to 25 miles offshore.

Robert F. Marx, a professional treasure-diver, claimed to have found the Union ironclad in 1955 while diving in about 50 feet of water a mile offshore, but said he could not locate the ship on subsequent dives due to shifting of the sandy ocean bottom.

The group now exploring off Hatteras is a partnership between the state of North Carolina, which claims ownership under a 1967 law, and the North Carolina Tidewater Services, Inc., a salvage company.

Firm Gets Permit

Samuel P. Townsend, supervisor of underwater archaeology for North Carolina's State Department of Archives and History, has granted an exclusive permit to the company, under provisions of the new law, to explore for wrecks in a nine-square-mile area directly offshore and to the northeast of Hatteras point.

Many of the wrecks in the area are probably buried under shifting sand, said Robert L. Simmons, 50, a company director. The water runs to a depth of about 40 feet there.

To locate wrecks, the underwater eplxorers are using a differential proton magnometer, which is designed to produce outlines of buried metal hulls.

The instruments show one outline of 160 to 180 feet by 45 to 50 feet. The monitor measured 172 by 41 feet.

Though Simmons denies that the object of his search is the Monitor, everyone else connected with the project contradicts him. Marx said Simmons had written him that he was "positive" that the instrument find was the ironclad, and that it was at the location Marx had previously reported.

Navy Not Interested

Rear Adm. E. M. Eller, director of naval history, said the Navy was not interested in the vessel and would not claim her if raised. Townsend indicated he would probably try to keep the ship in North Carolina hands by paying the company 75 per cent of the vessel's worth under the 1967 law.

No one, however, has any idea how much the Monitor would be worth if raised in good condition.

Bomb Threat Delays Plane

CINCINNATI (AP) — A telephoned bomb threat forced an airborne American Airlines passenger jet Saturday night to return to Greater Cincinnati Airport.

But an inch-by-inch search of the four-engine turboprop aircraft — flight 770 — produced nothing and the plane headed a second time for its destinations of Columbus and Cleveland.

Don Bandy, Associated Press newsman returning to Columbus from the Republican convention at Miami Beach, said as soon as the plane came to a stop, the stewardess said, "Quick, everyone out, hurry."

Bandy said the 70 passengers, including 25 Army reservists returning to Cleveland, appeared "visibly shaken."

The airlines said a reservations employe received the anonymous threat from a person who asked if the plane had left the ground.

"It won't make it to Columbus. It will be in pieces," the caller said.

The airport tower contacted the jet to inform the pilot of the threat and the plane returned about 10 minutes after it departed.

Four passengers refused to get back on the plane when it departed for the second time, about two hours behind schedule.

To Meet Democrats

O'Brien Seeks To Gain Ohio Backing For HHH

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Hubert H. Humphrey's top campaign strategist comes to town today in hope of solidifying the fluid status of Ohio's delegation to the Democratic National Convention.

Lawrence F. O'Brien, national campaign coordinator of United Democrats for Humphrey, planned a late afternoon meeting with the delegation.

The group was expected to caucus later to take a presidential preference poll.

"The Ohio delegation has the opportunity to play a very significant role at the Chicago convention," O'Brien reported from his office in Washington Sunday night.

Backers of the vice president's bid for the presidency insisted, however, that no pressure would be applied to the 128-member delegation.

"I personally feel it is appropriate at this time for the Ohio delegates to express their preference," said Humphrey's Ohio campaign manager, Frazier Reams Jr.

But Sen. Stephen Young, D-Ohio, was not immediately prepared to throw his support to Humphrey.

Contacted at his residence in Washington Sunday night, Young said:

"I don't know whether there will be any straw vote taken but I would vote to stay uncommitted."

There are a half-dozen different views on the status of the delegation but this appears to be the most common:

Young still is technically Ohio's favorite son candidate although the delegation remains uncommitted. Young earlier was allowed to take the favorite son role providing that he remained pledged to President Johnson. But when the President withdrew from the race, the delegation automatically became uncommitted.

Young, who planned to fly to Columbus for the meeting, said "I'm taking the position that I'm uncommitted.

O'Brien, the former postmaster gneral, expressed hope that the Democrats would not succumb to the same fate as the Ohio delegation to the Republican National Convention.

He charged that the Ohio GOP delegation "was left at the starting gate by remaining pledged to a favorite son candidate who was attempting to be a power broker."

He was referring to Ohio Gov. James A. Rhodes' favorite son role.

O'Brien wlil speak at a 5:30 p.m. buffet in the Sheraton Columbus Hotel. The delegates are to caucus around 7:30 p.m.

Backing up O'Brien will be Minnesota Sen. Walter F. Mondale, co-chairman of the United Democrats for Humphrey, and Illinois State Treasurer Adlai E. Stevenson III, a vice chairman in the Humphrey organization.

Television Set And $4 Taken In Home Entry

An East End woman told police about noon Saturday that a burglar climbed in a window at her home and took a television set and four $1 bills, but she was unable to interfere because she was sick in bed.

The entry was reported by Mrs. Lula Hartman of Pennsylvania Ave. Ext. She said two men broke a window in the front of her home about 7 a. m. through the opening with a mask over his face and took the TV set and the money. She said a third man was waiting outside.

Settlement Achieved In Copperweld Strike

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Agreement on an undisclosed settlement over local issues Sunday ended a 10-day strike against Copperweld Steel Co.'s plant in Warren, Ohio.

About 2,700 United Steelworkers Union members walked off the job over the local issues after being offered the same economic package won in bargaining with the Big 11 steel companies.

The group now exploring off Hatteras is a partnership between the state of North Carolina, which claims ownership under a 1967 law, and the North Carolina Tidewater Services, Inc., a salvage company.

Firm Gets Permit

Samuel P. Townsend, supervisor of underwater archaeology for North Carolina's State Department of Archives and History, has granted an exclusive permit to the company, under provisions of the new law, to explore for wrecks in a nine-square-mile area directly offshore and to the northeast of Hatteras point.

Many of the wrecks in the area are probably buried under shifting sand, said Robert L. Simmons, 50, a company director. The water runs to a depth of about 40 feet there.

O'Brien Seeks To Gain Ohio Backing For HHH

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Hubert H. Humphrey's top campaign strategist comes to town today in hope of solidifying the fluid status of Ohio's delegation to the Democratic National Convention.

Lawrence F. O'Brien, national campaign coordinator of United Democrats for Humphrey, planned a late afternoon meeting with the delegation.

The group was expected to caucus later to take a presidential preference poll.

"The Ohio delegation has the opportunity to play a very significant role at the Chicago convention," O'Brien reported from his office in Washington Sunday night.

Backers of the vice president's bid for the presidency insisted, however, that no pressure would be applied to the 128-member delegation.

"I personally feel it is appropriate at this time for the Ohio delegates to express their preference," said Humphrey's Ohio campaign manager, Frazier Reams Jr.

But Sen. Stephen Young, D-Ohio, was not immediately prepared to throw his support to Humphrey.

Contacted at his residence in Washington Sunday night, Young said:

"I don't know whether there will be any straw vote taken but I would vote to stay uncommitted."

There are a half-dozen different views on the status of the delegation but this appears to be the most common:

Young still is technically Ohio's favorite son candidate although the delegation remains uncommitted. Young earlier was allowed to take the favorite son role providing that he remained pledged to President Johnson. But when the President withdrew from the race, the delegation automatically became uncommitted.

Young, who planned to fly to Columbus for the meeting, said "I'm taking the position that I'm uncommitted.

O'Brien, the former postmaster gneral, expressed hope that the Democrats would not succumb to the same fate as the Ohio delegation to the Republican National Convention.

He charged that the Ohio GOP delegation "was left at the starting gate by remaining pledged to a favorite son candidate who was attempting to be a power broker."

He was referring to Ohio Gov. James A. Rhodes' favorite son role.

O'Brien will speak at a 5:30 p.m. buffet in the Sheraton Columbus Hotel. The delegates are to caucus around 7:30 p.m.

Backing up O'Brien will be Minnesota Sen. Walter F. Mondale, co-chairman of the United Democrats for Humphrey, and Illinois State Treasurer Adlai E. Stevenson III, a vice chairman in the Humphrey organization.

Television Set And $4 Taken In Home Entry

An East End woman told police about noon Saturday that a burglar climbed in a window at her home and took a television set and four $1 bills, but she was unable to interfere because she was sick in bed.

The entry was reported by Mrs. Lula Hartman of Pennsylvania Ave. Ext. She said two men broke a window in the front of her home about 7 a. m. through the opening with a mask over his face and took the TV set and the money. She said a third man was waiting outside.

Settlement Achieved In Copperweld Strike

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Agreement on an undisclosed settlement over local issues Sunday ended a 10-day strike against Copperweld Steel Co.'s plant in Warren, Ohio.

About 2,700 United Steelworkers Union members walked off the job over the local issues after being offered the same economic package won in bargaining with the Big 11 steel companies.

Security Plans Pushed For Democrat Gathering

CHICAGO (AP) — The International Amphitheatre looked increasingly like a fortified compound today as preparations continued for the Democratic National Convention.

Work has been completed on a half-mile fence topped with barbed wire to screen the convention site.

John B. Criswell, convention executive director, said "plans are going along on schedule."

Robert R. Burke, 34, a Secret Service agent, is coordinating all security measures for the convention, which opens Aug. 26.

Convention officials, delegates and others will have to show their credentials at a half-dozen checkpoints before entering the amphitheatre on Chicago's South Side.

About 5,500 Illinois National Guard troops will be stationed in Chicago during the convention.

Brig. Gen. Richard T. Dunn, commander of emergency operations for the Illinois guard, said, "one battalion—about 800 men, including three rifle companies—will be on regular training assembly duties each convention night at a Chicago armory."

Communications for the convention remained a problem. Striking electrical workers have agreed only to install communications equipment in the amphitheatre. Chicago hotels used by convention delegates will have to use their normal telephone systems.

Two threatened strikes also hang over convention planning.

Cab drivers have threatened to strike Aug. 16 against the city's two largest cab companies, Yellow Cab and Checker Cab, unless the companies agree to install bulletproof partitions between the driver and passenger sections. They also want higher commissions.

Drivers of buses, subway and elevated trains have threatened to strike the Chicago Transit Authority the day before the convention opens in a dispute with their parent union.

Rocket Failure Wrecks Bid For Orbiting Storm Satellite

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — America's Applications Technology Satellite 4 tumbled around earth in the wrong orbit today as space engineers attempted to salvage what they could from a $28 million mission spoiled by rocket failure.

Officials at the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Goddard Space Flight center in Greenbelt, Md., said ATS 4 was cartwheeling at the rate of one revolution every 40 seconds and was still attached to the upper stage of its Atlas-Centaur booster rocket.

The drum-shaped satellite, packing a new weather-watching camera built to stalk storms in daylight or darkness, blasted into space Saturday aiming for an orbit that would keep it permanently positioned 22,300 miles over the equator west of South America.

En route, however, the Centaur upper stage of ATS 4's booster rocket failed to re-start a second time as planned and, instead of drilling the satellite toward its lofty 22,300-mile high goal, left it stranded in a low orbit where cameras and communications experiments aboard the craft are useless.

NASA refused to speculate on why the failure occurred. Sources close to the investigation said engineers suspect something went wrong in the propellent system which feeds fuel into the Centaur engines. A pump used to build up pressure in the fuel tanks may have frozen, possibly because of a heater failure, they said. Without proper pressure in the fuel tanks, the engines would not start.

ATS 4 also did not separate from its 7,000-pound Centaur rocket as planned. With such a heavy weight on its tail, controlling the satellite will be difficult, if not impossible, officials said.

Project officials said the most that can probably be gained is engineering information that will tell whether satellite experiments survived the launch.

Officials said ATS 4 cost about $15 million. Its Atlas-Centaur rocket was valued at another $13 million.

Poll Shows Support For GOP Plank

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — The Republican party's pledge for the "de-Americanization" of the Vietnam war is favored by two of every three voters, the Gallup Poll said Sunday.

A survey made just prior to the GOP National Convention last week found that 66 per cent of the American electorate would back a candidate on such a stand.

The de-Americanization proposal was contained in the Republican plank on the Vietnam war.

Gallup said that closely comparable views are held by supporters of Richard M. Nixon, the GOP presidential nominee, and Democratic contenders Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

The pollster said the GOP plank is reminiscent of the 1952 strategy of the Republicans, when presidential candidate Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower called for greater participation by South Koreans in the Korean conflict.

A Gallup Poll at that time showed the public more than 2-to-1 in favor of Eisenhower's plan.

Humphrey Plans Pittsburgh Trip

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey brings his campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination to Western Pennsylvania this week.

Humphrey will be in Pittsburgh Friday where he will meet delegates and their wives at a luncheon.

Humphrey, according to a poll by the Associated Press, has 28 delegates committed to him. The AP say eight favor Sen. Eugene McCarthy, D—Minn., and 17 are uncommitted.

It was too early to tell what impact on the race the entry of Sen. George S. McGovern, D—S.D., will have, but one delegate said "it sure makes it interesting," and another added, "I'm waiting to see what he's got to say."

President Nears End Of Pre-Test Diet For X-Rays

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson is nearing the end of a 48-hour, liquid-only fast in preparation for further tests to learn the extent of a chronic intestinal disorder.

The Texas White House declined to say exactly when Johnson would return for X-rays and other tests to Brooke Army Medical Center at San Antonio, a 35-minute helicopter trip from the President's ranch.

But Johnson, who began the fast Saturday by watching visitors eat steak, was considered unlikely to prolong it.

Johnson disclosed Thursday, after two trips to Brooke for a checkup, that he is afflicted with diverticulosis, a condition that produces small pouches on the inner lining of the large intestine.

To prepare for the new examination, Johnson has had to observe a liquid diet for 48 hours. He began it Saturday—before serving steaks to two ranch visitors, Richard M. Nixon and Gov. Spiro T. Agnew of Maryland—the Republican ticket in the 1968 presidential campaign.

Johnson and other top officials briefed Nixon and Agnew on foreign policy matters.

Johnson attended Roman Catholic services Sunday at St. Francis Xavier Church in Stonewall, a couple of miles from the LBJ Ranch. Although not a Catholic, Johnson frequently goes to mass there and is a friend of the pastor, the Rev. Wunibald W. Schneider.

In his prayer, the priest said, "Let us ask the divine physician to give good health and strength to our President and First Lady."

Johnson's personal physician, Vice Adm. George G. Burkley, announced Thursday that—apart from the diverticulosis that has afflicted the President since 1960—all tests produced findings well within normal limits. He said the same of Mrs. Johnson, who also went to Brooke last week for a checkup.

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP) — Three more persons died Sunday, raising to 35 the number killed by the crash of a Piedmont Airlines plane.

Two survivors, Barbara Schillen, 9, and Thomas Voignier, 27, both of Cincinnati, remained in satisfactory condition at Charleston Memorial Hospital.

"I thought it was all a bad dream, just a bad dream," Miss Schiller said. "I wasn't even looking out the window when it happened. I blacked out and when I woke up they were throwing foam all over us."

Miss Schiller was en route to vacation at Virginia Beach with two of those who died Sunday, Judy Benhse, 20, and Sue Boskin, 19, both of Cincinnati. Darrell Triplett, 20, of Branchland, W.Va., also died Sunday.

The twin-engine Fairchild FH227, flight 230 from Louisville, Ky., to Norfolk, Va., was making an instrument landing in fog and smoke when it crashed short of the main runway at Charleston's Kanawha Airport Saturday.

The plane skipped over the top of a 300-foot ravine before the runway and skidded 75 yards down the airstrip as it caught fire.

The crash is being investigated by the National Transportation Safety Board and the Federal Aviation Administration.

Edward E. Slattery Jr., the board's director of public affairs, said Sunday the glide slope equipment at the airport has not been operating since June 16 because of "trouble with the antenna position."

The glide slope is a phase of the airport's instrument landing system.

W. G. McGee, a Piedmont vice president, said positive identification of the bodies was expected to be finished today.

The accident was the fourth fatal crash in Piedmont's history and was the worst air disaster in West Virginia.

Picnic Planned By Chester Lions

A family night picnic was planned for Aug. 22 when the Chester Lions met Thursday night at City Park, with 14 present.

The committee in charge includes John Abrams, chairman, Harold West and Anthony Tridico.

Plans also were outlined for the annual light bulb sale to be held Oct. 4. The committee includes Donald Hood, chairman, Harry Lewis and William Moore.

A district governor's and "Ladies Night" event was scheduled for Nov. 14. Sayre Graham, chairman, Clayton Hobbs Jr. and Jerry D'Angelo are the committee in charge.

Paul Barnhart presided.

The next meeting will be Aug. 22.

Ten Police Cleared Of Brutality Charges

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Allegheny County commission have absolved 10 county policemen of brutality in an outbreak of racial violence at Wilkinsburg High School in May.

The commissioners said in a statement that the testimony of 35 witnesses over four hearings failed to show any use of excessive force by police.

Juan Rodriguez Cabrillo, a Portuguese explorer who sailed under the Spanish flag, was the first European to visit California.

Miami Eases Curfew Rules

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Authorities reduced by four hours Sunday the dark-to-dawn curfew that had been imposed on half of Miami to halt street fighting.

The ban on all but emergency traffic was imposed after street fighting, which led to three deaths, broke out Wednesday.

Sheriff E. Wilson Purdy said the curfew hours were reduced to midnight to 6 a.m. and that other steps would depend on the outcome of meetings among residents of the trouble areas.

Purdy, over-all commander of National Guard and police forces that were rushed in after an outbreak of racial violence in three Negro sections, described the curfew modification as part of his "efforts to de-escalate the areas."

Police reported all was quiet again Sunday, the third day without major violence.

Residents of Liberty City, the large business and residential area in northwest Miami where the violence started, met in two community conclaves Sunday and elected adult and youth advisory councils to seek a solution to racial problems.

Representatives of the Negro youths have called for withdrawal of the National Guard troops, immediate release without bond of all persons arrested as a result of the violence and that public inquiries be held in the three deaths. They also suggested a "black hat patrol" of Negroes to replace the National Guardsmen.

Authorities have made no official response to the demands, but Purdy—in response to a newsman's question—rejected the idea of a youth patrol as a replacement for the Guard.

"I will not yield police powers to volunteer citizens' groups," he said. "I don't care whether they wear black hats, white hats, green hats or purple hats."

Wheelchair Patients May Get Seat Belts

LISBON — Seat belts are being made available to wheelchair patients by the Chrysler Corp.

Mrs. Ruth Jenkins of Rogers, patient service chairman of the Columbiana County chapter of the Muscular Dystrophy Associations of America, said the chapter is "very grateful to Chrysler for this generous contribution to the welfare of the patients we serve. I know their families share our gratitude."

A seat belt protects patients from the hazard of being pitched out when the chair hits a bump or obstruction, Mrs. Jenkins said.

The belts are being distributed now to all known patients suffering from muscular dystrophy or a related crippling disorder.

Mrs. Jenkins said the belts were designed for use in cars, but can be readily adapted to wheelchairs.

Mrs. Abraham Lincoln was committed to a sanatorium for four months but was discharged seven years before her death.

Da Nang, headquarters of the Marines in South Vietnam and the country's second largest city, is considered a likely target for the major enemy offensive which expects the U.S. Command within the next month or so. RENAISSANCE JEWELRY

Back in the 16th Century, jewelry craftsmanship was developed to a high art form in Italy. While precious gems and gold were always in favor among the Romans from the earliest times, it was during the Renaissance that modern jewelry techniques and creative use of stones and metals reached its zenith. Looking at photos of some of the treasures in European museums, I am still awe-struck over their artistry and the imaginative themes used. Most popular were classical and mythological designs, such as a pendant utilizing the free-form shape of a natural baroque pearl to create a mermaid in enameled gold.

Our current designers are dipping heavily into this great treasure house of romantic ideas to create what jewelers consider a new "Renaissance" in contemporary pieces. The "Romeo and Juliet look" has taken hold with our younger jewelry customers who are appreciative of rich textures in gold, elaborate motifs, and the use of natural gem shapes and colors. Enamelling has been with us for some time, foremost in men's jewelry such as cuff links, and as accent on small pins for the ladies. It continues strong this year.

The use of pearl and carved gemstone drops is seen frequently in earrings, and also on pin-pendants. The use of varied colored stones, especially in combination with baroque pearls and small diamonds, is another trend, together with emphasis on 18K yellow gold. It is not possible to stock all of the unusual jewelry creations I have seen recently. However, if you will give us some idea of what you might like, we will be happy to obtain a selection for you.

More than 400 — an increase over previous concerts — attended the program presented Sunday in Ralph Johnson Memorial Amphitheater at Thompson Park by the Local 172 Concert Band.

Ted Koenig was director.

The "12th Niters," a barbershop quartet from the Steubenville and Toronto area, entertained during intermission. Tom Abernethy, a Steubenville radio announcer, served as master of ceremonies.

Two concerts will be given on Aug. 18 — from 2 to 4 at the park, with Koenig directing, and from 7 to 9 at the Knights of Columbus home on Riverside Ave., Wellsville, with Don Hunsberger directing.

RENAISSANCE JEWELRY

Back in the 16th Century, jewelry craftsmanship was developed to a high art form in Italy. While precious gems and gold were always in favor among the Romans from the earliest times, it was during the Renaissance that modern jewelry techniques and creative use of stones and metals reached its zenith. Looking at photos of some of the treasures in European museums, I am still awe-struck over their artistry and the imaginative themes used. Most popular were classical and mythological designs, such as a pendant utilizing the free-form shape of a natural baroque pearl to create a mermaid in enameled gold.

Our current designers are dipping heavily into this great treasure house of romantic ideas to create what jewelers consider a new "Renaissance" in contemporary pieces. The "Romeo and Juliet look" has taken hold with our younger jewelry customers who are appreciative of rich textures in gold, elaborate motifs, and the use of natural gem shapes and colors. Enamelling has been with us for some time, foremost in men's jewelry such as cuff links, and as accent on small pins for the ladies. It continues strong this year.

The use of pearl and carved gemstone drops is seen frequently in earrings, and also on pin-pendants. The use of varied colored stones, especially in combination with baroque pearls and small diamonds, is another trend, together with emphasis on 18K yellow gold. It is not possible to stock all of the unusual jewelry creations I have seen recently. However, if you will give us some idea of what you might like, we will be happy to obtain a selection for you.

Pope Paul Again Defends Birth Control Encyclical

CASTEL GANDOLFO, Italy (AP) — Pope Paul VI defended his ban on artificial birth control again Sunday and asked God's blessing to convert those who oppose it.

Addressing the crowd assembled at his summer residence for his Sunday blessing, the Pope said his July 29 encyclical had drawn varying reactions throughout the world.

"And may all those who oppose it be blessed, so that their concience may be illuminated and guided by moral, true and superior doctrinal rectitude," he added.

It was the third time since his birth control encyclical was issued that the pontiff spoke publicly in its defense. This lent support to a growing impression in Vatican circles that he will continue to resist all pressures to retreat from his ruling against contraceptive devices and pills.

The encyclical continued to spawn controversy around the world.

Bernard Cardinal Alfrink of the Netherlands, a leading church liberal, said in an interview that the Pope could be criticized for his stand, but there must be no schism in the church.

In Poland, Stefan Cardinal Wyszynski preached Sunday against birth conrtol by artificial means as Communist authorities announced they would start producing contraceptive pills later this year. Polish women had used pills imported from Western countries until recently, when health authorities imported half a million pills from East Germany.

In Sydney, Australia, a meeting of Roman Catholics at Sydney University Hall voted 196-117 in favor of a resolution asserting: "We cannot accept the Pope's statement on birth control." The resolution declared that the use of artificial birth control was a matter of individual conscience.

Ohio Democrats Open Hearings On Platform

CLEVLAND (AP) — Mayor Carl B. Stokes testifies today at the first of three Democratic party platform hearings in the state.

John J. Gilligan, chairman of the regional hearings and candidate for the U. S. Senate, said Sunday the sessions are being held to determine what the people of Ohio want included in the national platform.

Mayor Frank Petrancek of Garfield Heights said he will press for federal financial support to staff, equip and train suburban police and fire departments.

Another suburban mayor, Irving W. Konigsberg of University Heights, said he will suggest a program for rehabilitation of houses not included in renewal programs.

Cleveland City Council President James V. Stanton said he wants the platform to include a plank calling for a national primary election "so that the popular will of the voters can be achieved."

Stanton, the Democratic candidate for Congress from the 23rd district, called for abolition of "the outmoded delegate system which does not reflect the majority opinion of those in their respective parties."

Hearipgs will be held Tuesday in Cincinnati and Wednesday in Columbus.

Gilligan said in a prepared statement, "It is crucial to our entire society to cure urban sicknesses.

"At the same time," said Gilligan, "we cannot allow the problems of the suburbs to drift into dangerous dilemmas. . . .

"If we devote all our efforts and energies to the problems of the cities without meeting the growing needs of total metropolitan areas, the suburbs may become the slums of tomorrow.

Committee Raps Cleveland Texts

CLEVELAND (AP) — A subcommittee studying integrated textbooks in Cleveland schools Sunday expressed disapproval of a list of text books provided by the Cleveland Board of Education.

"I had hoped I could say that the board had made the first step and provided a list of beautiful, integrated texts," Donald McBride told a subcommittee meeting. "But in fact, the books on the list are garbage."

McBride is chairman of the subcommittee, a unit of the Ohio Ad Hoc Committee for Quality Integrated Education, established last November by the federal Civil Rights Commission.

McBride said it was important blacks should not be treated as a separate entity within the books but should be mentioned throughout them wherever the achievements of blacks are relevant.

Trial Launched In Barron Case

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) —At least 90 persons have been selected as prospective jurors for the trial of W. W. Barron, a former West Virginia governor, and five other men charged with conspiracy.

The trial which opens today in U. S. District Court is expected to last at least three weeks.

The indictments returned Feb. 14 by a federal grand jury charge that the six men conspired to use interstate facilities in a scheme to set up out-of-state firms to receive payments from companies seeking state contracts without submitting competitive bids.

Four Britons Return From Peking Mission

HONG KONG (AP) — Four persons from the British diplomatic mission in Peking arrived in Hong Kong Sunday en route home and went into seclusion.

Immigration Director W. E. Collard said they were R. A. Webb, a clerical officer, and his wife, G. J. Mather of the diplomatic wireless service, and E. C. Humphreys, a security guard.

They were granted exit visas two weeks ago after waiting several months for them. The British charge d'affaires in Peking, Sir Donald Hopson, also applied for permission to leave but this has not been granted yet. Exit visas for the British have been curtailed since Red Guards sacked the mission last Aug. 22 in protest against the suppression of Communist riots in Hong Kong.

Ohio, W. Va. Set To Stock 300 Muskies

More than 300 muskellunge will be stocked in the Ohio River at Steubenville Friday afternoon in a cooperative project of the Ohio and West Virginia Departments of Natural Resources.

The stocking will take place at the Island Creek launching ramp at Castonia, according to John Bohannan of the Ohio department at Columbus.

The event will be one of the first such cooperative efforts at stocking by the two states.

Fred E. Mohr, director of the Ohio Department of Natural Resources, and T. R. (Pete) Samsell, director of the West Virginia Department of Natural Resources, will attend, along with Dan Armbruster, chief of the Ohio Division of Wildlife, and Peter Szurbach, chief of the West Virginia Division of Fish and Game, and Frank Conway, assistant director under Samsell.

The stocking follows the recent agreement signed between the two states recognizing each other's hunting and fishing license along the banks of the Ohio River and tributaries as far as the first dam or the first rapids.

Keep It Small

NEW DELHI (AP) — The Federal Housing Ministry plans to build cottage type bungalows for ministers and senior officials, housing minister Jagannatha Rao said. He said the original scheme of building multistoried buildings did not find favor with ministers because of a fear that they "would lose their identity."

It has been computed that in about 80 per cent of all cases of that "tired feeling" among adults, it is not for organic reasons, but for neurotic reasons.

Delegate Blasts Democrat Aide In West Virginia

WHEELING (AP) — A supporter of Eugene McCarthy for President has cried "Foul," at the selection of West Virginia delegates to serve on four major Democratic National Convention committees.

Robert J. Burke, a delegate-at-large from West Virginia, told Democratic National Chairman John Bailey in a letter Saturday that National Committeeman John Amos handpicked the committee members.

Burke said convention regulations require the committee members to be selected by a caucas of the state's delegation.

Burke said seven or eight state delegates are pledged to the Minnesota senator but that none of the committee members selected supports McCarthy.

"I feel that with the number of delegates pledged to Sen. McCarthy," Burke wrote, "that we should have been given at least one seat on each of the major committees."

Burke said that "at the very least" the state's McCarthy-pledged delegates should have been given "a seat on either the Credentials Committee or the Permanent Organization Committee."

Burke told Bailey that no caucus of the delegates has been called so far and that "all of the committees have been filled and their names made known publicly in the press and other news media.

"This," he continued, "according to the Clarence Cannon Rules is an explicit violation of procedures."

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Plastic Lids Save Work

DEAR FOLKS: You know how those metal tops on jars of pickles, mayonnaise, sandwich spreads, etc., rust after sitting on your refrigerator shelf for awhile?

Heloise

Well, just slip one of the plastic lids (you've been saving from coffee cans, shortening or toppings) inside that metal top and screw it back on your jar. Great! That little plastic lid keeps the moisture away from the metal and prevents the rust. And they're washable and sanitary.

If the plastic lid is a little too large to fit inside the metal one, just take your scissors and trim it to fit. You can — it's easy.

Wonderful too when reusing those jars for storing broths or juices. You won't have that rust problem anymore. I don't.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: When our children wanted ice cream cones and we had only the cones on hand, I searched for something else to fill them with.

Having a big bowl of fruit gelatin, I filled the cones with it and put topping on each. You never saw such a surprised and happy group of kiddies. They loved the idea.

MRS. M. BULL.

DEAR HELOISE: Those utility tables we use between the kitchen and dining room are also great for transporting "stuff" around the house — linens, laundry, books, clothes from closet to closet, etc. Also to place in front of shelves and closets when rearranging.

E.D.

DEAR HELOISE: Guess what I use to pick up slivers of broken glass, straight pins, and staples off the floor?

Masking tape. Works great.

GAIL.

DEAR HELOISE: Finally I found a way to get our children to pick up their soiled clothes and towels after their bath.

I just picked their clothes up and threw them in the bathroom trash basket.

You can't believe how fast things are put in their proper place now!

MRS. K.R.

DEAR HELOISE: I have solved my problem of drying my rubber bathtub mat (the kind with the suction cups).

I pick mine up and stick the top to the tile over the tub, leaving the end hanging over the edge in the tub. The mat sticks well and the excess water drains back into the tub.

Sure nice for mothers that bathe several children a day.

BUSY MOTHER.

DEAR HELOISE: While decorating the kitchen in my house, I had trouble deciding what to do with my measuring cups. I used to have them hanging on the wall, but when we moved I forget to bring the little rack to hang them on.

Finally I thought of the idea of using cup cooks. I just screwed them up on the underside of the cupboard near the wall and hung them there. I even put one up for measuring spoons and the coffee measure.

They not only look attractive, but are so handy.

READER.

DEAR HELOISE: Try this if your sheer curtains fly all over the room and just don't hang right.

Wrap a small curtain weight in adhesive tape, leaving a small tab to pin onto the back part of the hem at the bottom.

This will make your curtains hang nicely. The weights don't show and are easily removed for washing.

JUNE LILLIQUEST.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

America's affection for strawberries can be indicated by the 275,000 tons of spring's first fruit consumed in 1967. But a more expressive appreciation of strawberries was Elizabethan Dr. William Butler's pecan: "Doubtless God could have made a better berry, but doubtless God never did."

Friendship Wanes

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (AP) —Public displays of friendship between South Africa and Rhodesia which surged through both countries after Rhodesia's seizure of independence in November 1965 are on the wane. The newsletter of the Rhodesian National Friends of South Africa says the organization notes a fade-out of enthusiasm and doubts whether it will get the necessary financial support for the next financial year.

RFK Aides Give Backing To McGovern

WASHINGTON (AP) — Net gain for Sen. George S. McGovern after two days in the Democratic presidential race appears to be endorsement by several former Kennedy aides, approving nods from some former Kennedy supporters and two delegate votes.

But, the South Dakotan said Sunday, he has at least a "fighting chance" to beat out the other two announced candidates, Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

McGovern commented on a radio-television program 24 hours after he entered the race. He intends to use the medium as the chief vehicle for his 11th hour drive before the Democratic National Convention opening in Chicago two weeks from today.

McGovern, a 46-year-old former college professor with a record of winning uphill fights, invoke the name of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy numerous times when he formally announced Saturday.

He launched his candidacy in the Caucus Room of the old Senate Office Building where both Robert and John Kennedy launched theirs.

McGovern said he would campaign on a Kennedy-style get-out-of-Vietnam plank.

"I believe deeply in the twin goals for which Robert Kennedy gave his life," he said, "an end to the war in Vietnam and a passionate commitment to heal the division in our own society."

His avowed hope is to pick up the 300-plus convention delegates pledged to Kennedy when the New York senator was slain last June 6. But the immediate impact was far from encouraging.

Only two members of the Nebraska delegation which Kennedy won in a primary declared their support for McGovern, an Associated Press poll showed.

Assembly Speaker Jesse Unruh, leader of the 174-member California delegation, said he was "very happy to see Sen. McGovern participate" in the race.

But the delegation won by Kennedy only hours before he was shot reaffirmed its intention to go to the convention uncommitted.

The chairman of the Nebraska delegation said 20 to 23 of the 30 members are still unpledged although this could change at a caucus this week.

In Colorado, State Rep. Richard Gebhart who headed Kennedy's state campaign, said he had no reason to believe Kennedy-pledged delegates would come out for McGovern before the convention.

There was no comment from the Kennedy family, but McGovern said he neither expected nor would seek any.

Quick endorsement came from former Kennedy aides Pierre Salinger, Arthur M. Schlesinger Jr. and Frank Mankiewicz. The latter handled press matters for Robert Kennedy and will do the same for McGovern.

Pittsburgh Posts Crime Increase

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Pittsburgh has recorded its worst seven months of crime in its history.

The 48.5 per cent increase over last year was tagged partially to April racial violence, but David W. Craig, public safety director, said the leap in crime reflected increased lawbreaking by juveniles and adults.

"We do not equate this wave of crime with racial problems," he said. "Too many demagogues are trying to make us think that crime and racial tensions are one and the same thing. They are not."

Through July, there were 17,820 reported crimes. Last year's total was 22,590. The biggest increase was in robberies, 134.6 per cent, next was larcenies, 73.9 per cent and burglaries, 50.7 per cent.

Tuesday Opening Set For Kaufmann's Store

ROCHESTER — Kaufmann's Department Store of Pittsburgh formally opens its new two-level branch store on a 10½ - acre site here Tuesday.

Richard Walasik is manager of the new store which has 181,000 square feet, 130 sales departments, a restaurant and a beauty salon. A double - decker parking area has room for 900 autos.

An estimated 500 jobs have been provided by the new store, Frank B. Chase, president of Kaufmann's, announced.

Boat Builders Lack Patience, Expert Says

CARSON, Calif. (AP) — Frank Zsabo, who should know, says that most amateur boat builders lack the supreme quality they need: Patience.

Zsabo, 58, runs a shipyard near Los Angeles harbor where boat builders pay $250 a year to store their craft while they work on them. Only a fifth of his customers ever put a boat to water, he says. Some boats go unfinished for 10 years.

Does Zsabo build boats?

"Oh, I've done repairs on a few but I just haven't got the patience," he said.

ROCHESTER — Kaufmann's Department Store of Pittsburgh formally opens its new two-level branch store on a 10½-acre site here Tuesday.

Richard Walasik is manager of the new store which has 181,000 square feet, 130 sales departments, a restaurant and a beauty salon. A double-decker parking area has room for 900 autos.

An estimated 500 jobs have been provided by the new store, Frank B. Chase, president of Kaufmann's, announced.

Boat Builders Lack Patience, Expert Says

CARSON, Calif. (AP) — Frank Zsabo, who should know, says that most amateur boat builders lack the supreme quality they need: Patience.

Zsabo, 58, runs a shipyard near Los Angeles harbor where boat builders pay $250 a year to store their craft while they work on them. Only a fifth of his customers ever put a boat to water, he says. Some boats go unfinished for 10 years.

Does Zsabo build boats?

"Oh, I've done repairs on a few but I just haven't got the patience," he said.

ANN LANDERS

Mom's Breakdown Bluff

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: "Picked-On Teen" needs more advice than you gave her. Perhaps I can succeed where you failed I had a mother like hers and she nearly wrecked my life. I'd like to tell that girl what a kindly clergyman told me:

Dear Picked-On: No one can give anyone else a nervous breakdown. If a person has a nervous breakdown it is because he or she cannot stand the strain and stress of life.

My mother always used her nerves as a club to keep everyone in line. If she didn't get her way she'd yell at my father, "You're going to give me a nervous breakdown."

It always worked. When I got older she used the same technique on me. I was so afraid I'd be responsible for sending my mother to a mental institution that I obeyed her every command and broke my neck to satisfy her slightest whim.

When I was 23 I began to date a medical student. He was the kindest and most intelligent man I'd known. We fell deeply in love. Mother hated him because he was short and his family was poor and undistinguished.

When I told her we were going to be married she said, "If you marry that runt I'll have a nervous breakdown."

I became so confused and unsure of myself I developed terrible headaches and couldn't go to work.

My doctor urged me to talk to my clergyman. My clergyman advised me to tell my mother that if my marriage were going to cause her to have a nervous breakdown I was sorry but I was going ahead with the marriage.

That was 10 years ago. Mother has been surprisingly easy to live with since I called her bluff. She now enjoys her four grandchildren and never has mentioned a nervous breakdown since. — RUG PULLED.

Dear Rug: Thanks for your fine letter. You certainly gave "Picked On Teen" more help than I did, and I thank you.

An Unbeliever

Dear Ann: I confess I used to read your column for kicks but now I'm hooked by your good advice.

You let me down badly the other day when you gave a flip reply to the woman who wanted to know if she should spend $100 on a suit to bury her uncle in. The woman said he was an atheist and she was afraid she'd get a lot of criticism from her religious relatives.

You replied, "Don't spend $100 on a burial suit for an atheist. He'd be all dressed up with no place to go."

How do YOU know where he's going? Have you ever known anyone who came back with a report? Some very outstanding people in this world are atheists or agnostics. In my opinion you owe them all an apology. — VALLEJO READER.

-:-

Dear Reader: I'm sorry if you thought I was flip, but humor can be a useful device and I sometimes use it when I feel it would be pointless to engage in serious debate.

You're right when you say many distinguished individuals are nonbelievers. While I respect their right to hold an opinion different than mine, I also feel sorry that they may one day be deprived of the strength and the enormous emotional support that belongs to those who have faith in God.

Confidentially

To Him and Me: Tell your friend all kinds of people read this column for all kinds of reasons. It's strange that he describes your interest as "the morbid curiosity of an eavesdropper or a window-peeper" while he claims HIS interest is that of a sociologist who wishes to explore behavior problems of the masses. Tell him, "Applesauce."

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

5 Die In Boat Mystery

FORT MYERS, Fla. (AP) — Five men unloading a cargo of fish toppled one-by-one Sunday into the hold of their boat where they were found dead.

Lee County sheriff's investigator James Loeffler said, "We don't know what killed them or where it came from. They either got a whiff of a toxic gas or some sort of chemical poison."

Back from a successful trip, the crew of the 125-foot trawler Novelty and dockworkers were preparing to flood the ship's hold to enable huge pumps to pull out both water and fish.

"When the water was turned on," Loeffler said, "the man holding the hose immediately collapsed and fell into the hold."

The first man to react, Francis L. Winter, 53, of Punta Gorda, Fla., jumped through the hatch and reached the body when he, too, keeled over.

As he slumped into the hold, his brother, Joseph, 55, also of Punt Gorda, raced to the hatchway. He got his feet on the ladder and his hand on the rail when the poison hit him and he fell the rest of the way, Loeffler said.

"The other two men never left the deck," the investigator said. "They just looked into the hold and collapsed through the hatch."

He said a sixth man was felled by the incredibly fast-acting poison, but was rescued by the ship's one-armed cook, Clyde Parrish, and dock worker Roy McNeely.

"All of this transpired in less than two minutes," Loeffler said. McNeely descended with a rope while holding his breath and raised the last man to be felled.

"Parrish is the hero if there is one," Loeffler said. Without knowing what had stricken his shipmates and the dock workers, he administered mouth-to-mouth resuscitation.

Loeffler said Lawrence Finley, 33, of North Port Charlotte, began to breathe without aid and was rushed to a nearby hospital where he was reported unconscious and in critical condition.

Meanwhile, William Conrad of the Fort Myers fire department rescue team, went into the smelly hold with ropes and brought up the body of Kenneth Smith, 55, manager of the fish processing plant where the ship was docked.

The fireman repeated his rescue attempt when he saw the body of Stephen Richmond, 18-year-old second engineer on the boat.

The other bodies were brought up by firemen after gas masks arrived at the wharf. Besides the Winter brothers there was Francis Webb, 23, of Peace Dale, R.I., the boat's pilot.

5 Die In Boat Mystery

FORT MYERS, Fla. (AP) — Five men unloading a cargo of fish toppled one-by-one Sunday into the hold of their boat where they were found dead.

Lee County sheriff's investigator James Loeffler said, "We don't know what killed them or where it came from. They either got a whiff of a toxic gas or some sort of chemical poison."

Back from a successful trip, the crew of the 125-foot trawler Novelty and dockworkers were preparing to flood the ship's hold to enable huge pumps to pull out both water and fish.

"When the water was turned on," Loeffler said, "the man holding the hose immediately collapsed and fell into the hold."

The first man to react, Francis L. Winter, 53, of Punta Gorda, Fla., jumped through the hatch and reached the body when he, too, keeled over.

As he slumped into the hold, his brother, Joseph, 55, also of Punt Gorda, raced to the hatchway. He got his feet on the ladder and his hand on the rail when the poison hit him and he fell the rest of the way, Loeffler said.

"The other two men never left the deck," the investigator said. "They just looked into the hold and collapsed through the hatch."

He said a sixth man was felled by the incredibly fast-acting poison, but was rescued by the ship's one-armed cook, Clyde Parrish, and dock worker Roy McNeely.

"All of this transpired in less than two minutes," Loeffler said. McNeely descended with a rope while holding his breath and raised the last man to be felled.

"Parrish is the hero if there is one," Loeffler said. Without knowing what had stricken his shipmates and the dock workers, he administered mouth-to-mouth resuscitation.

Loeffler said Lawrence Finley, 33, of North Port Charlotte, began to breathe without aid and was rushed to a nearby hospital where he was reported unconscious and in critical condition.

Meanwhile, William Conrad of the Fort Myers fire department rescue team, went into the smelly hold with ropes and brought up the body of Kenneth Smith, 55, manager of the fish processing plant where the ship was docked.

The fireman repeated his rescue attempt when he saw the body of Stephen Richmond, 18-year-old second engineer on the boat.

The other bodies were brought up by firemen after gas masks arrived at the wharf. Besides the Winter brothers there was Francis Webb, 23, of Peace Dale, R.I., the boat's pilot.

Learned Rally Drives Too Hectic

Nixon To Emphasize TV

By WALTER R. MEARS
Associated Press Writer

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Richard M. Nixon is mapping a Republican presidential campaign that will stress television instead of hectic rounds of vote-seeking rallies.

And Nixon seeks also to make the most of his vice presidential running mate, Maryland Gov. Spiro T. Agnew, in dealing with campaign issues and in covering territory for the ticket.

Those themes emerged from the strategy sessions under way during Nixon's working vacation at Mission Bay, a San Diego resort. A new round of talks was set today, while Agnew planned his first independent campaign trip and Mrs. Nixon, with daughter Tricia, sets out for three days of appearances from Seattle to Los Angeles.

Sen. John Tower of Texas, a Nixon ally in the campaign for the GOP presidential nomination and the chairman of his key issues committee, was due in San Diego to sit in on the talks shaping the autumn program.

Herbert G. Klein, Nixon's chief spokesman, said the nominee and his men already had decided to continue the television emphasis they considered a key weapon during the presidential primaries.

Along with that emphasis, Klein said, will come a cutback in the round of personal appearances which has characterized past presidential campaigns. Klein said the Nixon forces realize that when the nominee is going to face a massive television audience, he must have time to rest and prepare.

"This time, there will be adequate preparation," Klein said.

That evidently is a lesson learned from the physically exhausting campaign Nixon ran eight years ago. The problem was evidenced most clearly when a tired and haggard Nixon faced John F. Kennedy in the first of their televised debates.

As for teamwork between the two GOP nominees Klein said Nixon wants to fashion "the most closely coordinated dual campaign in history."

Klein said the staffs of the presidential and the vice presidential nominee will be tied closely together, and their travels—as well as the things they say on issues—will be carefully coordinated.

This, too, apparently stems from a lesson learned in the narrow defeat of 1960. Henry Cabot Loge was the vice presidential nominee then, and he sometimes took an independent course.

Agnew participated in some of the campaign planning sessions Sunday and tape recorded a broadcast message to the citizens of Maryland, saying he has no intention of resigning as governor and will continue to make the final decision on affairs of state.

Agnew scheduled a trip to San Francisco to confer with former Mayor George Christopher and to appear at receptions and a dinner.

Nixon is to remain here until next Sunday, then go home to New York City. Klein said Nixon would operate from his New York base until after Labor Day, making brief campaign trips.

Klein said Nixon will confer during the week with Republican leaders, possibly including California Gov. Ronald Reagan, a rival for the nomination.

Minor Blaze Quelled At Mill In Midland

A minor blaze in an oil pit at the former 12-18-inch mill at the Midland Division of the Crucible Steel Corp. was extinguished by the plant fire brigade Sunday at 1:42 p. m.

2 More Levies Filed For November Ballot

Two more proposed levies were filed today with the County Election Board for places on the November general election ballot.

Wellsville Council filed a proposed half-mill levy to provide funds for operation of parks and playgrounds. It would be in effect two years.

County commissioners asked a vote on renewal of a two-tenths-mill levy for 10 years, commencing with the tax year 1970, to provide money for "maintenance and operation of schools, training centers and workshops for the mentally-retarded." The levy would produce about $52,000 a year.

The DOCTOR Says

By Dr. W. G. Brandstadt

Ganglion Is Not Serious

Ganglion, a rather common lesion, is a hernia or rupture of the enveloping capsule of one of the joints between the small bones of the wrist. It is sometimes called a synovial cyst. It is seen more often in women than in men but the cause is not known. It is not serious and, in most persons, produces no symptoms. A few, however, may complain of weakness in the wrist and of mild pain on making a tight fist.

Dr. Brandstadt

A GANGLION sometimes disappears spontaneously or when it accidentally receives a hard blow. Many ganglions have been treated at home by administering a sharp blow with the family Bible, but this treatment is not recommended because of the danger of a more serious injury. Following this treatment the ganglion usually returns. If it causes no trouble and is not too noticeable, it is best to leave it alone.

—:—

COMPLETE surgical removal is advised by some authorities but this involves a prolonged recovery period. Most doctors prefer a simpler method of treatment, such as withdrawal of the fluid through a syringe, then injecting hydrocortisone into the cyst.

—:—

ANOTHER METHOD that has been highly successful is drawing a suture through the cyst, tying it loosely in place and gently pressing the fluid out. A sterile dressing is then applied and every day the dressing is removed so that the suture can be drawn back and forth. After eight or nine days, the cyst is empty and the suture has caused a foreign body reaction which prevents a recurrence.

Q—I do a lot of housecleaning with ammonia. Are the fumes harmful to the lungs?

A—Although a heavy exposure to ammonia fumes following an industrial accident may cause damage to the lungs, liver and kidneys, the household use of ammonia would irritate only the nose, throat and eyes. This can be minimized by working with the windows open or by using an electric fan in the room.

Q—Can a 55-year-old woman catch chicken pox? Several days after exposure to this disease, I broke out with a large number of very itchy pimples all over my body.

A—Anyone who has never had chicken pox can get it. It is called a childhood disease only because that is when most people have it. Your description would surely fit this diagnosis.

The DOCTOR Says

By Dr. W. G. Brandstadt

Ganglion Is Not Serious

Ganglion, a rather common lesion, is a hernia or rupture of the enveloping capsule of one of the joints between the small bones of the wrist. It is sometimes called a synovial cyst. It is seen more often in women than in men but the cause is not known. It is not serious and, in most persons, produces no symptoms. A few, however, may complain of weakness in the wrist and of mild pain on making a tight fist.

A GANGLION sometimes disappears spontaneously or when it accidentally receives a hard blow. Many ganglions have been treated at home by administering a sharp blow with the family Bible, but this treatment is not recommended because of the danger of a more serious injury. Following this treatment the ganglion usually returns. If it causes no trouble and is not too noticeable, it is best to leave it alone.

—:—

COMPLETE surgical removal is advised by some authorities but this involves a prolonged recovery period. Most doctors prefer a simpler method of treatment, such as withdrawal of the fluid through a syringe, then injecting hydrocortisone into the cyst.

A sterile dressing is then applied and every day the dressing is removed so that the suture can be drawn back and forth. After eight or nine days, the cyst is empty and the suture has caused a foreign body reaction which prevents a recurrence.

'Cooling It' At Home Is A Breeze

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

There are undeniable advantages to air - conditioning one's home.

But against the advantages must be weighed the expense and the number of days out of the year when it is really needed. Undoubtedly, the warmer your climate the more use you will get out of the installation.

If you live in a fairly temperate zone in which warm weather exists only in the summer and really hot days — while uncomfortable — are rare, then you might consider simpler and cheaper methods of keeping the house cool.

NO MATTER where you live, your house will be cooler if surrounded by grassy areas rather than pavement and if your living quarters are shaded by trees.

Remember that nights tend to be cooler and you should operate on the principle of filling your house with night air, and closing it against the warmer air during the day.

Exhaust fans used at night will pull stuffy air out of a dwelling, allowing it to be replaced by cooler air rushing in from outdoors.

Start using the fan at dusk, when temperatures outside start to be lower than inside. Keep it running until early morning. Draw the shades on the sunny side of the house, even close the windows. Your house will tend to warm up as the day goes on but not as quickly and by evening you will be ready to start cooling it again.

FANS RANGE in style and size from the simple window fan to the giant attic mounted exhaust fan.

In an apartment or a small home, a simple window fan will help a great deal. Remember, we are talking about fans that will pull air out of a house —not simply move it around.

Place a fan in a window at one end of a room. Windows near the fan should be closed, otherwise the air movement will be through these adjacent windows instead of through the room because of this short circuiting.

Open windows farther away from the fan so that air movement will be over a long distance. For night cooling install the fan in a window opposite the bedroom, rather than in the bedroom itself. This way the bedroom will be the first room to receive the cooling breezes from outside.

In a two - story house, install the fan on the upper floor. Warm air tends to rise and cool air will be closer to the ground. This is the air that will fill the house as the upstairs air is vented out.

WHILE YOU can get massive window fans, the sort that will do the best job is the built-in attic fan. If you own your own home you should consider one.

It acts as a central ventilating system. It sets all the air in the house in motion, drawing it up through attic and exhausting it outside through outlets. It draws cooler air through doors and windows throughout the rest of the house.

Even the warm air in the house is cooler than the air stored in the attic. Thus, by the time the fan is finished with its job it has cooled off the attic, too, which in turn will help to keep the rest of the house cool during the day.

Get a fan that is large enough. A good attic fan should be able to change the air in the house in a minute to a minute and a half. Fans are rated according to cubic-foot displacement. Figure the cubic feet in your house by measuring—multiplying width, length and height. You need not figure the basement or attic.

Shellac Retains Popular Appeal

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

Spaghetti and shellac have something in common. They were both brought from Asia to Europe by Marco Polo.

While their affinity ended there, they have had parallel journeys to popularity, winning quick public approval and maintaining it throughout the centuries.

Shellac's popular appeal, in the face of a large assortment of new finishing materials, can be traced to a number of reasons, among them its versatility, ease of application and quick-drying properties.

Hobbyists, in particular, like it because it lends itself to experimentation in ways and means of mixing and applying.

PROFESSIONAL wood finishers of the past carefully guarded their own secret recipes for using shellac on expensive violins and fine furniture.

Today, there are different schools of thought on the proper mixture of shellac and denatured alcohol, the type of abrasive for smoothening the hardened finish, the manner of application and the various uses to which it can be put.

The newcomer need have no qualms about these differences of opinion. He can achieve good results by using a 50-50 mixture of shellac and denatured alcohol and applying it with a brush which is not used for any other purpose. Two or three coats are recommended, with a light sanding between coats.

While shellac dries rapidly, so much so that dust will not cling to it after the first few minutes, several hours should elapse between coats.

When shellac is to be used as a sealer or undercoater, less of it can be used in the mixture.

A good starting point would be three parts of denatured alcohol to one part of shellac. Once you have become acquainted with shellac, you will find your own favorite mixture — as a sealer, an undercoater or a finish coat. And it is inevitable that you not only will find it, but that you will soon be proclaiming it an ideal combination, better than that one used by your neighbor or the one recommended in an article on wood finishing.

LEST IT be supposed that shellac is a foolproof material which can be successfully applied by anyone under any conditions, it just isn't so. It will develop a whitish appearance if it is put on in an atmosphere of high humidity or if the wood isn't completely dry.

A good practice is not to use shellac during rainy weather, even if you are doing the finishing inside the house, although it must be admitted that it can be done if you are absolutely certain the inside humidity is low and that the temperature is somewhere in the vicinity of 70 degrees Fahrenheit.

You should buy only enough shellac to last for a few months, since it is inclined to deteriorate after that period of time.

Continue to keep it in the original container and protect it from air and sunlight. In applying it, work fast, flowing it on and never brushing it out completely as you might do with most kinds of paint.

Asphalt Tile Floors Need Proper Care

By DOUGLAS TUOMEY

There are a lot of asphalt tile floors in this country, and it can be said that they are excellent floors.

There is a certain procedure for maintaining them, just as there is for maintaining tile, linoleum or wood floors. What applies to one material does not apply to another. Therefore, if you want your asphalt tile floor to look its best and last indefinitely, as it should, simply treat it properly.

There is nothing complicated about the correct treatment. In the first place, an occasional washing with warm water and suds of a neutral soap is all that is required to keep asphalt tile floors clean and attractive. Of course, the floor should be rinsed after the washing as you rinse anything else, and it should be dry - mopped.

When it comes to the use of high - pressure "cleaners" containing kerosene, benzine, turpentine, oils or highly alkaline compounds, just stay away from them.

If you want a high finish on your asphalt tile floor, use any water emulsion wax floor polish. There is nothing odd or difficult about this. It is as easy to apply as any other floor wax and can be buffed and polished to as high a gloss as you want. Do you use varnish, lacquers, shellacs or plastic finishes.

If you want the best service out of your floor, chairs and other pieces of furniture should be equipped with smooth, flat protectors on the ends of the legs. This applies to any floor, not only to asphalt tile. You cannot expect a floor to look its best when it is subjected to gouging, scratching leg - ends. You get out of any material exactly what you put into it in care. You can overwind a $500 watch as easily as a $5 watch.

Patching Tips Are Offered For Plaster

AP Newsfeatures

Question: We are getting ready to do over our main bedroom.

The walls are of regular plaster and are painted an off-white. We plan on using a slightly pinkish color, but we aren't sure whether we will use paint or wallpaper of that shade.

The problem is that there are quite a few cracks in the plaster, some small, some fairly none really large. If we paint, we know we'll have to patch the cracks. Can you give us some advice on that and also tell us whether it will be necessary to patch the cracks if we decide to use wallpaper?

ANSWER: The plaster should be repaired whether you use paint or wallpaper.

The kind of patching plaster that comes in small containers, usually a form of cardboard, will be satisfactory. It is a powdery substance that requires only mixing with water before using. When patching the small hairline - type cracks, the mixture should be fairly watery so that it can be easily pressed into the openings.

The larger gaps present a different problem. They should be undercut first; that is, opened a little further so that the edges of the plaster slant inward. This will enable the patching material to remain in place while it is hardening.

Also, the mixture should be firmer than for the tiny openings, but still loose enough to be worked easily.

The patch should be a fraction of an inch above the surface. This will take care of shrinkage and at the same time permit sanding to bring the patch even with the surrounding area.

Before any of this is done — in fact, before you even make the mixture — remove all loose bits of plaster from each opening, then soak the indentation with clean water.

When the patch is hard and dry to the touch, soak it again. Later, apply a primer to the repair. When that is dry, go ahead with the painting.

Fall Injury Seen Causing Death Of Ex-Senator's Son

WASHINGTON (AP) — Preliminary autopsy results indicate Dennis Chavez Jr., son of the late senator from New Mexico, died of head injuries suffered several days earlier, authorities say.

Dr. Richard Welton, District of Colmbia coroner, said final certification of cause of death will folow further investigation.

Chavez, 55, a Washington lawyed who had worked as an aide and campaign manager for his father before the senior Chavez' death in 1962, died Sunday shortly after he was found unconscious on the floor of a jail cell.

Police said Chavez was arrested after he was seen staggering on a Washington street. He was charged with drunkenness.

Dr. Welton said the autopsy showed Chavez suffered brain contusions and bleeding from membranes surrounding the brain and that the injuries apparently were suffered in a fall several days before his death. Dr. Welton said the injuries could have produced the staggering.

Chavez was the son of the late Sen. Dennis Chavez who served in the Senate from 1935 until his death.

Like his father, the younger Chavez was born on the family ranch in Los Chavez, N.M., which had belonged to the family since 1769 when the King of Spain gave it to them as a land grant.

Chavez, a bachelor, won the silver and bronze stars for heroism during World War II service as a U.S. Marine.

30 Mailboxes Damaged In County Vandalism

LISBON—Damage to 30 mail boxes and the theft of two large dinner bells from farm homes were among complaints investigated by sheriff's deputies over the weekend.

Deputies investigating a vandalism complaint from Frank Rhome of Mountz Rd., Knox Township, found 30 damaged mailboxes. Twenty - four were in Columbiana County and six in Carroll County.

Officers said the boxes appeared to have been hit with some kind of blunt object. Postal authorities were notified. Rhome said his mailbox was smashed about 4 a.m. Saturday.

The dinner bell thefts were reported Saturday morning by two Pine Hollow Rd. residents — H. R. Wise of Lisbon RD 3 and Mrs. Virginia Eschbacher of Rogers RD 1. Both bells were in the front yard, the owners said.

Steve Hruby of Bethesda Church Rd., Hanoverton RD 1, said a two-month-old Holstein heifer weighing about 200 pounds was stolen from his barn between 8 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. Saturday. The gate was locked and rest of the cattle were in the barn, he said.

Other thefts reported Saturday included a 12-volt battery taken from a car at Hole's used car lot east of Lisbon and approximately $10 taken from children's banks at the William Blaine home on Gas Tax Rd., Hanoverton RD 1, while the family was away. Deputies said there was no sign of forced entry at the residence.

Orvan Carter of McGavern Rd., Salineville RD 3, called the sheriff's office at 3 p. m. Sunday to reporting finding a 14-month-old shorthorn steer which had been missing one week. It was dead, shot in the side, about a half-mile from the barn.

2 Men Indicted On Bond Charges

A Youngstown man and companion from Struthers have been indicted by a federal grand stolen bonds, including some of transporting $225,000 worth of jury at New York on charges registered in the name of an Aliquippa woman.

Joseph M. Mainer, 48, of Farris, 38, of Struthers were charged with carrying the bonds from Newark, N. J., to New York City as part of an alleged conspiracy to deal in the stolen securities.

Some of the stolen bonds, which included 125 shares of Sperry Rand Corp., were listed in the name of Mrs. Anna Maz of Aliquippa.

Mainer and Farris were arrested by the FBI in May. They will plead to the charges Aug. 19.

Board To Open Bids

LISBON — The Lisbon board of education will open bids for coal, milk and bread during its meeting at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday in the administration building.

The average U.S. dollar bill lasts about nine months before it wears out.

Thieves Repent, Give Back Loot Plus 'Tip'

ROCKY HILL, Conn. (AP) — Thieves who broke into the trucks of a plumbing company and stole some tools had a change of heart.

They returned the tools Saturday along with $10. They also reinstalled a radio they had taken.

The money was enclosed in an envelope with a note that read: "This is our first offense. We feel guilty and are sorry for what happened. The $10 is to cover any damage."

Mexican Indians Win Annual Dance Contest

GALLUP, N.M. (AP) — The Aztec Indians of Mexico won first and the Totonacs-Voladors Indians, also of Mexico, took second in dancing at the 47th intertribal Indian ceremonial in Gallup, N.M.

The ceremonial drew 35,000 visitors before it closed Sunday.

Inmates Release Two Hostages In Indiana Prison

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind. (AP) — Two State Prison guards held by rebellious inmates were released unharmed Sunday after a newsman listened to prisoner grievances.

Two ringleaders of the six-hour disturbance were placed in maximum security cells after the meeting. The newsman, Al Spiers of Michigan City, listened with Warden Ward Lane and Anthony Kuharich, state correction commissioner, for more than an hour to various complaints from some 20 prisoners.

Spiers said the majority of the 150 inmates in the bolck appeared uninterested although "about two dozen leaned over the railings of catwalks to see and hear what was going on."

The guards, Fred Parker, 25, of Michigan City, and Frank Dunn, 27, of Portage, Ind., told officials they were not abused or threatened. Spiers left the cellblock soon after the guards.

Lane identified the ringleaders as William Francis Brown, 31, and James Lee Collins, 20, who forced the guards into top tier cells in a four-tier cellhouse adjoining the prison's administration building.

Brown and Collins were armed with makeshift knives, officials said. Brown is serving a 1-10 year sentence for assault with intent to commit a felony. Collins was sentenced to life as an accessory after the fact of murder.

Grievances aired by the convicts, Spiers said, concerned policies of the State Parole Board and appointment to it last January of John J. Barton, former state police superintendent and former Indianapolis mayor.

The prisoners said that Barton "is a police officer with a policeman's training and with a policeman's attitude," Spiers reported.

'Cooling It' At Home Is A Breeze

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

There are undeniable advantages to air - conditioning one's home.

But against the advantages must be weighed the expense and the number of days out of the year when it is really needed. Undoubtedly, the warmer your climate the more use you will get out of the installation.

If you live in a fairly temperate zone in which warm weather exists only in the summer and really hot days — while uncomfortable — are rare, then you might consider simpler and cheaper methods of keeping the house cool.

NO MATTER where you live, your house will be cooler if surrounded by grassy areas rather than pavement and if your living quarters are shaded by trees.

Remember that nights tend to be cooler and you should operate on the principle of filling your house with night air, and closing it against the warmer air during the day.

Exhaust fans used at night will pull stuffy air out of a dwelling, allowing it to be replaced by cooler air rushing in from outdoors.

Start using the fan at dusk, when temperatures outside start to be lower than inside. Keep it running until early morning. Draw the shades on the sunny side of the house, even close the windows. Your house will tend to warm up as the day goes on but not as quickly and by evening you will be ready to start cooling it again.

FANS RANGE in style and size from the simple window fan to the giant attic mounted exhaust fan.

In an apartment or a small home, a simple window fan will help a great deal. Remember, we are talking about fans that will pull air out of a house —not simply move it around.

Place a fan in a window at one end of a room. Windows near the fan should be closed, otherwise the air movement will be through these adjacent windows instead of through the room because of this short circuiting.

Open windows farther away from the fan so that air movement will be over a long distance. For night cooling install the fan in a window opposite the bedroom, rather than in the bedroom itself. This way the bedroom will be the first room to receive the cooling breezes from outside.

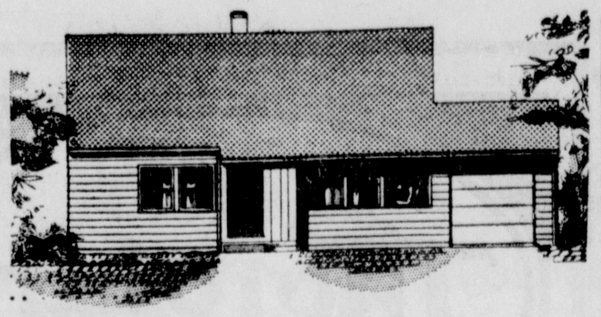
In a two - story house, install the fan on the upper floor. Warm air tends to rise and cool air will be closer to the ground. This is the air that will fill the house as the upstairs air is vented out.

WHILE YOU can get massive window fans, the sort that will do the best job is the built-in attic fan. If you own your own home you should consider one.

It acts as a central ventilating system. It sets all the air in the house in motion, drawing it up through attic and exhausting it outside through outlets. It draws cooler air through doors and windows throughout the rest of the house.

Even the warm air in the house is cooler than the air stored in the attic. Thus, by the time the fan is finished with its job it has cooled off the attic, too, which in turn will help to keep the rest of the house cool during the day.

Get a fan that is large enough. A good attic fan should be able to change the air in the house in a minute to a minute and a half. Fans are rated according to cubic-foot displacement. Figure the cubic feet in your house by measuring—multiplying width, length and height. You need not figure the basement or attic.



THIS SMALL HOUSE has a built-in future, due to the expansion attic, with space for two bedrooms and a bath, and the basement, with space for storage room, laundry and recreation room. Its compact, economic, convenient plan arrangement has the living-dining areas along the garage end of the house and the two bedrooms along the other end with the stairway and service rooms in the center. Plan HA561R has 816 square feet of living space. Its designer is Jan Reiner, 1000 52nd St. North, St. Petersburg, Fla.

Shellac Retains Popular Appeal

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

Spaghetti and shellac have something in common. They were both brought from Asia to Europe by Marco Polo.

While their affinity ended there, they have had parallel journeys to popularity, winning quick public approval and maintaining it throughout the centuries.

Shellac's popular appeal, in the face of a large assortment of new finishing materials, can be traced to a number of reasons, among them its versatility, ease of application and quick-drying properties.

Hobbyists, in particular, like it because it lends itself to experimentation in ways and means of mixing and applying.

PROFESSIONAL wood finishers of the past carefully guarded their own secret recipes for using shellac on expensive violins and fine furniture.

Today, there are different schools of thought on the proper mixture of shellac and denatured alcohol, the type of abrasive for smoothening the hardened finish, the manner of application and the various uses to which it can be put.

The newcomer need have no qualms about these differences of opinion. He can achieve good results by using a 50-50 mixture of shellac and denatured alcohol and applying it with a brush which is not used for any other purpose. Two or three coats are recommended, with a light sanding between coats.

While shellac dries rapidly, so much so that dust will not cling to it after the first few minutes, several hours should elapse between coats.

When shellac is to be used as a sealer or undercoater, less of it can be used in the mixture.

A good starting point would be three parts of denatured alcohol to one part of shellac. Once you have become acquainted with shellac, you will find your own favorite mixture — as a sealer, an undercoater or a finish coat. And it is inevitable that you not only will find it, but that you will soon be proclaiming it an ideal combination, better than that one used by your neighbor or the one recommended in an article on wood finishing.

LEST IT be supposed that shellac is a foolproof material which can be successfully applied by anyone under any conditions, it just isn't so. It will develop a whitish appearance if it is put on in an atmosphere of high humidity or if the wood isn't completely dry.

A good practice is not to use shellac during rainy weather, even if you are doing the finishing inside the house, although it must be admitted that it can be done if you are absolutely certain the inside humidity is low and that the temperature is somewhere in the vicinity of 70 degrees Fahrenheit.

You should buy only enough shellac to last for a few months, since it is inclined to deteriorate after that period of time.

Continue to keep it in the original container and protect it from air and sunlight. In applying it, work fast, flowing it on and never brushing it out completely as you might do with most kinds of paint.

Asphalt Tile Floors Need Proper Care

By DOUGLAS TUOMEY

There are a lot of asphalt tile floors in this country, and it can be said that they are excellent floors.

There is a certain procedure for maintaining them, just as there is for maintaining tile, linoleum or wood floors. What applies to one material does not apply to another. Therefore, if you want your asphalt tile floor to look its best and last indefinitely, as it should, simply treat it properly.

There is nothing complicated about the correct treatment. In the first place, an occasional washing with warm water and suds of a neutral soap is all that is required to keep asphalt tile floors clean and attractive. Of course, the floor should be rinsed after the washing as you rinse anything else, and it should be dry - mopped.

When it comes to the use of high - pressure "cleaners" containing kerosene, benzine, turpentine, oils or highly alkaline compounds, just stay away from them.

If you want a high finish on your asphalt tile floor, use any water emulsion wax floor polish. There is nothing odd or difficult about this. It is as easy to apply as any other floor wax and can be buffed and polished to as high a gloss as you want. Do you use varnish, lacquers, shellacs or plastic finishes.

If you want the best service out of your floor, chairs and other pieces of furniture should be equipped with smooth, flat protectors on the ends of the legs. This applies to any floor, not only to asphalt tile. You cannot expect a floor to look its best when it is subjected to gouging, scratching leg - ends. You get out of any material exactly what you put into it in care. You can overwind a $500 watch as easily as a $5 watch.

Patching Tips Are Offered For Plaster

AP Newsfeatures

Question: We are getting ready to do over our main bedroom.

The walls are of regular plaster and are painted an off-white. We plan on using a slightly pinkish color, but we aren't sure whether we will use paint or wallpaper of that shade.

The problem is that there are quite a few cracks in the plaster, some small, some fairly none really large. If we paint, we know we'll have to patch the cracks. Can you give us some advice on that and also tell us whether it will be necessary to patch the cracks if we decide to use wallpaper?

ANSWER: The plaster should be repaired whether you use paint or wallpaper.

The kind of patching plaster that comes in small containers, usually a form of cardboard, will be satisfactory. It is a powdery substance that requires only mixing with water before using. When patching the small hairline - type cracks, the mixture should be fairly watery so that it can be easily pressed into the openings.

The larger gaps present a different problem. They should be undercut first; that is, opened a little further so that the edges of the plaster slant inward. This will enable the patching material to remain in place while it is hardening.

Also, the mixture should be firmer than for the tiny openings, but still loose enough to be worked easily.

The patch should be a fraction of an inch above the surface. This will take care of shrinkage and at the same time permit sanding to bring the patch even with the surrounding area.

Before any of this is done — in fact, before you even make the mixture — remove all loose bits of plaster from each opening, then soak the indentation with clean water.

When the patch is hard and dry to the touch, soak it again. Later, apply a primer to the repair. When that is dry, go ahead with the painting.

Fall Injury Seen Causing Death Of Ex-Senator's Son

WASHINGTON (AP) — Preliminary autopsy results indicate Dennis Chavez Jr., son of the late senator from New Mexico, died of head injuries suffered several days earlier, authorities say.

Dr. Richard Welton, District of Colmbia coroner, said final certification of cause of death will folow further investigation.

Chavez, 55, a Washington lawyed who had worked as an aide and campaign manager for his father before the senior Chavez' death in 1962, died Sunday shortly after he was found unconscious on the floor of a jail cell.

Police said Chavez was arrested after he was seen staggering on a Washington street. He was charged with drunkenness.

Dr. Welton said the autopsy showed Chavez suffered brain contusions and bleeding from membranes surrounding the brain and that the injuries apparently were suffered in a fall several days before his death. Dr. Welton said the injuries could have produced the staggering.

Chavez was the son of the late Sen. Dennis Chavez who served in the Senate from 1935 until his death.

Like his father, the younger Chavez was born on the family ranch in Los Chavez, N.M., which had belonged to the family since 1769 when the King of Spain gave it to them as a land grant.

Chavez, a bachelor, won the silver and bronze stars for heroism during World War II service as a U.S. Marine.

Thieves Repent, Give Back Loot Plus 'Tip'

ROCKY HILL, Conn. (AP) — Thieves who broke into the trucks of a plumbing company and stole some tools had a change of heart.

They returned the tools Saturday along with $10. They also reinstalled a radio they had taken.

The money was enclosed in an envelope with a note that read: "This is our first offense. We feel guilty and are sorry for what happened. The $10 is to cover any damage."

30 Mailboxes Damaged In County Vandalism

LISBON—Damage to 30 mail boxes and the theft of two large dinner bells from farm homes were among complaints investigated by sheriff's deputies over the weekend.

Deputies investigating a vandalism complaint from Frank Rhome of Mountz Rd., Knox Township, found 30 damaged mailboxes. Twenty - four were in Columbiana County and six in Carroll County.

Officers said the boxes appeared to have been hit with some kind of blunt object. Postal authorities were notified. Rhome said his mailbox was smashed about 4 a.m. Saturday.

The dinner bell thefts were reported Saturday morning by two Pine Hollow Rd. residents — H. R. Wise of Lisbon RD 3 and Mrs. Virginia Eschbacher of Rogers RD 1. Both bells were in the front yard, the owners said.

Steve Hruby of Bethesda Church Rd., Hanoverton RD 1, said a two-month-old Holstein heifer weighing about 200 pounds was stolen from his barn between 8 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. Saturday. The gate was locked and rest of the cattle were in the barn, he said.

Other thefts reported Saturday included a 12-volt battery taken from a car at Hole's used car lot east of Lisbon and approximately $10 taken from children's banks at the William Blaine home on Gas Tax Rd., Hanoverton RD 1, while the family was away. Deputies said there was no sign of forced entry at the residence.

Orvan Carter of McGavern Rd., Salineville RD 3, called the sheriff's office at 3 p. m. Sunday to reporting finding a 14-month-old shorthorn steer which had been missing one week. It was dead, shot in the side, about a half-mile from the barn.

Indians from seven states and Mexico participated in four days of dancing, rodeo events and arts and crafts exhibits.

Inmates Release Two Hostages In Indiana Prison

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind. (AP) — Two State Prison guards held by rebellious inmates were released unharmed Sunday after a newsman listened to prisoner grievances.

Two ringleaders of the six-hour disturbance were placed in maximum security cells after the meeting. The newsman, Al Spiers of Michigan City, listened with Warden Ward Lane and Anthony Kuharich, state correction commissioner, for more than an hour to various complaints from some 20 prisoners.

Spiers said the majority of the 150 inmates in the bolck appeared uninterested although "about two dozen leaned over the railings of catwalks to see and hear what was going on."

The guards, Fred Parker, 25, of Michigan City, and Frank Dunn, 27, of Portage, Ind., told officials they were not abused or threatened. Spiers left the cellblock soon after the guards.

Lane identified the ringleaders as William Francis Brown, 31, and James Lee Collins, 20, who forced the guards into top tier cells in a four-tier cellhouse adjoining the prison's administration building.

The prisoners said that Barton "is a police officer with a policeman's training and with a policeman's attitude," Spiers reported.

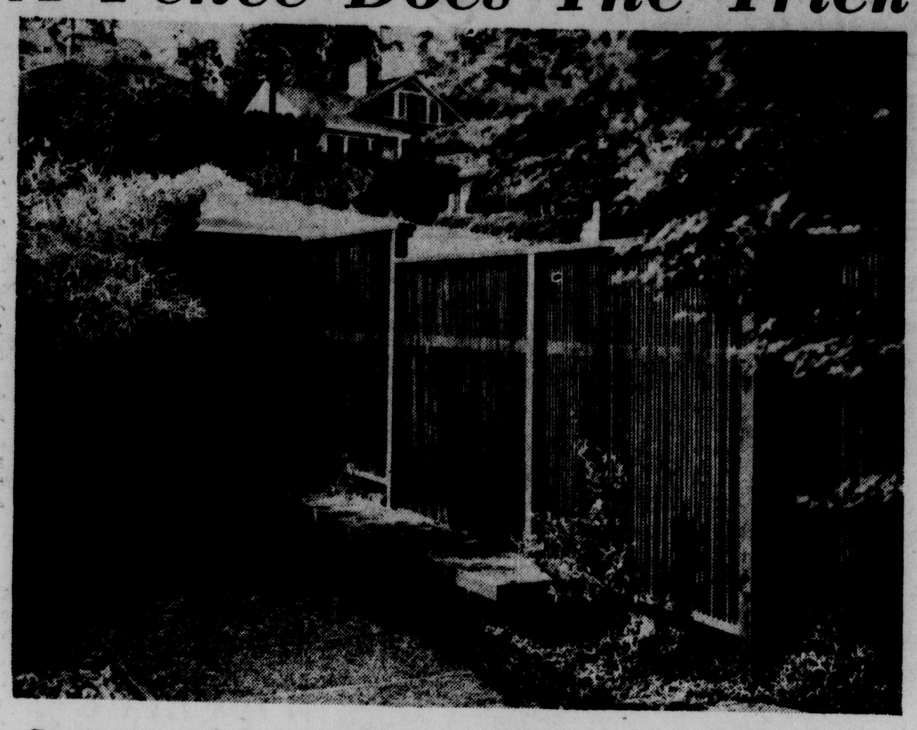
A Fence Does The Trick



For one reason or another, many homes are built close to the street, with only a narrow strip of yard left between house and roadway.

The arrangement pleases many modernists, however, who consider a front yard potentially waste space and prefer a super-size area at the rear. Yet the shallow front yard does create a privacy problem. Windows are fully exposed and traffic noise can reach fearful proportions.

—:—

ONE SOLUTION is obvious: a fence. Built right along the street's edge and to a height of six feet or more, even a light - scaled slat screen makes an effective sound buffer and instantly will restore privacy.

But the screen can do even more than that. It also can reclaim the front yard for living space, a courtyard in the Mediterranean tradition.

An informal, natural look pleases most Americans, though, and such a court complements nearly every style of house.

Beginning with the screen, the slats — cedar 1-by-1s or 1-by-2s—should be stained. A stain finish retains the wood's character and requires the least maintenance. Natural wood tones are the favorite and weather best. Soft gold and silver-green shades do well, too.

Crisp, tailored lines are needed for a courtyard wall, so set slats between top and bottom rails instead of face-nailing them. Then add a cap board for a strong shadow line at the top.

The center rail, needed for a tall screen, can be a flat 2-by-4 set to the outside. Or, in lieu of an actual rail, thin pieces of lath can be nail-laminated between the slats as a built-in center brace.

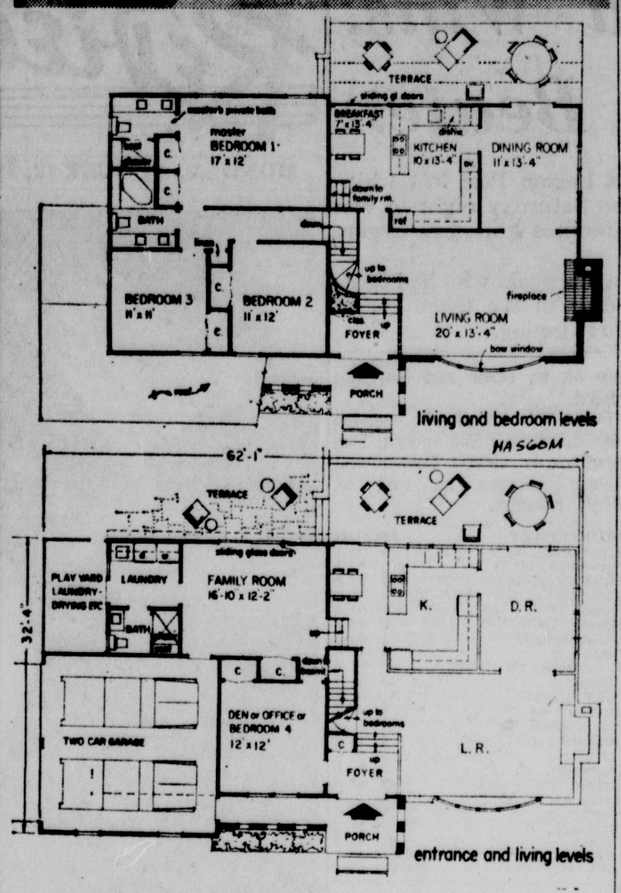
COURTYARD plantings should border both the screen and the house, leaving the center free for a deck or paving. Combine groundcovers like periwinkle, euonymous with shrubs like mahonia and Mexican orange. Tall accents can be supplied by corner groupings of bamboo or nandina, or with espaliers.

Generally, there's room for an accent tree, too, which, if set off center in the courtyard, can work as a sort of divider between an entrance area and a sitting room corner. Purple-leaf plum, vine maple, ghost tree and silk tree are good candidates.

In the corner, a low garden bench will give the area instant livability.



THE MULTI-LEVELS of Plan HA560M are tied together well by the exterior design. The lower foyer has direct access to a room that could be an office. Family room, laundry, bath and garage entrance are to the rear on the same level. The entire area could be used by a doctor or other professional man. Outdoor living is provided with a terrace; three doors open on it. The kitchen is a double L which provides a maximum of counter tops and cabinets. There are 1,579 square feet on the living and bedroom levels and 506 square feet on the family room level. Architect is Rudolph Matern, 89 E. Jericho Turnpike, Mineola, N. Y. 11501.

Maddox Eyes Attempt For Nomination

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Gov. Lester Maddox, a Democrat who supported Barry Goldwater in 1964 and says he likes Alabama's George C. Wallace this year, has announced he may make a bid for his party's presidential nomination.

Maddox said his candidacy would offer a choice among one conservative and three candidates he called Socialists.

"I have no intention of running as a favorite son," he added.

Maddox said Sunday he had not discussed the idea with national or state Democratic party officials, and had no idea what their reaction would be.

His decision, he added, could come "as late as the day of the convention. Or it could be tomorrow."

After losing several elections, including two for mayor, and a 1962 race for lieutenant governor, Maddox, defeated former Gov. Ellis G. Arnall for the Democratic nomination for governor in 1966.

He was elected governor in January 1967 by the Georgia General Assembly after neither he nor Republican Howard "Bo" Callaway received a majority of general election votes. Callaway outpolled Maddox by 3,039 votes.

Before his election, Maddox, 52, became known as the Atlanta restaurant owner who closed rather than comply with the 1964 Civil Rights Act to serve Negroes.

Maddox said the Democratic party nominees, including South Dakota Sen. George S. McGovern who announced Saturday, offer no choice.

Most Repair Materials Now Come In Tubes

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

Manufacturers of repair materials sold in small tubes are turning them out in such great variety that it is almost impossible to keep track of them.

A recent check of the inventory of a well-stocked hardware store made it evident that no matter what the repair or the nature of the substance, there is a product designed to correct the trouble. Among the items turned up, all in tubes, were:

Real rubber in semi - paste form. Originally developed for industrial use in the repair of worn conveyor belting, rubber hoses in chemical plants and similar factory objects, it is recommended for mending tents, canvas, rubber footwear, plastic swimming pools, raincoats, beach balls, inflatables, toys, garden hoses, loose handles and even leaks in water pipes.

STEEL, also of semi - paste consistency, seals, mends and caulks pipes, radiators, furniture, etc. Has the unusual quality, when hardened, of turning the color of copper, silver, brass or bronze when rubbed with one of those metals. For example, it is said to turn copper-color when rubbed with a penny.

A glass caulk that adheres to glass, metal, rubber, masonry and wood. Can be applied to storm and casement windows, flashing, roof vents, electrical insulation, windshields, vehicle headlights and taillights, etc.

A bathtub caulk that provides a flexible silicone seal that is waterproof when used around showers, bathtubs, sinks and other plumbing fixtures.

A fabric mender for making repairs to cottons, woolens, felt, canvas, nylon, corduroy, leather, auto upholstery, appliques, etc.

A MARINE sealant that adheres to fiber glass, regular glass, metals, wood and plastic, with the quality of being waterproof in either salt or fresh water.

A plastic adhesive for mending vinyl, acrylic, phenolic and other styrene plastics. Recommended by the manufacturer for plastic rainwear, appliances, swimming pools, inflatable toys, eyeglasses footwear, shower curtains, auto seat covers and model toys.

A waterproof, non - shrinking epoxy glue for use on porcelain and enamel bathtubs, sinks, refrigerators, stoves, lamps, toilet bowls, pot handles, etc. Dries to a white, shiny, porcelain-like finish.

And many varieties of plastic steel, plastic aluminum and plastic almost-everything-else.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. — How can I lengthen the life of a chenille or loop-pile scatter rug, and keep them flat at their corners?

A. — By dipping them into a light starch solution after washing. This will not only keep them attractive and serviceable much longer, but will make subsequent washings easier and will not detract from the textured appearance of the rugs.

Q. — How can I clean mineral deposits out of my steam-iron?

A. — Combine three tablespoons of vinegar with a half-cup of water, and put this mixture into your iron. Let the iron steam until empty.

Q. — What is a good rug-brightening treatment?

A. — Wring a cloth out of water, to which a cupful of vinegar and a half - teaspoon of ammonia have been added, and go over the rug with this. Usually brings out the colors beautifully.

Q. — How can I repair a button in which the eye section has been pulled out?

A. — Fill the hole with liquid cement, and when it reaches the almost - hard stage, take a needle and make new holes. Then, after the cement has dried thoroughly, sew the button back on its garment.

Q.—How can I drill a hole through glass?

A.—One suggested way is to use copper or brass tubing with sharp little notches filed into one end — then chuck this into your drill press. Use a rubber cushion under the glass and build a clay mound around the drilling area so as to keep turpentine and grain of carborundum or emery concentrated on the hole you are drilling. Start with easy pressure and when half through, drill from the side of the glass to finish.

Q. — How can I care properly for the rubber seal around my refrigerator door to avoid its becoming soft and gummy and losing some of its insulating property?

A. — By washing this seal about once a month, and sprinkling it with talcum powder when it is dry.

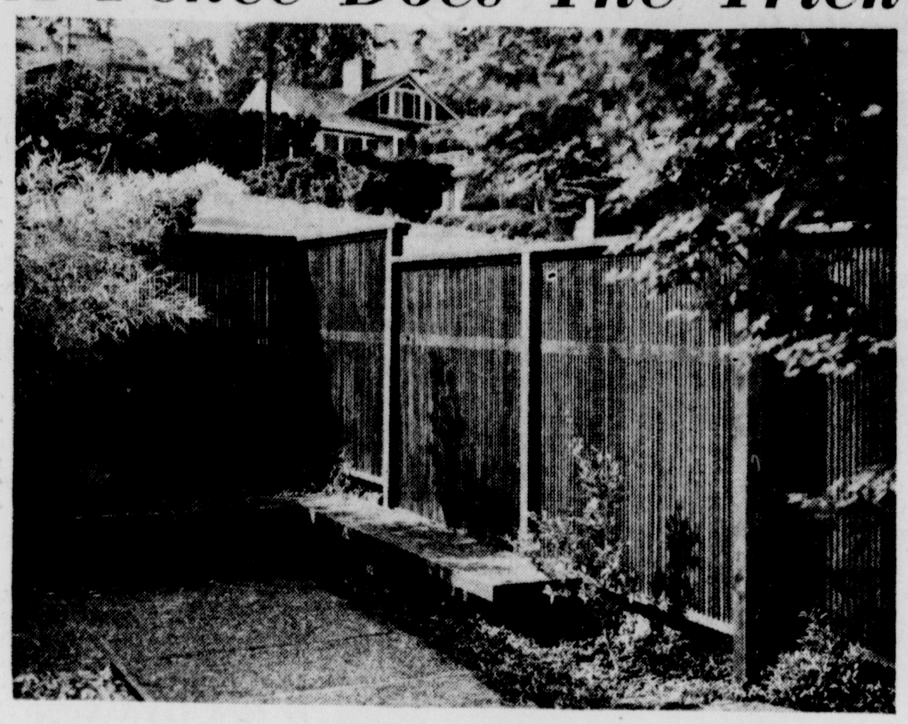
A Fence Does The Trick



For one reason or another, many homes are built close to the street, with only a narrow strip of yard left between house and roadway.

The arrangement pleases many modernists, however, who consider a front yard potentially waste space and prefer a super-size area at the rear. Yet the shallow front yard does create a privacy problem. Windows are fully exposed and traffic noise can reach fearful proportions.

—:—

ONE SOLUTION is obvious: a fence. Built right along the street's edge and to a height of six feet or more, even a light - scaled slat screen makes an effective sound buffer and instantly will restore privacy.

But the screen can do even more than that. It also can reclaim the front yard for living space, a courtyard in the Mediterranean tradition.

An informal, natural look pleases most Americans, though, and such a court complements nearly every style of house.

Beginning with the screen, the slats — cedar 1-by-1s or 1-by-2s—should be stained. A stain finish retains the wood's character and requires the least maintenance. Natural wood tones are the favorite and weather best. Soft gold and silver-green shades do well, too.

Crisp, tailored lines are needed for a courtyard wall, so set slats between top and bottom rails instead of face-nailing them. Then add a cap board for a strong shadow line at the top.

The center rail, needed for a tall screen, can be a flat 2-by-4 set to the outside. Or, in lieu of an actual rail, thin pieces of lath can be nail-laminated between the slats as a built-in center brace.

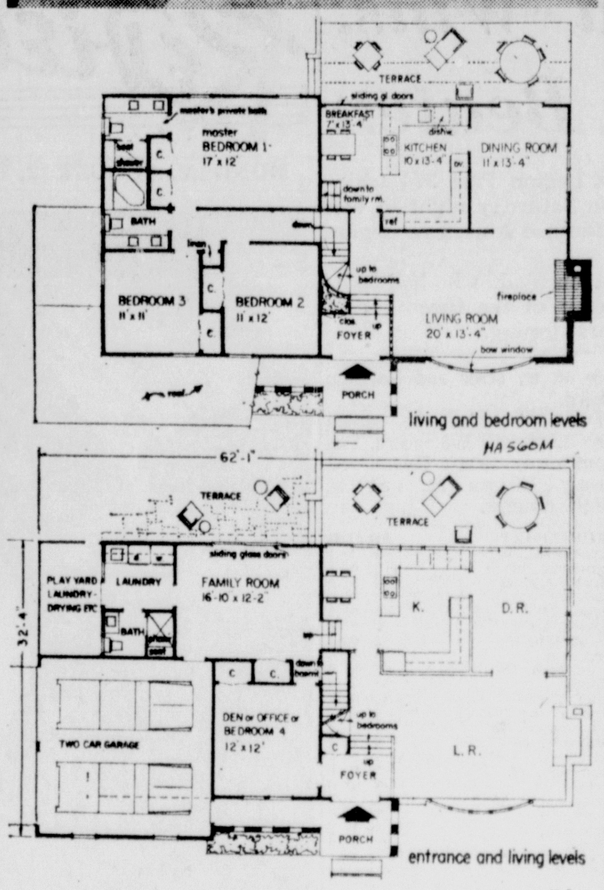
COURTYARD plantings should border both the screen and the house, leaving the center free for a deck or paving. Combine groundcovers like periwinkle, euonymous with shrubs like mahonia and Mexican orange. Tall accents can be supplied by corner groupings of bamboo or nandina, or with espaliers.

Generally, there's room for an accent tree, too, which, if set off center in the courtyard, can work as a sort of divider between an entrance area and a sitting room corner. Purple-leaf plum, vine maple, ghost tree and silk tree are good candidates.

In the corner, a low garden bench will give the area instant livability.



THE MULTI-LEVELS of Plan HA560M are tied together well by the exterior design. The lower foyer has direct access to a room that could be an office. Family room, laundry, bath and garage entrance are to the rear on the same level. The entire area could be used by a doctor or other professional man. Outdoor living is provided with a terrace; three doors open on it. The kitchen is a double L which provides a maximum of counter tops and cabinets. There are 1,579 square feet on the living and bedroom levels and 506 square feet on the family room level. Architect is Rudolph Matern, 89 E. Jericho Turnpike, Mineola, N. Y. 11501.

Maddox Eyes Attempt For Nomination

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Gov. Lester Maddox, a Democrat who supported Barry Goldwater in 1964 and says he likes Alabama's George C. Wallace this year, has announced he may make a bid for his party's presidential nomination.

Maddox said his candidacy would offer a choice among one conservative and three candidates he called Socialists.

"I have no intention of running as a favorite son," he added.

Maddox said Sunday he had not discussed the idea with national or state Democratic party officials, and had no idea what their reaction would be.

His decision, he added, could come "as late as the day of the convention. Or it could be tomorrow."

After losing several elections, including two for mayor, and a 1962 race for lieutenant governor, Maddox, defeated former Gov. Ellis G. Arnall for the Democratic nomination for governor in 1966.

He was elected governor in January 1967 by the Georgia General Assembly after neither he nor Republican Howard "Bo" Callaway received a majority of general election votes. Callaway outpolled Maddox by 3,039 votes.

Before his election, Maddox, 52, became known as the Atlanta restaurant owner who closed rather than comply with the 1964 Civil Rights Act to serve Negroes.

Maddox said the Democratic party nominees, including South Dakota Sen. George S. McGovern who announced Saturday, offer no choice.

Most Repair Materials Now Come In Tubes

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

Manufacturers of repair materials sold in small tubes are turning them out in such great variety that it is almost impossible to keep track of them.

A recent check of the inventory of a well-stocked hardware store made it evident that no matter what the repair or the nature of the substance, there is a product designed to correct the trouble. Among the items turned up, all in tubes, were:

Real rubber in semi - paste form. Originally developed for industrial use in the repair of worn conveyor belting, rubber hoses in chemical plants and similar factory objects, it is recommended for mending tents, canvas, rubber footwear, plastic swimming pools, raincoats, beach balls, inflatables, toys, garden hoses, loose handles and even leaks in water pipes.

STEEL, also of semi - paste consistency, seals, mends and caulks pipes, radiators, furniture, etc. Has the unusual quality, when hardened, of turning the color of copper, silver, brass or bronze when rubbed with one of those metals. For example, it is said to turn copper-color when rubbed with a penny.

A glass caulk that adheres to glass, metal, rubber, masonry and wood. Can be applied to storm and casement windows, flashing, roof vents, electrical insulation, windshields, vehicle headlights and taillights, etc.

A bathtub caulk that provides a flexible silicone seal that is waterproof when used around showers, bathtubs, sinks and other plumbing fixtures.

A fabric mender for making repairs to cottons, woolens, felt, canvas, nylon, corduroy, leather, auto upholstery, appliques, etc.

A MARINE sealant that adheres to fiber glass, regular glass, metals, wood and plastic, with the quality of being waterproof in either salt or fresh water.

A plastic adhesive for mending vinyl, acrylic, phenolic and other styrene plastics. Recommended by the manufacturer for plastic rainwear, appliances, swimming pools, inflatable toys, eyeglasses footwear, shower curtains, auto seat covers and model toys.

A waterproof, non - shrinking epoxy glue for use on porcelain and enamel bathtubs, sinks, refrigerators, stoves, lamps, toilet bowls, pot handles, etc. Dries to a white, shiny, porcelain-like finish.

And many varieties of plastic steel, plastic aluminum and plastic almost-everything-else.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. — How can I lengthen the life of a chenille or loop-pile scatter rug, and keep them flat at their corners?

A. — By dipping them into a light starch solution after washing. This will not only keep them attractive and serviceable much longer, but will make subsequent washings easier and will not detract from the textured appearance of the rugs.

Q. — How can I clean mineral deposits out of my steam-iron?

A. — Combine three tablespoons of vinegar with a half-cup of water, and put this mixture into your iron. Let the iron steam until empty.

Q. — What is a good rug-brightening treatment?

A. — Wring a cloth out of water, to which a cupful of vinegar and a half - teaspoon of ammonia have been added, and go over the rug with this. Usually brings out the colors beautifully.

Q. — How can I repair a button in which the eye section has been pulled out?

A. — Fill the hole with liquid cement, and when it reaches the almost - hard stage, take a needle and make new holes. Then, after the cement has dried thoroughly, sew the button back on its garment.

Q.—How can I drill a hole through glass?

A.—One suggested way is to use copper or brass tubing with sharp little notches filed into one end — then chuck this into your drill press. Use a rubber cushion under the glass and build a clay mound around the drilling area so as to keep turpentine and grain of carborundum or emery concentrated on the hole you are drilling. Start with easy pressure and when half through, drill from the side of the glass to finish.

Q. — How can I care properly for the rubber seal around my refrigerator door to avoid its becoming soft and gummy and losing some of its insulating property?

A. — By washing this seal about once a month, and sprinkling it with talcum powder when it is dry.

Sports Whirled

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

The American Golf Classic which concluded at Firestone Country Club in Akron yesterday was probably the most exciting tournament in the history of golf.

Anyone who watched the historic five-hole playoff on television is familiar with the ending. On the first extra hole unknown Lee Elder, who had played only in Negro tournaments prior to this year, sank a 30-foot putt for a birdie, watched Frank Beard miss a birdie chip shot by inches and then saw Jack Nicklaus sink a birdie putt of some 15 feet from the fringe.

On the second extra hole Elder was five feet from the pin in two and Nicklaus was in a trap, but the "Golden Bear" canned a 22-footer and Elder missed his short, tricky putt to prolong the match again. After two more holes halved in relatively unspectacular fashion Nicklaus sank an eight-foot birdie putt to win the match.

BUT PRIOR to the playoff there was more suspense than in most tournaments. Four men were tied for the lead after the front nine holes, and seven players came to the 18th with a chance to win or tie at par. Elder bogied to go to even par, and Don Bies, who early in the day was five under, and Bert Yancey bogied to miss the playoff. Beard needed a birdie to win outright. He was the last player to finish, and for the first time all day the huge gallery of 23,831, most of it around the 18th green, became absolutely silent. But Beard's putt for a birdie was short and he joined the playoff parade. Bob Stanton and Julius Boros needed birdies to get into the playoff, and both parred.

Nicklaus needed a birdie, and got one, from about 10 feet, after a humorous incident. A live bird, species undetermined, landed on the green before Jack putted, and while Bob Goalby tried to chase the bird away, Jack beckoned to it, knowing it was what he needed. The bird sat on the fringe of the green, while Jack's ball went into the cup.

WATCHING A golf tournament is different from watching any other sporting event, except maybe a track meet. The action is going on everywhere at once, and of course you can't see everybody all the time. A satisfactory, way to view a tournament is to stay at one hole on the first nine and see everybody and then move to a second-nine hole and see everyone again. Locations near "leader boards" which give the hole-by hole progress of the leaders, are at a premium.

Mason Rudolph caused a stir by having his name put up on the board after he had recorded five birdies in the first seven holes to go four-under for the day. But he had a bad second nine and ended with a 70. Word of mouth spreads through the galleries fast, so when someone said "Palmer went in the water at 16" it was a little less of a shock to see a big red eight go up as his score for the hole, knocking him out of contention.

There is a scorer on each hole, connected electrically to IBM headquarters, where all the statistics are tabulated as play progresses. There are also scorers who travel with each player. All the scorers are female, and were dressed in red-and white costumes for the American Classic. Their costumes included culottes, which also seemed to be a favorite type of attire with the surprisingly numerous female fans.

Most of the golfers wear brightly colored clothes to give the fans a chance to easily identify them, for one reason. Of course Doug Sanders is tops on the sartorial list, with an all-yellow outfit Saturday and an all-lavender ensemble Sunday, but Boros and Rives McBee had purple pants Saturday and others were hardly less colorful.

SOME PLAYERS have quite colorful personalities, also. Tops in this respect are Lee Trevino and Chi-Chi Rodriguez, who were paired yesterday. Both joke with the fans and do little dances, especially after a good shot. But they can be irritable at times, especially Rodriguez, who said when forced to wait on a tee, "Maybe they'll let us play through." Still waiting, a little later, he said, "We have time to go watch the ballgame on TV." When he finally did get to hit his shot was very poor.

The object of Chi-Chi's ire was Bruce Crampton, who never smiles and seems to be disliked by fans and fellow players alike. When it comes to slow play, however, no one can compete with Nicklaus. His threesome was 10 minutes getting to the 18th tee after the previous group had holed out both Saturday and Sunday.

Though Nicklaus plays slowly, he provided plenty of thrills Sunday, and despite rain and mosquitoes Saturday and sunburn and wind Sunday, the American Classic was a classic tournament.

East Nips West 7-6 In Big 33 Grid Game

By LARRY MARGASAK
Associated Press Sports Writer

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP) — It's frustrating enough to lose a football game on a blocked extra point, but it's twice as bad when there wasn't supposed to be a kick at all.

That's what happened Saturday night, as the East edged the West, 7-6, in a hard-hitting Big 33 battle before 20,000 at Hershey stadium.

The crucial play came in the second quarter, when the West, trailing 7-0, scored on a six-play 74-yard drive. West coach Lindy Lauro of New Castle planned to gamble for two points, and sent Herb Ellis of Beaver in with a play. But Ellis never made it.

"They lined up too quickly," said Lauro after the game, "and my man had to come off the field."

Instead, Hemfield Area's Gary Hellman tried an extra point, which was blocked by Jerry Giffin of Cedar Cliff.

Giffin not only blocked the kick that preserved the victory, but set up the winning touchdown with an alert defensive play.

A standout offensive performer during the season (56 receptions), Giffin tackled West punter Tom Menie, of Ebensburg Bishop Carroll, on the West four yard line shortly after the second period began. Two plays later the East scored on a two-yard bootleg by East quarterback Jim Jones of Harrisburg John Harris. Ed Tennis of Middletown kicked the extra point.

"Nobody hit me on the way in," Giffin said. "I don't usually try to block punts, but this time I was trying since they were so far back. I had a clear angle and went straight at him."

Musuraca Wins, Hornyak Beaten

East Liverpool American Legion Post 374 whipped Bridgeport 6-1 at Weirton Saturday night to win the Ohio Valley Athletic Conference American Legion League title.

Post 374 jumped on Allen Hornyak, who had beaten East Liverpool in the opener of the three games series, for three runs in the first inning.

Bob Bartram led off with a double and scored on a single by Danny Cunningham. Cunningham scored on a hit by Rex Campbell and Campbell came home on a grounder by Tom Chambers.

In the second Post 374 knocked out Hornyak. Bill Montgomery singled, Jim Musuraca tripled and Bartram singled, to make it 5-1.

Musuraca, after a shaky start, settled down to pitch a four - hitter. In the first he walked the bases full with only one out, but got out of the inning without a run scoring. In the second Piccin and Mroczowski singled and an error by leftfielder Montgomery on the latter's hit led to a run. After that Musuraca was in command.

Post 374's final run came in the sixth when Dan Myers was safe on an error and Bartram tripled.

Post 374 ended the season with an overall 25-8 record. The team was also Columbiana County champs as well as OVAC champs.

Gates Brown's Key Hits Give Tigers Two Wins

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

In this age of specialization, Detroit's Gates Brown has found his niche. His specialty is destroying the Boston Red Sox.

Brown did his thing twice Sunday as the Tigers stretched their American League lead to a fat seven games with a 5-4, 6-5 sweep over the Red Sox.

In the first game, Brown tagged a 14th inning pinch homer for the winning run. It was his fourth pinch hitting appearance against Boston this season and his third homer. The other time he only doubled.

In the nightcap, Detroit Manager Mayo Smith played unfairly, inserting Brown in the starting line-up. Sure enough, Gates delivered ninth inning single that climaxed a four-run rally and gave the Tigers the sweep.

For the season, Brown has seven hits in 10 swings against Boston. You might say the Red Sox' book on hims is somewhat incomplete.

Twins Top Yankees

Elsewhere, Minnesota walloped the New York Yankees 11-2, California rocked Baltimore 11-1, Oakland whipped Washington 8-3 and Cleveland swept a doubleheader from the Chicago White Sox 6-1 and 2-1.

Brown, who batted only 91 times last season and has been to the plate just 52 times this season, connected against reliever Lee Stange in the first game and made a winner of Mickey Lolich.

It was the second straight relief victory over the Red Sox for Lolich, who worked five scoreless innings.

Before Brown connected, Wayne Comer and Bill Freehan had homered, helping the Tigers wipe out Boston's early bulge. Joe Foy and Dalton Jones had tagged two-run homers for the Red Sox.

Two Reggie Smith homers had helped Boston to a 5-2 lead in the second game before the Tigers rallied in the ninth. Jim Price walked and moved up on Freehan's single. Then consecutive singles by Dick McAuliffe, Mickey Stanley and Al Kaline tied the score and set the stage for Brown, who singled the winner across through the drawn in infield.

Rick Reichardt drove in six runs with a bases-loaded triple and two singles as the Angels blitzed Baltimore.

Tom Satriano had five hits including a homer and two doubles and Vic Davalillo had four hits for the Angels. Jim McGlothlin rode the heavy support to his seventh victory.

Minnesota's Dean Chance had the same kind of hitting support with the Twins battering four Yankee pitchers for 16 hits. Rod Carew had four singles and Tony Oliva four runs batted in on a single and a three-run homer. Chance pitched a four-hitter for his 11th victory.

Nash Wins 10th

Dick Green, Reggi Jackson and Joe Keough all powered two-run homers to ease the Athletics past the Senators. Jim Nash allowed only one hit after the second inning and won his 10th game.

Stan Williams pitched a four-hitter and Russ Snyder's pinch single in the second inning drove in a pair of runs as the Indians took the first game from Chicago.

Cleveland completed the sweep with 6 2-3 innings of two-hit relief by Ed Fisher saving the second game. Fisher rescued Sam McDowell from a bases-loaded one-out jam in the third inning, using just two pitches to retire Ken Berry and Gerry McNertney, and held Chicago the rest of the way.

Cincinnati Can't Clip Vulture Regan's Wings

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Cincinnati Reds spent a long weekend trying to clip Phil Regan's wings, but neither bats nor fists could keep the Vulture from his appointed rounds.

Billy Williams' three-run inside-the-park homer in the 15th inning Sunday sent the Chicago Cubs past Cincinnati 8-5, giving relief ace Regan his second victory over the Reds in less than 24 hours.

But Regan, who has been preying on National League batters for three summers with Los Angeles and Chicago, had to work 7 2-3 innings—his longest stint since 1965 — before nailing the victory.

Saturday night the 31-year-old right-hander survived a two-run homer by Lee May and a scuffle with Pete Rose while subduing the Reds 8-5. Sunday he gave up a tying two-run homer to Johnny Bench in the eighth, then hurled six scoreless innings before giving way to a pinch hitter in the 15th.

Lamabe Mops Up

After Williams' second homer of the game broke a 5-5 deadlock, Jack Lamabe mopped up the Reds, preserving Regan's seventh straight victory and 10th in 12 decisions this year.

Los Angeles' Don Drysdale beat Philadelphia 1-0 for his eighth shutout; Felix Millan's five hits paced Atlanta to a 5-3 victory over first place St. Louis; San Francisco swept a twin bill from the New York Mets 2-1 and 5-0 behind southpaws Ray Sadecki and Mike McCormick, and Houston trimmed Pittsburgh 5-1 in other National League action.

Regan, nicknamed the Vulure three years ago while running up a 14-1 record in relief for the Dodgers, made his 52rd appearance of the season Sunday, rescuing Ken Holtzman from a seventh inning jam with the Cubs ahead 5-3. He was tagged for Bench's 10th homer after an error by Ron Santo in the eighth, then blanked the Reds giving two hits through the 14th.

Don Kessinger, who had five of the Cubs' 14 hits, and Glenn Beckert singled in the 15th before Williams hit his 19th homer —a drive down the right field line that eluded May's bid for a shoe-top catch and rolled to the fence.

Williams poled a two-run homer and Ernie Banks clubbed his 21st of the season in the sixth.

Regards sider—which opposing hitters suspect is akin to the spitball—made the Reds see red Saturday night. After May homered in the eighth, Regan hit Tony Perez with a pitch. Cincinnati's Clay Carroll nicked Regan with a pitch in the ninth and Rose took a swing at him after grounding out to end the game.

Nicklaus Wins Golf Classic 5-Hole Playoff Over Elder

By HAL PARIS
Associated Press Sports Writer

AKRON Ohio (AP) — When you're in a head-to-head duel with golfer Jack Nicklaus it's tough to come out on top.

Lee Elder, a 33-year-old 10-year pro playing his first season on the tour, will be the first to admit it.

"I gave it all I had but there isn't much you can do when you're up against the world's best," Elder said Sunday.

He made the observation after staging the battle of his life before losing on the fifth hole of a sudden death playoff in the $125,000 American Golf Classic.

The stirring struggle ended when Big Jack rolled in a 10-foot birdie putt to cop the $25,000 jackpot.

Nicklaus who now has won back-to-back tournaments after a victory drought that lasted 9½ months, looked like he was human after all when he was in the bunker with his second shot on the second hole.

But the blond belter, needing a 30-foot putt after he blasted out to match Elder's par, promptly drilled it home.

Elder, the 1963 Negro golfer of the year from Washington, D.C., could have wrapped it up on the 18th hole of regulation play but he hit into two bunkers and took a bogey five.

Nicklaus, who birdied No. 18 with an eight-footer, had to wait out the finish and said "All I want is a playoff."

Frank Beard joined Nicklaus and Elder in the three-way playoff but dropped out after the first hole when he wasted his first two shots and parred the hole.

All had 72-hole totals of 280, even par for the distance. Nicklaus had a final 69, while Elder and Beard posted 70s.

Third-round leader Don Beis, a part-time tour player from Seattle, and Bert Yancey both missed chances to force a five-way playoff when they bogeyed their final hole.

Beis, who set the course record Saturday with a hot six-under 64, soared to a 75 while Yancey shot a 71. They finished in a four-way tie at 281 with Bob Stanton and PGA champion Julius Boros.

Finishing at 282 were Bob Lunn, George Knudson and Art Wall while Gardner Dickinson, Ray Floyd and Rod Funseth closed at 283.

Arnold Palmer looked like he was ready to make one of his famous charges when he moved within one stroke of the lead with a birdie on No. 11. But the fabled pro bogeyed Nos. 13 and 14 and suffered an embarrassing triple bogey eight on the monster 16th when he put his third shot in the water, overshot the green and needed three to get down.

Palmer's 76 put him in a seven-way knot at 284 while halfway leader Bill Campbell, 1964 U.S. amateur king, skied to a 77 for a 285.

Sports Whirled

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

The American Golf Classic which concluded at Firestone Country Club in Akron yesterday was probably the most exciting tournament in the history of golf.

Anyone who watched the historic five-hole playoff on television is familiar with the ending. On the first extra hole unknown Lee Elder, who had played only in Negro tournaments prior to this year, sank a 30-foot putt for a birdie, watched Frank Beard miss a birdie chip shot by inches and then saw Jack Nicklaus sink a birdie putt of some 15 feet from the fringe.

On the second extra hole Elder was five feet from the pin in two and Nicklaus was in a trap, but the "Golden Bear" canned a 22-footer and Elder missed his short, tricky putt to prolong the match again. After two more holes halved in relatively unspectacular fashion Nicklaus sank an eight-foot birdie putt to win the match.

BUT PRIOR to the playoff there was more suspense than in most tournaments. Four men were tied for the lead after the front nine holes, and seven players came to the 18th with a chance to win or tie at par. Elder bogied to go to even par, and Don Bies, who early in the day was five under, and Bert Yancey bogied to miss the playoff. Beard needed a birdie to win outright. He was the last player to finish, and for the first time all day the huge gallery of 23,831, most of it around the 18th green, became absolutely silent. But Beard's putt for a birdie was short and he joined the playoff parade. Bob Stanton and Julius Boros needed birdies to get into the playoff, and both parred.

Nicklaus needed a birdie, and got one, from about 10 feet, after a humorous incident. A live bird, species undetermined, landed on the green before Jack putted, and while Bob Goalby tried to chase the bird away, Jack beckoned to it, knowing it was what he needed. The bird sat on the fringe of the green, while Jack's ball went into the cup.

WATCHING A golf tournament is different from watching any other sporting event, except maybe a track meet. The action is going on everywhere at once, and of course you can't see everybody all the time. A satisfactory, way to view a tournament is to stay at one hole on the first nine and see everybody and then move to a second-nine hole and see everyone again. Locations near "leader boards" which give the hole-by hole progress of the leaders, are at a premium.

Mason Rudolph caused a stir by having his name put up on the board after he had recorded five birdies in the first seven holes to go four-under for the day. But he had a bad second nine and ended with a 70. Word of mouth spreads through the galleries fast, so when someone said "Palmer went in the water at 16" it was a little less of a shock to see a big red eight go up as his score for the hole, knocking him out of contention.

There is a scorer on each hole, connected electrically to IBM headquarters, where all the statistics are tabulated as play progresses. There are also scorers who travel with each player. All the scorers are female, and were dressed in red-and white costumes for the American Classic. Their costumes included culottes, which also seemed to be a favorite type of attire with the surprisingly numerous female fans.

Most of the golfers wear brightly colored clothes to give the fans a chance to easily identify them, for one reason. Of course Doug Sanders is tops on the sartorial list, with an all-yellow outfit Saturday and an all-lavender ensemble Sunday, but Boros and Rives McBee had purple pants Saturday and others were hardly less colorful.

SOME PLAYERS have quite colorful personalities, also. Tops in this respect are Lee Trevino and Chi-Chi Rodriguez, who were paired yesterday. Both joke with the fans and do little dances, especially after a good shot. But they can be irritable at times, especially Rodriguez, who said when forced to wait on a tee, "Maybe they'll let us play through." Still waiting, a little later, he said, "We have time to go watch the ballgame on TV." When he finally did get to hit his shot was very poor.

The object of Chi-Chi's ire was Bruce Crampton, who never smiles and seems to be disliked by fans and fellow players alike. When it comes to slow play, however, no one can compete with Nicklaus. His threesome was 10 minutes getting to the 18th tee after the previous group had holed out both Saturday and Sunday.

Though Nicklaus plays slowly, he provided plenty of thrills Sunday, and despite rain and mosquitoes Saturday and sunburn and wind Sunday, the American Classic was a classic tournament.

East Nips West 7-6 In Big 33 Grid Game

By LARRY MARGASAK
Associated Press Sports Writer

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP) — It's frustrating enough to lose a football game on a blocked extra point, but it's twice as bad when there wasn't supposed to be a kick at all.

That's what happened Saturday night, as the East edged the West, 7-6, in a hard-hitting Big 33 battle before 20,000 at Hershey stadium.

The crucial play came in the second quarter, when the West, trailing 7-0, scored on a six-play 74-yard drive. West coach Lindy Lauro of New Castle planned to gamble for two points, and sent Herb Ellis of Beaver in with a play. But Ellis never made it.

"They lined up too quickly," said Lauro after the game, "and my man had to come off the field."

Instead, Hemfield Area's Gary Hellman tried an extra point, which was blocked by Jerry Giffin of Cedar Cliff.

Giffin not only blocked the kick that preserved the victory, but set up the winning touchdown with an alert defensive play.

A standout offensive performer during the season (56 receptions), Giffin tackled West punter Tom Menie, of Ebensburg Bishop Carroll, on the West four yard line shortly after the second period began. Two plays later the East scored on a two-yard bootleg by East quarterback Jim Jones of Harrisburg John Harris. Ed Tennis of Middletown kicked the extra point.

"Nobody hit me on the way in," Giffin said. "I don't usually try to block punts, but this time I was trying since they were so far back. I had a clear angle and went straight at him."

Musuraca Wins, Hornyak Beaten

East Liverpool American Legion Post 374 whipped Bridgeport 6-1 at Weirton Saturday night to win the Ohio Valley Athletic Conference American Legion League title.

Post 374 jumped on Allen Hornyak, who had beaten East Liverpool in the opener of the three games series, for three runs in the first inning.

Bob Bartram led off with a double and scored on a single by Danny Cunningham. Cunningham scored on a hit by Rex Campbell and Campbell came home on a grounder by Tom Chambers.

In the second Post 374 knocked out Hornyak. Bill Montgomery singled, Jim Musuraca tripled and Bartram singled, to make it 5-1.

Musuraca, after a shaky start, settled down to pitch a four - hitter. In the first he walked the bases full with only one out, but got out of the inning without a run scoring. In the second Piccin and Mroczowski singled and an error by left-fielder Montgomery on the latter's hit led to a run. After that Musuraca was in command.

Post 374's final run came in the sixth when Dan Myers was safe on an error and Bartram tripled.

Post 374 ended the season with an overall 25-8 record. The team was also Columbiana County champs as well as OVAC champs.

Indians Win Pair

Gates Brown's Key Hits Give Tigers Two Wins

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

In this age of specialization, Detroit's Gates Brown has found his niche. His specialty is destroying the Boston Red Sox.

Brown did his thing twice Sunday as the Tigers stretched their American League lead to a fat seven games with a 5-4, 6-5 sweep over the Red Sox.

In the first game, Brown tagged a 14th inning pinch homer for the winning run. It was his fourth pinch hitting appearance against Boston this season and his third homer. The other time he only doubled.

In the nightcap, Detroit Manager Mayo Smith played unfairly, inserting Brown in the starting line-up. Sure enough, Gates delivered ninth inning single that climaxed a four-run rally and gave the Tigers the sweep.

For the season, Brown has seven hits in 10 swings against Boston. You might say the Red Sox' book on hims is somewhat incomplete.

Twins Top Yankees

Elsewhere, Minnesota walloped the New York Yankees 11-2, California rocked Baltimore 11-1, Oakland whipped Washington 8-3 and Cleveland swept a doubleheader from the Chicago White Sox 6-1 and 2-1.

Brown, who batted only 91 times last season and has been to the plate just 52 times this season, connected against reliever Lee Stange in the first game and made a winner of Mickey Lolich.

It was the second straight relief victory over the Red Sox for Lolich, who worked five scoreless innings.

Before Brown connected, Wayne Comer and Bill Freehan had homered, helping the Tigers wipe out Boston's early bulge. Joe Foy and Dalton Jones had tagged two-run homers for the Red Sox.

Two Reggie Smith homers had helped Boston to a 5-2 lead in the second game before the Tigers rallied in the ninth. Jim Price walked and moved up on Freehan's single. Then consecutive singles by Dick McAuliffe, Mickey Stanley and Al Kaline tied the score and set the stage for Brown, who singled the winner across through the drawn in infield.

Rick Reichardt drove in six runs with a bases-loaded triple and two singles as the Angels blitzed Baltimore.

Tom Satriano had five hits including a homer and two doubles and Vic Davalillo had four hits for the Angels. Jim McGlothlin rode the heavy support to his seventh victory.

Minnesota's Dean Chance had the same kind of hitting support with the Twins battering four Yankee pitchers for 16 hits. Rod Carew had four singles and Tony Oliva four runs batted in on a single and a three-run homer. Chance pitched a four-hitter for his 11th victory.

Nash Wins 10th

Dick Green, Reggi Jackson and Joe Keough all powered two-run homers to ease the Athletics past the Senators. Jim Nash allowed only one hit after the second inning and won his 10th game.

Stan Williams pitched a four-hitter and Russ Snyder's pinch single in the second inning drove in a pair of runs as the Indians took the first game from Chicago.

Cleveland completed the sweep with 6 2-3 innings of two-hit relief by Ed Fisher saving the second game. Fisher rescued Sam McDowell from a bases-loaded one-out jam in the third inning, using just two pitches to retire Ken Berry and Gerry McNertney, and held Chicago the rest of the way.

Cincinnati Can't Clip Vulture Regan's Wings

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Cincinnati Reds spent a long weekend trying to clip Phil Regan's wings, but neither bats nor fists could keep the Vulture from his appointed rounds.

Billy Williams' three-run inside-the-park homer in the 15th inning Sunday sent the Chicago Cubs past Cincinnati 8-5, giving relief ace Regan his second victory over the Reds in less than 24 hours.

But Regan, who has been preying on National League batters for three summers with Los Angeles and Chicago, had to work 7 2-3 innings—his longest stint since 1965 — before nailing the victory.

Saturday night the 31-year-old right-hander survived a two-run homer by Lee May and a scuffle with Pete Rose while subduing the Reds 8-5. Sunday he gave up a tying two-run homer to Johnny Bench in the eighth, then hurled six scoreless innings before giving way to a pinch hitter in the 15th.

Lamabe Mops Up

After Williams' second homer of the game broke a 5-5 deadlock, Jack Lamabe mopped up the Reds, preserving Regan's seventh straight victory and 10th in 12 decisions this year.

Los Angeles' Don Drysdale beat Philadelphia 1-0 for his eighth shutout; Felix Millan's five hits paced Atlanta to a 5-3 victory over first place St. Louis; San Francisco swept a twin bill from the New York Mets 2-1 and 5-0 behind southpaws Ray Sadecki and Mike McCormick, and Houston trimmed Pittsburgh 5-1 in other National League action.

Regan, nicknamed the Vulture three years ago while running up a 14-1 record in relief for the Dodgers, made his 52rd appearance of the season Sunday, rescuing Ken Holtzman from a seventh inning jam with the Cubs ahead 5-3. He was tagged for Bench's 10th homer after an error by Ron Santo in the eighth, then blanked the Reds giving two hits through the 14th.

Don Kessinger, who had five of the Cubs' 14 hits, and Glenn Beckert singled in the 15th before Williams hit his 19th homer —a drive down the right field line that eluded May's bid for a shoe-top catch and rolled to the fence.

Williams poled a two-run homer and Ernie Banks clubbed his 21st of the season in the sixth.

Regards sider—which opposing hitters suspect is akin to the spitball—made the Reds see red Saturday night. After May homered in the eighth, Regan hit Tony Perez with a pitch. Cincinnati's Clay Carroll nicked Regan with a pitch in the ninth and Rose took a swing at him after grounding out to end the game.

Nicklaus Wins Golf Classic 5-Hole Playoff Over Elder

By HAL PARIS
Associated Press Sports Writer

AKRON Ohio (AP) — When you're in a head-to-head duel with golfer Jack Nicklaus it's tough to come out on top.

Lee Elder, a 33-year-old 10-year pro playing his first season on the tour, will be the first to admit it.

"I gave it all I had but there isn't much you can do when you're up against the world's best," Elder said Sunday.

He made the observation after staging the battle of his life before losing on the fifth hole of a sudden death playoff in the $125,000 American Golf Classic.

The stirring struggle ended when Big Jack rolled in a 10-foot birdie putt to cop the $25,000 jackpot.

Nicklaus who now has won back-to-back tournaments after a victory drought that lasted 9½ months, looked like he was human after all when he was in the bunker with his second shot on the second hole.

But the blond belter, needing a 30-foot putt after he blasted out to match Elder's par, promptly drilled it home.

Elder, the 1963 Negro golfer of the year from Washington, D.C., could have wrapped it up on the 18th hole of regulation play but he hit into two bunkers and took a bogey five.

Nicklaus, who birdied No. 18 with an eight-footer, had to wait out the finish and said "All I want is a playoff."

Frank Beard joined Nicklaus and Elder in the three-way playoff but dropped out after the first hole when he wasted his first two shots and parred the hole.

All had 72-hole totals of 280, even par for the distance. Nicklaus had a final 69, while Elder and Beard posted 70s.

Third-round leader Don Beis, a part-time tour player from Seattle, and Bert Yancey both missed chances to force a five-way playoff when they bogeyed their final hole.

Beis, who set the course record Saturday with a hot six-under 64, soared to a 75 while Yancey shot a 71. They finished in a four-way tie at 281 with Bob Stanton and PGA champion Julius Boros.

Finishing at 282 were Bob Lunn, George Knudson and Art Wall while Gardner Dickinson, Ray Floyd and Rod Funseth closed at 283.

Arnold Palmer looked like he was ready to make one of his famous charges when he moved within one stroke of the lead with a birdie on No. 11. But the fabled pro bogeyed Nos. 13 and 14 and suffered an embarrassing triple bogey eight on the monster 16th when he put his third shot in the water, overshot the green and needed three to get down.

Palmer's 76 put him in a seven-way knot at 284 while halfway leader Bill Campbell, 1964 U.S. amateur king, skied to a 77 for a 285.

Quetot, Gary Ring and Dan Flasco had two hits each to lead Chester. Stevens and Morehead had two hits each for Wellsville.

Bob Kinsey Wins ELCC Putt Title

Bob Kinsey defeated Bob Bowersock to win the men's putting championship at the East Liverpool Country Club Staurday night.

Bill Brokaw downed Dr. Roland Stoner to win the second division. R. J. Clark and Ron Kinsey were medalists with 36 putts on the 18 holes.

Mrs. Rick Crable, the defending champion, beat Mrs. D. E. Beatty to win the ladies putting title. Mrs. Andrew Patrick was medalist with 39 putts.

In selective nine holes played Saturday James E. Laughlin, Bob Patterson and C. W. Brokaw tied with 32s and W. F. Porter also had a 32 to win the second division.

Ladies day will be tomorrow instead of Wednesday this week. There is a blind bogey event scheduled.

George I, who ruled England from 1714 to 1727, could not speak English. Born a German prince, he never attempted to learn English.

Norm Snead Breaks Leg; Csonka Stars For Miami

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

A black cloud hovered over the head of Joe Kuharich today and it will be some time before it leaves, but all is sunny for George Wilson, who sees even brighter skies ahead.

"I'm just a jinxed coach," moaned Kuharich, whose Philadelphia Eagles lost a National Football League exhibition to Detroit 20-3 Sunday and their No. 1 quarterback Norm Snead to a broken leg.

"The black clouds are right over the top of us. (But) we can't jeopardize Snead's future. I personally won't push him . . . I'll go for the maximum knitting period."

Coach Wilson, on the other hand, was beaming after his Miami Dolphins tied Buffalo 28-28 in an American League contest and All-American fullback Larry Csonka climaxed his pro debut by scoring the tying touchdown in the final period.

"He made a few mistakes, but —and that's a big but—wait a few more weeks," Wilson said. "He'll really shake them up."

In Sunday's other pre-season game, Mike Clark kicked his third field goal of the game midway through the final period to give the Dallas Cowboys a 16-14 edge over San Francisco in the NFL.

On Saturday night in the NFL, the New York Giants shocked Green Bay 15-14 on Fran Tarkenton's four-yard touchdown pass to Joe Morrison with 14 seconds remaining; Charley Gogolak's 45-yard field goal with 16 seconds left gave Washington a 16-14 decision over Atlanta, and Baltimore blanked Chicago 10-0 on a Johnny Unitas touchdown pass and Lou Michaels' field goal.

In the AFL, Bob Humphreys booted a 33-yard field goal with five seconds left for Denver's 15-13 victory over Cincinnati, and Oakland bombed San Diego 31-7 as Daryle Lamonica hurled two scoring passes.

In interleague play, Bill Kilmer passed New Orleans of the NFL by Boston 19-0, and Kansas City of the AFL stopped Minnesota 13-10 on Jan Stenerud's 15-yard field goal with 47 seconds remaining.

The New York Jets play at Houston in an AFL game tonight.

was intercepted and Snead tried to tackle Lem Barney, the interceptor. He is expected to be out at least 12 weeks.

The Lions turned the interception into a seven-yard scoring run by Mel Farr, later added a 33-yard Jerry DePoyster field goal and finally rookie Greg Barton's 26-yard touchdown pass to Bill Malinchak after another Barney interception.

Veteran King Hill took over for Snead and couldn't move the club, and then castoff John Huarte tried and failed.

The game was scheduled for Mexico City, but a last minute cancellation brought it to Philadelphia.

Csonka, who reported to Miami late because of the College All-Star game, started slow against Buffalo. But with Buffalo leading 28-21, he ran for 17 yards, took a 21-yard pass from Bob Griese, bulled for six more yards and finally grabbed a six-yard toss from Griese for the tying score.

He finished with 31 yards in six carries and two pass receptions.

Miami missed a chance to win in the final seconds when Jim Keyes missed a field goal try from the 17.

San Francisco took a 14-10 lead into the final period, but sub quarterback Jerry Rhome led Dallas into position for Clark's 28-yard field goal with 10:34 left. When the 49ers fumbled the following kickoff, Dallas recovered and Clark wrapped it up from the 26.

Ryun Gets Over Mono, Runs Mile In 3:55.9

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

WALNUT, Calif. (AP)—America's world record miler Jim Ryun has won his battle against the strength-sapping blood disease mononucleosis and will be ready for the Olympics.

In his first competitive mile race since being stopped by the ailment this spring, the 20-year-old Kansas star sped to a timing of 3 minutes 55.9 seconds to win the pre-Olympic meet at Mt. San Antonio on Saturday.

Under pressure from Roscoe Divine of Oregon, Ryun flashed the final quarter mile in 55.1 seconds after running the first three relatively slowly.

Also flashing comeback form at the Mt. San Antonio gathering of Olympic hopefuls was Billy Mills, the Marine of 1964 who surprisingly won the gold medal at 10,000 meters, proving Uncle Sam is no longer backward in distance events.

Suffering from a back ailment, Mills had to drop out of the AAU meet after running about 2½ miles of the grueling test covering six miles 360 yards.

Like Ryun, Billy missed the Olympic trials and went to Flagstaff for workouts to put himself back in shape for a final try. In the proving race here, he set his own pace and ran his own race.

"It was so lonesome, I was bored," he commented after running the fastest 10,000 meters in the United States this year—28:43.6.

Many of the standouts, including pole vaulter Bob Seagren, long jumper Bob Beamon and sprinters Tommie Smith and Charlie Greene, decided to skip the meet and this was their prerogative

Still there were many fine showings, including a 17-5 pole vault by John Vaughn, who missed trying for a record 17-8½, a 13:38.8 by George Young at 5,000 meters and a pair of 10.2's by Ronnie Ray Smith and and Mel Pender in winning their sections of the 100 meter dash.

Englehorn Leading Concord Open

KIAMESHA LAKE, N.Y. (AP) — Shirley Englehorn of Caldwell, Idaho, honored last year for making a comeback after an auto accident, is coming back again.

The 28-year-old brunette entered today's final round of the $28,500 Concord Open on the Ladies Professional Golfer's Association tour with a two-stroke lead.

Playing in only her second tournament after surgery to remove a pin placed in her left ankle in 1965 to repair a broken bone suffered in an auto accident, Miss Englehorn fired a one-under-par 76 for a 153 in the 54-hole tourney, richest on the tour. The winner collects $4,275.

Sandra Haynie of Dallas, the first round leader, soared to an 81 in gusty winds of up to 20 miles per hour and tied for second with Sharon Miller of Marshall, Mich., who had a 76.

Softball Exhibition Scheduled

The County Softball League tournament at Lisbon, scheduled to begin today, has been postponed until next week.

The schedule of the seven-team tournament has not yet been announced. The league all-star game, against champion Toot Trucking, will be played Aug. 24.

Tomorrow night at 7 at Pine Tree Inn Field the top two teams, Toots and East Liverpool Merchants, will engage in an exhibition game.

Norm Snead Breaks Leg; Csonka Stars For Miami

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

A black cloud hovered over the head of Joe Kuharich today and it will be some time before it leaves, but all is sunny for George Wilson, who sees even brighter skies ahead.

"I'm just a jinxed coach," moaned Kuharich, whose Philadelphia Eagles lost a National Football League exhibition to Detroit 20-3 Sunday and their No. 1 quarterback Norm Snead to a broken leg.

"The black clouds are right over the top of us. (But) we can't jeopardize Snead's future. I personally won't push him . . . I'll go for the maximum knitting period."

Coach Wilson, on the other hand, was beaming after his Miami Dolphins tied Buffalo 28-28 in an American League contest and All-American fullback Larry Csonka climaxed his pro debut by scoring the tying touchdown in the final period.

"He made a few mistakes, but —and that's a big but—wait a few more weeks," Wilson said. "He'll really shake them up."

In Sunday's other pre-season game, Mike Clark kicked his third field goal of the game midway through the final period to give the Dallas Cowboys a 16-14 edge over San Francisco in the NFL.

On Saturday night in the NFL, the New York Giants shocked Green Bay 15-14 on Fran Tarkenton's four-yard touchdown pass to Joe Morrison with 14 seconds remaining; Charley Gogolak's 45-yard field goal with 16 seconds left gave Washington a 16-14 decision over Atlanta, and Baltimore blanked Chicago 10-0 on a Johnny Unitas touchdown pass and Lou Michaels' field goal.

In the AFL, Bob Humphreys booted a 33-yard field goal with five seconds left for Denver's 15-13 victory over Cincinnati, and Oakland bombed San Diego 31-7 as Daryle Lamonica hurled two scoring passes.

In interleague play, Bill Kilmer passed New Orleans of the NFL by Boston 19-0, and Kansas City of the AFL stopped Minnesota 13-10 on Jan Stenerud's 15-yard field goal with 47 seconds remaining.

The New York Jets play at Houston in an AFL game tonight.

was intercepted and Snead tried to tackle Lem Barney, the interceptor. He is expected to be out at least 12 weeks.

The Lions turned the interception into a seven-yard scoring run by Mel Farr, later added a 33-yard Jerry DePoyster field goal and finally rookie Greg Barton's 26-yard touchdown pass to Bill Malinchak after another Barney interception.

Veteran King Hill took over for Snead and couldn't move the club, and then castoff John Huarte tried and failed.

The game was scheduled for Mexico City, but a last minute cancellation brought it to Philadelphia.

Csonka, who reported to Miami late because of the College All-Star game, started slow against Buffalo. But with Buffalo leading 28-21, he ran for 17 yards, took a 21-yard pass from Bob Griese, bulled for six more yards and finally grabbed a six-yard toss from Griese for the tying score.

He finished with 31 yards in six carries and two pass receptions.

Miami missed a chance to win in the final seconds when Jim Keyes missed a field goal try from the 17.

San Francisco took a 14-10 lead into the final period, but sub quarterback Jerry Rhome led Dallas into position for Clark's 28-yard field goal with 10:34 left. When the 49ers fumbled the following kickoff, Dallas recovered and Clark wrapped it up from the 26.

Ryun Gets Over Mono, Runs Mile In 3:55.9

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

WALNUT, Calif. (AP)—America's world record miler Jim Ryun has won his battle against the strength-sapping blood disease mononucleosis and will be ready for the Olympics.

In his first competitive mile race since being stopped by the ailment this spring, the 20-year-old Kansas star sped to a timing of 3 minutes 55.9 seconds to win the pre-Olympic meet at Mt. San Antonio on Saturday.

Under pressure from Roscoe Divine of Oregon, Ryun flashed the final quarter mile in 55.1 seconds after running the first three relatively slowly.

Also flashing comeback form at the Mt. San Antonio gathering of Olympic hopefuls was Billy Mills, the Marine of 1964 who surprisingly won the gold medal at 10,000 meters, proving Uncle Sam is no longer backward in distance events.

Suffering from a back ailment, Mills had to drop out of the AAU meet after running about 2½ miles of the grueling test covering six miles 360 yards.

Like Ryun, Billy missed the Olympic trials and went to Flagstaff for workouts to put himself back in shape for a final try. In the proving race here, he set his own pace and ran his own race.

"It was so lonesome, I was bored," he commented after running the fastest 10,000 meters in the United States this year—28:43.6.

Many of the standouts, including pole vaulter Bob Seagren, long jumper Bob Beamon and sprinters Tommie Smith and Charlie Greene, decided to skip the meet and this was their prerogative

Still there were many fine showings, including a 17-5 pole vault by John Vaughn, who missed trying for a record 17-8½, a 13:38.8 by George Young at 5,000 meters and a pair of 10.2's by Ronnie Ray Smith and and Mel Pender in winning their sections of the 100 meter dash.

Englehorn Leading Concord Open

KIAMESHA LAKE, N.Y. (AP) — Shirley Englehorn of Caldwell, Idaho, honored last year for making a comeback after an auto accident, is coming back again.

The 28-year-old brunette entered today's final round of the $28,500 Concord Open on the Ladies Professional Golfer's Association tour with a two-stroke lead.

Playing in only her second tournament after surgery to remove a pin placed in her left ankle in 1965 to repair a broken bone suffered in an auto accident, Miss Englehorn fired a one-under-par 76 for a 153 in the 54-hole tourney, richest on the tour. The winner collects $4,275.

Sandra Haynie of Dallas, the first round leader, soared to an 81 in gusty winds of up to 20 miles per hour and tied for second with Sharon Miller of Marshall, Mich., who had a 76.

Softball Exhibition Scheduled

The County Softball League tournament at Lisbon, scheduled to begin today, has been postponed until next week.

The schedule of the seven-team tournament has not yet been announced. The league all-star game, against champion Toot Trucking, will be played Aug. 24.

Tomorrow night at 7 at Pine Tree Inn Field the top two teams, Toots and East Liverpool Merchants, will engage in an exhibition game.

The sun and the moon cause tides on earth by acting like huge magnets pulling the earth toward them. Although the solid land is not visibly affected, the water takes a new shape because of the pull.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Doris Day Loves New TV Duties

It's a warm, family show. You can call it corn, but I love it," says Doris Day of her new series coming up on CBS next month, marking just about her first time on TV outside of movies.

Hal Humphrey

"I was the mystery guest on "What's My Line?" twice. and that was it," she recalls.

At 44 she looks hardly any older than when she graduated from being a band singer into her first movie 21 years ago. She's lost count of the number of Doris Day movies since then. Two more are out this month ("With Six You Get Egg Roll" and "Where Were You When the Lights Went Out?").

-:-

She's one of the very few veteran movie stars left who hasn't done TV. To the question of why now, she simply says, "When it's time, you just do it."

With the movies dealing today in less sham and more basic sex fundamentals, there aren't so many "Doris Day parts" around, and she feels strongly about the type she's played all these years and doesn't want to change it.

"Marlon Brando isn't any one thing. He can be a hero or a heavy robbing a bank, but if I saw Jimmy Stewart or the late Gary Cooper doing that, I think I'd cry because I feel as if I really knew them. Well, I think people feel that way about me, too, and expect me to be a certain way," she explains.

So, the Doris Day of the Doris Day TV show will be the same one her millions of fans expect to see, and that's the way she wants it.

In the series she's a widow with two boys about 6 and 8 (Todd Starke and Philip Brown) and has moved from the big city to her father's ranch in an effort to adjust the boys to a fatherless home.

Doris' own husband, Martin Melcher, who was her manager and was to be executive producer of the TV saries, died suddenly last April, and for awhile she didn't think she could do the series. After a four-week delay, her son Terry (he's 26) convinced her for her own sake that a deal was a deal.

"I knew then I had to do it and, looking back, it came to me how right the whole thing must have been. I had to be busy, and now I love it," she says.

SERIES PRODUCERS Dick Dorso and Bob Sweeney had 20 scripts ready, so even though production is behind schedule, they expect to have 10 episodes completed when they go on the air.

"She's magic," says Dorso of his star, "and gives you so much on the set. As for the series, there's a little moral in each episode, and Doris, like she always is, is on the side of the angels."

Doris, who keeps physically fit ("I was jogging before it was considered 'in' "), says she doesn't mind the TV pace of shooting a show a week with one day rehearsal ("I never was a big rehearser").

-:-

BETWEEN SCENES she relaxes with her four poodles in a comfortable trailer surrounded by a white picket fence, on the set. A chauffeur-driven limousine transports her to and from work, but around the neighborhood where she lives, Doris still rides a bicycle.

She insists she's not nervous about the coming premiere of the show. If it's a hit, she'll be happy for herself and the others involved, and if it isn't?

"I don't think about its not going. That would be just a dumb, stupid thing to think about. Anyway, whether the show goes or not is not my life," Doris adds philosophically, and I had the feeling that she really meant it.

ORDINANCE NO. 52
AN EMERGENCY ORDINANCE ENACTED BY THE CITY OF EAST LIVERPOOL.

WHEREAS, the Council of the City of East Liverpool, Columbiana County, Ohio on October 29, 1962 passed Ordinance No. 38-1962 providing for the improvement of a portion of St. Clair Avenue extending from Princeton Avenue to the North Corporation line, under the supervision of the Director of Highways of the State of Ohio, and

WHEREAS, Section V of said ordinance provided for maintenance and regulation of the improvement as follows:

"That upon completion of said improvement, said City will thereafter,

(a) Keep said highway open to traffic at all times; and

(b) Regulate parking in the following manner:

Directional traffic will be enforced with two lanes inbound and one lane out - bound from 6:00 A.M., to 9:00 A. M., and two lanes outbound and one lane in-bound from 3:00 P.M. to 6:00 P.M. During these two periods no parking will be permitted. At all other hours, parallel parking only will be permitted on the west side of the street."

WHEREAS, operation of traffic on the highway in accordance with the provisions of said Section V has proven to be impractical and more hazardous than the operation of the highway as a two lane facility because of existing adjoining two lane sections of highway, and

WHEREAS, it is the desire of the City of East Liverpool and the said Director of Highways that Ordinance No. 38-1962 be modified to permit the operation of said portion of St. Clair Avenue as a two (2) lane facility until proposed improvements of the adjoining portions of the highway have been constructed and opened to traffic.

NOW THEREFORE, Be it ordained by the Council of the City of East Liverpool, Ohio:

SECTION 1.

That SECTION V. of Ordinance No. 38-1962 passed October 29, 1962 is hereby modified to read as follows:

(b) Regulate parking and traffic in the following manner:

(1) The improvement shall be operated as a two (2) lane facility, on an interim basis, until such time as connecting improvements to the south and north are constructed and placed in service and the traffic capacity of the improvement thereby extended.

(2) That parking be prohibited on both the west and east sides of the pavement throughout for 24 hours per day.

(3) That the pavement be suitably centerlined and otherwise signed and marked, for two (2) lane operation, in conformance with the Ohio Manual of Uniform Traffic Control Devices in compliance with the provisions of Section 4511.11 of the Ohio Revised Code."

SECTION II.

That upon completion and opening to traffic of proposed connecting improvements to the south and north, the provisions of this ordinance shall become null and void, and parking and traffic regulations as set forth in SECTION V of Ordinance No. 38-62 shall be reinstated and placed in effect in accordance with the original intent and provisions of said SECTION V.

SECTION III.

That all other sections of Ordinance No. 38-62 shall remain in force and effect.

SECTION IV. (Emergency Clause)

This ordinance is hereby declared to be an emergency measure by reason of the need for expediting highway improvements to promote highway safety, and provided it receives the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the members elected to Council, it shall take effect and be in force immediately upon its passage and approval by the Mayor; otherwise, it shall take effect and be in force from and after the earliest period allowed by law.

Vote on suspension of the rule requiring an ordinance to be fully and distinctly read on three different days:

Rips GOP Ticket

Jackie Robinson Turns Back On Nixon Campaign

NEW YORK (AP) — Jackie Robinson, quitting as an aide to Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, says he'll back any Democrat again tRichard M. Nixon. His turnabout highlights the expressed unhappiness of some Negro Republicans with the GOP ticket.

Robinson, 49, who broke the color line in major league baseball, said Sunday that Nixon heads a ticket that is "racist in nature" and that the former vice president "has prostituted himself and sold himself out to the bigots in the South."

By selecting Maryland Gov. Spiro T. Agnew as his running mate, Robinson said, Nixon has handed over control of the party to the Southerners.

The former Brooklyn Dodgers great, who was elected to baseball's Hall of Fame in 1962, declared, "I intend . . . to support the Democratic nominee, and pray to God that every black man and every minority in this country does the same thing," adding:

"I'm a black man first, an American second and then I will support a political party—third."

Dissatisfaction with his own party was expressed by one Negro delegate to the GOP convention in Miami Beach, Fla., who commented at a private meeting, "The black voter has generaly been disenchanted with the Rpublican party for so long that, in order for the GOP to recapture any significant numbers of blacks, they will have to offer far more than they have to date."

Negro Republican resentment against the GOP ticket sometimes centered about the selection of Agnew.

William O. Walker, an alternate delegate from Cleveland, said of Agnew: "The thing that disturbs me is how his selection was brought about. This was done by Nixon selling out to South Carolina Sen. Strom Thurmond."

Wendell G. Freeland, an alternate from Pittsburgh, termed the choice of Agnew "a horrible mistake."

Barrington Parker, a delegate from Washington, D.C. said the Nixon-Agnew ticket "isn't going to have any appeal in the District."

Archie Jones, a Negro delegate from Baltimore, said the nomination of Agnew "will not help the ticket."

Mrs. Carolyn Hill Stewart of West Virginia said that GOP political personalities were not attracting enough young Negroes to the party.

Citing young Negro workers for the presidential candidaces of the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy and for Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, both Democrats, she asked: "But who have we got that they're going to do that for—excep maybe New York Mayor John Lindsay?"

But other Negroes expressed support for the party and the Nixon-Agnew slate.

Chester K. Gillespie, GOP delegate from Ohio, has urged Negroes to stay within the Republican party "and fight for what is right." He said "it is stupid for all Negroes to be Democrats."

Alvin W. Dyson, an alternate from Richmond, Va., said: "We can live with the ticket and work with it."

Agnew, Dyson said, has kept "lines of communication open to Negro leaders in Maryland."

In 1964, Robinson stumped for Rockefeller's bid for the GOP presidential nomination. He refused to endorse the candidacy of Barry Goldwater and campaigned for President Johnson.

Robinson, who campaigned for Nixon in 1960, said he did so because Nixon's stand on civil rights then was "forthright."

His disappointment over the failure of his party to name Rockefeller as the presidential standard-bearer was a decisive factor in his move, Robinson said.

Personalities In The News

NEW YORK (AP) — Gus Papolupolus, proprietor of an eating place in Coney Island, has named a sandwich in honor of Gov. Spiro T. Agnew of Maryland, the Republican vice presidential nominee whose parents were born in Greece.

Papolupolus said Sunday the Agnew hero sandwich consists of fried Greek peppers, goat's cheese, loukaniko sausage, boiled ham, lettuce and spices —on Italian bread.

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — Mrs. Lynda Bird Robb, elder daughter of President and Mrs. Johnson, spent part of Sunday afternoon on the yacht Gray Mist, moored off this resort.

She had attended a dinner party on the yacht Friday night.

Mrs. Robb was visiting a friend, Miss Lesley "Topsey" Taylor, whose uncle, Beverley A. Bogert, owns the Newport estate of Anglesea.

SEAL HARBOR, Maine (AP) — New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and his wife begin a vacation at their waterfront estate here today.

Aides of Rockefeller, defeated for the Republican presidential nomination last week, said they did not know how long the couple would remain.

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Dr. Christian Barnard, heart transplant pioneer, said today a high mortality rate must be expected in heart transplants because the patients are so ill when surgery begins.

"But as we learn more it certainly will drop," he said.

Barnard said he and his team were planning four more heart transplants.

The South African specialist is here to attend the Australian Medical Conference which begins Tuesday.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Doris Day Loves New TV Duties

It's a warm, family show. You can call it corn, but I love it," says Doris Day of her new series coming up on CBS next month, marking just about her first time on TV outside of movies.

Hal Humphrey

"I was the mystery guest on "What's My Line?" twice, and that was it," she recalls.

At 44 she looks hardly any older than when she graduated from being a band singer into her first movie 21 years ago. She's lost count of the number of Doris Day movies since then. Two more are out this month ("With Six You Get Egg Roll" and "Where Were You When the Lights Went Out?").

-:-

She's one of the very few veteran movie stars left who hasn't done TV. To the question of why now, she simply says, "When it's time, you just do it."

With the movies dealing today in less sham and more basic sex fundamentals, there aren't so many "Doris Day parts" around, and she feels strongly about the type she's played all these years and doesn't want to change it.

"Marlon Brando isn't any one thing. He can be a hero or a heavy robbing a bank, but if I saw Jimmy Stewart or the late Gary Cooper doing that, I think I'd cry because I feel as if I really knew them. Well, I think people feel that way about me, too, and expect me to be a certain way," she explains.

So, the Doris Day of the Doris Day TV show will be the same one her millions of fans expect to see, and that's the way she wants it.

In the series she's a widow with two boys about 6 and 8 (Todd Starke and Philip Brown) and has moved from the big city to her father's ranch in an effort to adjust the boys to a fatherless home.

Doris' own husband, Martin Melcher, who was her manager and was to be executive producer of the TV saries, died suddenly last April, and for awhile she didn't think she could do the series. After a four-week delay, her son Terry (he's 26) convinced her for her own sake that a deal was a deal.

"I knew then I had to do it and, looking back, it came to me how right the whole thing must have been. I had to be busy, and now I love it," she says.

SERIES PRODUCERS Dick Dorso and Bob Sweeney had 20 scripts ready, so even though production is behind schedule, they expect to have 10 episodes completed when they go on the air.

"She's magic," says Dorso of his star, "and gives you so much on the set. As for the series, there's a little moral in each episode, and Doris, like she always is, is on the side of the angels."

Doris, who keeps physically fit ("I was jogging before it was considered 'in' "), says she doesn't mind the TV pace of shooting a show a week with one day rehearsal ("I never was a big rehearser").

-:-

BETWEEN SCENES she relaxes with her four poodles in a comfortable trailer surrounded by a white picket fence, on the set. A chauffeur-driven limousine transports her to and from work, but around the neighborhood where she lives, Doris still rides a bicycle.

She insists she's not nervous about the coming premiere of the show. If it's a hit, she'll be happy for herself and the others involved, and if it isn't?

"I don't think about its not going. That would be just a dumb, stupid thing to think about. Anyway, whether the show goes or not is not my life," Doris adds philosophically, and I had the feeling that she really meant it.

Rips GOP Ticket

Jackie Robinson Turns Back On Nixon Campaign

NEW YORK (AP) — Jackie Robinson, quitting as an aide to Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, says he'll back any Democrat agains tRichard M. Nixon. His turnabout highlights the expressed unhappiness of some Negro Republicans with the GOP ticket.

Robinson, 49, who broke the color line in major league baseball, said Sunday that Nixon heads a ticket that is "racist in nature" and that the former vice president "has prostituted himself and sold himself out to the bigots in the South."

By selecting Maryland Gov. Spiro T. Agnew as his running mate, Robinson said, Nixon has handed over control of the party to the Southerners.

The former Brooklyn Dodgers great, who was elected to baseball's Hall of Fame in 1962, declared, "I intend . . . to support the Democratic nominee, and pray to God that every black man and every minority in this country does the same thing," adding:

"I'm a black man first, an American second and then I will support a political party—third."

Dissatisfaction with his own party was expressed by one Negro delegate to the GOP convention in Miami Beach, Fla., who commented at a private meeting, "The black voter has generaly been disenchanted with the Rpublican party for so long that, in order for the GOP to recapture any significant numbers of blacks, they will have to offer far more than they have to date."

Negro Republican resentment against the GOP ticket sometimes centered about the selection of Agnew.

William O. Walker, an alternate delegate from Cleveland, said of Agnew: "The thing that disturbs me is how his selection was brought about. This was done by Nixon selling out to South Carolina Sen. Strom Thurmond."

Wendell G. Freeland, an alternate from Pittsburgh, termed the choice of Agnew "a horrible mistake."

Barrington Parker, a delegate from Washington, D.C. said the Nixon-Agnew ticket "isn't going to have any appeal in the District."

Archie Jones, a Negro delegate from Baltimore, said the nomination of Agnew "will not help the ticket."

Mrs. Carolyn Hill Stewart of West Virginia said that GOP political personalities were not attracting enough young Negroes to the party.

Citing young Negro workers for the presidential candidaces of the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy and for Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, both Democrats, she asked: "But who have we got that they're going to do that for—excep maybe New York Mayor John Lindsay?"

But other Negroes expressed support for the party and the Nixon-Agnew slate.

Chester K. Gillespie, GOP delegate from Ohio, has urged Negroes to stay within the Republican party "and fight for what is right." He said "it is stupid for all Negroes to be Democrats."

Alvin W. Dyson, an alternate from Richmond, Va., said: "We can live with the ticket and work with it."

Agnew, Dyson said, has kept "lines of communication open to Negro leaders in Maryland."

In 1964, Robinson stumped for Rockefeller's bid for the GOP presidential nomination. He refused to endorse the candidacy of Barry Goldwater and campaigned for President Johnson.

Robinson, who campaigned for Nixon in 1960, said he did so because Nixon's stand on civil rights then was "forthright."

His disappointment over the failure of his party to name Rockefeller as the presidential standard-bearer was a decisive factor in his move, Robinson said.

Personalities In The News

NEW YORK (AP) — Gus Papolupolus, proprietor of an eating place in Coney Island, has named a sandwich in honor of Gov. Spiro T. Agnew of Maryland, the Republican vice presidential nominee whose parents were born in Greece.

Papolupolus said Sunday the Agnew hero sandwich consists of fried Greek peppers, goat's cheese, loukaniko sausage, boiled ham, lettuce and spices —on Italian bread.

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — Mrs. Lynda Bird Robb, elder daughter of President and Mrs. Johnson, spent part of Sunday afternoon on the yacht Gray Mist, moored off this resort.

She had attended a dinner party on the yacht Friday night.

Mrs. Robb was visiting a friend, Miss Lesley "Topsey" Taylor, whose uncle, Beverley A. Bogert, owns the Newport estate of Anglesea.

SEAL HARBOR, Maine (AP) — New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and his wife begin a vacation at their waterfront estate here today.

Aides of Rockefeller, defeated for the Republican presidential nomination last week, said they did not know how long the couple would remain.

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Dr. Christian Barnard, heart transplant pioneer, said today a high mortality rate must be expected in heart transplants because the patients are so ill when surgery begins.

"But as we learn more it certainly will drop," he said.

Barnard said he and his team were planning four more heart transplants.

The South African specialist is here to attend the Australian Medical Conference which begins Tuesday.

AN EMERGENCY ORDINANCE ENACTED BY THE CITY OF EAST LIVERPOOL.

WHEREAS, the Council of the City of East Liverpool, Columbiana County, Ohio on October 29, 1962 passed Ordinance No. 38-1962 providing for the improvement of a portion of St. Clair Avenue extending from Princeton Avenue to the North Corporation line, under the supervision of the Director of Highways of the State of Ohio, and

WHEREAS, Section V of said ordinance provided for maintenance and regulation of the improvement as follows:

"That upon completion of said improvement, said City will thereafter,

(a) Keep said highway open to traffic at all times; and

(b) Regulate parking in the following manner:

Directional traffic will be enforced with two lanes inbound and one lane out - bound from 6:00 A.M. to 9:00 A. M., and two lanes outbound and one lane in-bound from 3:00 P.M. to 6:00 P.M. During these two periods no parking will be permitted. At all other hours, parallel parking only will be permitted on the west side of the street."

WHEREAS, operation of traffic on the highway in accordance with the provisions of said Section V has proven to be impractical and more hazardous than the operation of the highway as a two lane facility because of existing adjoining two lane sections of highway, and

WHEREAS, it is the desire of the City of East Liverpool and the said Director of Highways that Ordinance No. 38-1962 be modified to permit the operation of said portion of St. Clair Avenue as a two (2) lane facility until proposed improvements of the adjoining portions of the highway have been constructed and opened to traffic.

(2) That parking be prohibited on both the west and east sides of the pavement throughout for 24 hours per day.

(3) That the pavement be suitably centerlined and otherwise signed and marked, for two (2) lane operation, in conformance with the Ohio Manual of Uniform Traffic Control Devices in compliance with the provisions of Section 4511.11 of the Ohio Revised Code."

SECTION II.

That upon completion and opening to traffic of proposed connecting improvements to the south and north, the provisions of this ordinance shall become null and void, and parking and traffic regulations as set forth in SECTION V of Ordinance No. 38-62 shall be reinstated and placed in effect in accordance with the original intent and provisions of said SECTION V.

SECTION III.

That all other sections of Ordinance No. 38-62 shall remain in force and effect.

SECTION IV. (Emergency Clause)

This ordinance is hereby declared to be an emergency measure by reason of the need for expediting highway improvements to promote highway safety, and provided it receives the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the members elected to Council, it shall take effect and be in force immediately upon its passage and approval by the Mayor; otherwise, it shall take effect and be in force from and after the earliest period allowed by law.

Vote on suspension of the rule requiring an ordinance to be fully and distinctly read on three different days:

Junior Editors Quiz on TRANSPORTATION

QUESTION: How come they didn't have automobiles in earlier days?

* * *

ANSWER: In the earliest days, men had to carry thing around on their own backs. Then they learned to domesticate such powerful animals as the horse, camel and ox. With the development of the wheel, making carts and carriages possible, these draft animals could do most of the heavy work needed. Our illustration shows the kind of contraption people had to use before cars came along. It's a funny combination of several things; it's a kind of train, because its wheels ran on iron rails; it's a kind of cart, because it was pulled by horses; it's a kind of trolley, because it ran on rails in city streets. But such a slowpoke affair would never do in our age, when men and goods must be shifted around so rapidly. For vehicles to move with any speed they must be powered by engines. The reason there were no cars in the early days was that the engine had not been invented. When James Watt perfected a practical steam engine in 1769, things began, literally, to move. First came trains, then gasoline-powered cars; with his famous Model T, Henry Ford "put America on wheels".

(Anna Bednarek of New Britain, Conn., wins a prize for this question. You can win $10 cash plus AP's handsome World Yearbook if your question, mailed on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper, is selected for a prize.)
